The steel companies are doing the same in many other places, but in spite of this persecution try to hold men at work until all amicable means of settlement have been exhausted.

Opposition Speakers may be Sent Out to Trail After President.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—As the final itinerary for President Wilson's speaking tour in support of the peace treaty was announced today, Republican Senators began conferences to decide on plans for sending opposition speakers along behind him.

The President's plans call for speeches in thirty cities throughout the West between the time he leaves here next Wednesday and his return to Washington September 20.

While resolutions were being offered in the House by Republican members calling upon the President to abandon his tour and engage himself in Washington with domestic affairs of the nation, Republican Senators who opposed the treaty met with Senator McCormick of Illinois. Nothing was decided and another conference will be held tomorrow after which it is expected a definite programme will be announced.

Republicans and Democrats of the House clashed over the League of Nations and the President's speaking on the subject in his trip over the country. Representative

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Meat prices are down 15 per cent. to the retail dealers today, but the public is getting no benefit from it.

That the retailers are pocketing the extra profit was established beyond any doubt by an investigation conducted here.

From the United States Bureau of Markets as well as from officials of the various packing-houses, there came the statement that the break in live-stock prices, which started Wednesday, has now reached the finished product.

Six Big Trains to this City in 3 Sections

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Aug. 29.—Six through passenger trains on the Santa Fe Railway, tied up here for thirty-six to seventy-two hours, on account of the strike in California, tonight were consolidated into three trains and ordered to leave here for Los Angeles at 4:20, 4:30 and 4:40 tomorrow morning.

PERSHING TO TESTIFY ON SURPLUS STOCKS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Gen. Pershing will be examined tomorrow by the War Expenditures Investigation Committee of Congress. It is understood that in addition to questions of a general character regarding the disposition of surplus stocks, he will be asked about attacks made on the Germans by American troops the day after the armistice was signed and other features of military operations.

UNION MEN WHO QUIT WORK WILL GO BACK; HANDLE P. E. FREIGHT

Unconditionally surrendering, a committee of twelve, consisting of the general chairmen of each of the railroad brotherhoods, waited on the heads of the steam roads in the office of Assistant General Manager I. L. Hibbard of the Santa Fe, at 11:30 o'clock last night and informed them that the men would at once return to work in accordance with the order of Director-General Hines of the United States Railroad Administration. They made no reservations about handling Pacific Electric freight.

The railroad officials present were A. G. Wells, general manager of the Santa Fe; I. L. Hibbard, assistant general manager; J. H. Dyer, general manager of the Southern Pacific; T. H. Williams, assistant general manager; Walter H. Comstock, assistant general manager of the Salt Lake, and Mr. Hill of the Santa Fe.

Mr. Hibbard stated that great credit was due to A. F. Whitney, national vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, for bringing the strike to an end.

"I am glad the men decided to return to work," Mr. Whitney said after the meeting. "Majority rules, and the majority of these men will go back. Possibly some may remain out, but the number is negligible."

The steam railway strike in Los Angeles ended last night after eight days' duration and after having spread from Los Angeles over the greater part of California and into Arizona and Nevada and making this city a focus of national anxiety.

The act which ended the walkout was the vote taken by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen at Moose Hall, 111 West Third street, after a day of earnest conferences and some bitter wrangling. The vote was 363 to 146 in favor of returning to work. The session was one of the stormiest in the history of the order and at one time A. F. Whitney, national vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, was the object of a hostile movement on the part of Pacific Electric strike sympathizers among the switchmen. The demonstration was finally quieted. Mr. Whitney stated that the result was highly gratifying to him and he and his associates immediately wired all points in the division that all men will be expected to return to work at once.

Even before the count was complete Assistant Yardmaster Deering reported at the Southern Pacific station to assemble his crew and start work at midnight. At River Station a few minutes later thirty-five men reported for duty and began firing up the big switch engines, cold and silent for more than a week. At an early hour this morning the great union freight yards, frightfully congested with many days' accumulation of cars, were a scene of great activity. It was announced that normal train service will be resumed on all the local steam lines at 7 o'clock this morning.

At 9 o'clock last night the following officials announced for their respective brotherhoods that their men will go back to work on call or at 7 o'clock this morning: M. E. Montgomery, national vice-president, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; T. H. Neimitze, general Coast chairman, Brotherhood of Railway Conductors; R. A. Ford, general Coast chairman, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

GOVERNMENT GOES AHEAD.

In spite of the favorable outlook the government continued its preparations to insure that the peace is preserved when the trains start this morning.

United States Marshal Walton yesterday swore in 200 deputies and dispatched officers to San Bernardino, Bakersfield, Fresno and other important rail points to make preparations to carry out the government orders that trains on the strike-affected lines shall begin moving promptly at 7 o'clock this morning and that any persons interfering shall be summarily arrested and prosecuted under the Federal statute. Deputies will guard stations and will be aboard all trains.

The local rail officials conferred with the United States authorities yesterday and then made preparations to start all trains on time this morning.

Local chiefs of all the roads expressed the opinion late last night, however, that there will be plenty of brotherhood men on hand to pull the trains, and that in the event that railroad men are scarce, soldiers will probably be pressed into service as emergency trainmen.

F. S. McGinnis, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, states that men will not be called for duty before 7 a.m., but that No. 107, the San Joaquin Valley passenger, which usually leaves at 8:55 a.m., will get out shortly after 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock No. 17 will leave for San Francisco, running in three sections. At 9 No. 4, the Golden State Limited, will depart for El Paso, Kansas City and Chicago.

The Santa Fe will run No. 52 to San Bernardino, leaving here at 8 a.m. No. 2 for Chicago will start at 9 o'clock, No. 72 will leave for San Diego at 9:05, and No. 4, the Limited, will start for Chicago at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. The Salt Lake passenger-train schedule was not secured, but all three lines expect to run their passengers out on regular schedule after 7 a.m., which is the hour set for the men to return to work.

MEN TO RETURN.

J. H. Dyer, general manager of the Southern Pacific, says trains will positively run on time, no matter how many trainmen are on the job. He expresses the belief that there will be enough brotherhood men on hand to man all the trains. A. G. Wells, general manager of the Santa Fe, states that he expects to see all the brotherhood men back on the job at 7 o'clock. He believes they will go back solidly and that no difficulty will be experienced.

Personal visits and telephone calls from trainmen yesterday gave steam road officials the assurance that the railroaders expect to resume activities without further delay. No less than twenty engineers, half a dozen brakemen and conductors, and several firemen called up Southern Pacific officials as early as 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and declared that they intended to return to work before 7 a.m., today. The Southern Pacific railway has all its passenger trains for today and tonight switched and ready to roll out within fifteen minutes from the time crews report for duty. The Santa Fe and Salt Lake lines will have to do a little switching before they can send out passenger trains.

A large number of deputy United States marshals will be on guard at all three passenger stations early today. The officials are prepared to use soldiers as brakemen and switchmen in case the brotherhood men are not on the job at the required hour.

Posters signed by the United States Railroad Administration were distributed around town last night stating that the first trains for San Francisco will leave at 8 a.m. today. Holders of all Pullman and other tickets are instructed to present them at the Consolidated Ticket Office on Broadway.

GOVERNMENT PLANS.

The local Federal authorities were notified yesterday by telegrams addressed to United States District Attorney O'Connor and United States Marshal Walton by Atty.-Gen. A. Mitchell Palmer, that, beginning at 7 o'clock this morning, the government will move all trains involved in the Los Angeles strike, and authorizing these officials to the extent of their utmost ability to assist in the work and to visit swift punishment upon all who in any way seek to interfere with the free dispatch of the public business.

Coincident with the receipt of the message, a delegation of local railroad chiefs called at the office of the United States Marshal, and at once went into conference with the local Federal officers.

Present at the conference, held behind closed doors, were Assistant United States Attorneys Palmer and Green; Postoffice Inspector Webster; Chief Railway Mail Clerks Rager and Moore; Chief Deputy U. S. Marshal Sittel and the following railroad men:

A. C. Wells, general manager of the Santa Fe; Walter H. Comstock, assistant general manager of the Salt Lake; Charles Magee, assistant district superintendent, Santa Fe; E. W. Camp, general counsel, of the Santa Fe; William I. Gilbert, general counsel, Southern Pacific; Chief Special Agent Daniel O'Connell, Southern Pacific; General Manager J. H. Dyer, Southern Pacific; T. H. Williams, assistant general manager Southern Pacific, and Assistant General Manager I. L. Hibbard, Santa Fe.

The delegation informed the Federal officials that under authority of the Federal government, all trains on the lines centering in Los Angeles will start this morning on their regular schedules, as required

STRIKE IN NORTH IS ENDED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 29.—The first train to move out of Bakersfield in four days left here at 9:15 tonight on the Southern Pacific Railroad for San Francisco, carrying passengers and mail. Local officials say trains will continue moving throughout the night. Santa Fe trains will start in the morning.

FRESNO, Aug. 29.—Fresno's participation in the railroad strike ended at 5:30 this afternoon when the striking employees of the Southern Pacific voted to return to work immediately. The Santa Fe employees voted to return to work at 7 o'clock tonight.

RESUME FULL SERVICE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Strikers of railroad trainmen throughout central California formally ended today when the yard and switchmen returned to the passenger and freight terminals here at 3 o'clock today, officials of the Railroad Administration announced.

Full passenger service was restored at once from this city and the vast freight accumulations began to move. The Southern Pacific reported all inbound trains arriving on time.

Annulment of through trains between here and Los Angeles continued, however, because of the strike conditions in Southern California.

The strike began to break when the Oakland switch and yardmen returned to work at the Oakland mole Wednesday at midnight, after being out for forty-eight hours. Other points in the San Joaquin Valley where the men had gone out reported the strike ended, and all services out of Oakland, which had been suspended, were restored.

The return of the San Francisco workers followed notification by the government and by the chief executives of the trainmen's brotherhood that the government was preparing to run the trains with the assistance of the brotherhoods if the strike was not ended.

VOTE TO OBEY ORDERS.

The return includes all the men out in the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Western Pacific yards, estimated at about 400 men. The decision was made at a mass meeting. After two standing votes were taken a secret ballot was cast, the result being 117 to eighty-two in favor of returning to work.

The spokesman of the meeting said it was the consensus of opinion of the strikers that the orders of the international officers should be obeyed.

More than 20,000 pounds of mail left San Francisco yesterday on the steamer Queen for Los Angeles and 1500 pounds for San Diego, according to Claude E. Slater, superintendent of railway mail service.

Five thousand sacks of mail arrived from Los Angeles yesterday on the Spokane, while the Humboldt is scheduled to leave today with several thousand sacks of northern and eastern mail for Southern California.

"INVOLUNTARY TIP" WAITERS' LATEST.

OAKLAND, Aug. 29.—Waiters and waitresses of the east bay region are seriously considering the addition of 10 per cent. service charges on all restaurant patrons checks, eliminating for all time the odious and sometimes irregular tips. A committee has been appointed to investigate feasibility of the plan.

If the 10 per cent. "involuntary tip" is adopted by the union, after an investigation, waiters and waitresses of this county hope to find their status raised from that of dependence on the whims of a fickle public to that of culinary employees, with regulation and understood service charges for the work involved in transporting food to the patrons.

SEE VICTORY FOR TREATY.

Opponents in Committee Expect Its Adoption When Senate Gets It.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Not later than Wednesday of next week the Senate will get the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant. Members of the Foreign Relations Committee, while refusing to voice such a sentiment for publication, expect to be defeated in the Senate on all of the amendments which have been added by the committee. The first and most certain to be defeated is the Shantung amendment.

Prestige of the committee will be minimized after that and with fifteen to twenty Republicans certain to vote with the Democrats the enemies of the treaty will see their work crumble as one after another of the amendments are rejected preparatory to the ratification of the treaty either without change or with mild interpretations.

Rather than a separate treaty of peace and the antagonism of Japan and the disturbance of relations with Great Britain and France, most impartial observers, who have been following the treaty fight at the Senate, predict a complete and clear-cut ratification of the instrument soon to be turned over to the Senate.

BEST TO BE HAD.

Some of the Republicans who are to vote for its ratification are not satisfied that it is the best treaty but declare that it is the best that could be secured and are therefore willing to take it and discharge their duty to the country by securing peace and a termination of unsettled conditions.

Powerful as are all other arguments the greatest of all is the necessity for the ratification of the treaty and the restoration of peace to get stable conditions in trade and industry, the elimination of the fever in the veins of labor and the speeding up of production as well as the re-establishment of thrift. Inflation of prices has brought wild plunges of extravagance in family purchases and a marked relaxation in industry and application to the job of getting the United States back to pre-war conditions.

All of this the President will emphasize in his speeches throughout the country. He is going to bring home to every family pocketbook in the country the relation of the treaty to the home market basket and in this is his strongest appeal for the help of the country.

He has timed his trip well to bring direct pressure on the Senate from all parts of the country and hop as well as his supporters in the Senate feel that the end is in sight and that victory is assured. About the only debatable part of the programme in their minds is whether the treaty shall be ratified without any interpretative resolution or whether it shall be ratified as written without interpretations.

In the meeting in Baltimore addressed by Senator Reed and Senator Johnson it was apparent that the speakers themselves realized that they were supporting a lost cause and it is no exaggeration to say that they impressed none but those already confirmed enemies of the administration and anything that it might propose.

MAY START OVERLANDS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Aug. 29.—No overland trains on the Santa Fe road have been moved west since yesterday morning because of the strike on the Pacific Coast, but officials here are expecting orders at any hour to start the five trains that are now being held here.

The trains are No. 1 of Tuesday and Wednesday; No. 9 of the same days, and No. 3 of yesterday. No. 1 of last night was held at Las Vegas and a stub run into this city. No. 7, mail and express train, will be run West today as a local train.

All eastbound trains were annulled and two stub trains will be run East, one in the morning and one in the evening.

SANTA BARBARA WAITS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 29.—There was no change in the local strike situation here today. The yardmen apparently are awaiting action by the unions in Los Angeles. The usual morning freight and passenger trains left here for the north today. No service toward Los Angeles has been attempted so far since the inception of the strike. Freight is being conveyed to that point by trucks.

SEND MAIL BY TRUCK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Aug. 29.—The first consignment of Phoenix mail to be dispatched to Los Angeles and Coast points since Monday left here this morning on an automobile truck, which is to travel to Blythe, Cal. The shipment contained 500 pounds of first-class matter and was to make Blythe by nightfall. During the early part of the week all coast-bound mail was dispatched via Yuma, but last accounts stated that the mail was still being held at that point. An effort is being made here to secure airplanes from the Rockwell Field to take care of an additional portion of the Los Angeles-Phoenix mail.

SHOPMEN WANT STRIKE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

RICHMOND, Aug. 29.—A telegram favoring an immediate strike and no compromise unless demands of the shop employees throughout the country were acceded to by the Railroad Administration was sent yesterday to W. S. Patterson of the Santa Fe Shop Employees' Association at Albuquerque, N. M. It was signed by Joseph H. Eichart, president, and William Sipla, secretary of the Federated Shop Employees of Richmond, and said:

The federation represents 800 men employed in the Santa Fe shop here.

ALL OVER IN PITTSBURGH.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Street car service, suspended two weeks ago, by a strike of 5000 employees of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, will be resumed tomorrow. The striking carmen late yesterday decided to return to work, accepting "under protest" the national War Labor Board's award of 5 cents an hour increase in wages. The men demanded 12 cents.

MEN AGREE TO RUN ALL TRAINS

by orders from Washington, and asking the District Attorney and Marshal what they proposed doing to protect the crews manning the trains this morning, and if they could be relied on to furnish all necessary protection.

DEPUTIES ABOARD.

They were assured that the officials had been advised from Washington to tender all necessary protection, and that arrangements were being made at that time to the end that not only will every train leaving the various stations be manned by deputy United States marshals, but that word had been sent to every point within the Southern District, running from Merced in the north to San Diego on the south, to have ample forces at the stations and railway yards to afford full protection to the train crews who return to work this morning.

United States Marshal Walton immediately began placing his men at various points in the district. Deputy Marshal Dolph S. Bassett was dispatched to San Bernardino, where he will be on duty this morning, co-operating with the Sheriff of San Bernardino county and the Chief of Police of that city, looking to the safety of the train crews when the trains pass through the Gate City, and organising a force if necessary to enforce the law. He was authorized to assume command of the situation at San Bernardino, and issue a warning to all concerned that there must be no interference with the movement of all trains in and out of that city. He was also furnished with copies of complaints for the use of the United States Commissioner there, in case it became necessary to make arrests of trouble makers. These complaints cover the Federal statutes relating to the interference of individuals with the passage of trains or the handling of mails, and are ample to handle the situation.

Identical instructions were given Deputy Sidney J. Shannon, who was sent to Fresno, and Deputy Shelly Walton, who was dispatched by auto to Bakersfield. Deputy William Cavanaugh was sent to Colton, similarly armed, and Deputy W. S. Carse, was wired at San Diego, along similar lines, with instructions to act immediately if there is any attempt on the part of the strikers to impede the free passage of all trains on the Santa Fe. Other points in the district will be covered amply this morning, each Federal deputy being armed with instructions to enforce the law and arrest any man who attempted to interfere in any way with the trains.

The United States Marshal was vested with the actual work of the organization of his force to meet the situation this morning, but the District Attorney assisted with his counsel and advice.

NO TEMPORIZING.

Marshal Walton said that he had received his instructions and that they would be carried out to the letter. He declared: "The trains in the southern district of California are going to move out tomorrow morning, if it takes all the deputies I can summon in that behalf. There will be no temporizing with the strikers. The trains have been ordered to move, and they will do so. The entire power of the national government will be exercised in that behalf."

Dist.-Atty. O'Connor said that the statutes of the United States cover the situation amply and that they would be invoked for the care and safety of the traveling public, to the end that passengers might be carried and the mails delivered. He expressed himself as more than anxious to co-operate in every way possible with Marshal Walton.

In addition to the deputies from his office who will cover the various points in the local district, Marshal Walton was busily engaged yesterday afternoon swearing in deputy marshals to command the peace and prevent the strikers from interfering with the free passage of all trains this morning out of the local depots. He expected to have not less than 200 ready to act by daylight today.

In addition to deputy United States marshals, deputy sheriffs and squads of Los Angeles police, the roads will this morning have at all stations, roundhouses and other places in the yards where trains are made up a force of fifty State railroad police. These men, who are employed by the State throughout the year to police railroad yards and supervise traffic, were sent here by the State on account of the strike emergency.

In case these officers should for any reason not now apparent be unable to cope with the situation or keep the peace, then the officials of the roads will be justified in calling for State troops or regulars. The officials said last night that they would not ask for troops until it is definitely shown that the police and deputies are unable to handle the situation, because no troops would be sent, under the regulations, until the police and deputies had shown that they were unable to keep the peace.

The rebellion and hesitancy of the switchmen and yardmen to obey their chiefs' orders and return to work was answered late yesterday by an uncompromising ultimatum from Vice-President Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, immediately after his arrival here from Chicago to direct the settlement of the sympathetic strike of the members of his organization on the three steam lines.

The majority of the striking switchmen and yardmen, it was reported to Mr. Whitney by some of their general chairmen, were opposed to return to work, and up to a late hour in the afternoon refused to listen to any arguments.

"The men here have been carried off their feet by bad advice. There is a certain feeling of unrest all over the country, but in Los Angeles, from what I have been able to gather, the trouble was caused by representatives of the Reds and Bolshevists, who have been spreading poisonous propaganda," he said.

"Do you think some of these men are still in Los Angeles?"

"Yes, I think some are still here," he answered. "I met a man in Needls, who said he was from Los Angeles. He urged the employees there to refuse to return to work. This man, I understood, was on his way to other points. He later circulated through the passengers and employees."

This phase of the local situation will form the subject for an immediate investigation, Mr. Whitney said.

Mr. Whitney made his statements in the presence of M. E. Montgomery, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He later was joined by James Duffy, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen on the Santa Fe lines, and other brotherhood officials. F. L. McDowell, general chairman of the organization on the Southern Pacific lines, and H. E. Tolbert, general chairman on the Salt Lake line, accompanied Mr. Whitney to this city from San Bernardino, and have discussed the situation from every angle, it was announced.

Mr. Whitney denied the reports that he came to Los Angeles to represent the four brotherhoods or in any capacity other than the vice-president of his own organization. "I am here representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, whose members have been instructed to go back to work."

M. E. Montgomery, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers, last night produced a telegram from Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer, denying the report that the two are not in harmony on the policy and conduct of the Los Angeles strike situation. He said:

"I want to take this opportunity to deny that I ever advised the Pacific Electric men or anybody else to make the strike an individual one, or any other kind. The Pacific Electric strike was on for five days before I got here, and my first knowledge of it was through the press.

"I also object to the charge that I have hampered General Chairman Sanford in his efforts to get the men to return to work. We are in perfect harmony. The best evidence of that is that the engineers are ready for service."

Mr. Stone's telegram said the report of lack of harmony was "absolutely untrue," and concluded by saying he believed the present strike was brought about by the court injunction restraining the officers from exercising control over members.

Asked what action he contemplated in reference to the Pacific Electric situation, Mr. Whitney said:

"On the subject of the Pacific Electric my lips are sealed. I understand there is an injunction out covering that road, and I am going to turn a deaf ear to anything connected with that end of it."

Mr. Whitney then made arrangements to meet with the general chairmen and the committees and men of his organization. He was highly optimistic over the prospects, in spite of the earlier reports from the Moose Hall, where the trainmen were in an all-day conference, that they did not intend to return to work.

The four brotherhoods may work in co-operation, he declared, as soon as the officials can get together and work out a policy.

Twelve automobiles were sent from Pasadena to Barstow yesterday by W. R. Flynn, local agent of the Santa Fe Railroad, to bring to Pasadena and Los Angeles the passengers of two trains from the East stalled by the railroad strike at the desert town. Passengers from other trains stranded at Barstow were evacuated, but these two trains have arrived since then. The passengers probably will not reach here until tomorrow.

MAIL OBSTRUCTORS TO BE PROSECUTED.

A number of much-wanted witnesses, who had successfully evaded the process of summons to testify in regard to the alleged violation of law by striking railroad men in interfering with the movement of the mails, appeared at the Federal Building yesterday, and announced that they were ready to testify.

It is announced that the plan of prosecuting these violators of the law, who, it is alleged, abandoned mail trains and thereby retarded the delivery of mail, has not been put aside, but that rigorous prosecution will be made in every instance where the evidence justifies such an action.

It is believed that the Federal statutes afford ample means for punishment for any sort of interference with the passage of the mails, and gives the government a ready weapon to combat the demoralization of the railway mail service in the time of strikes.

It is possible that the investigation will be taken up by the Federal grand jury today. If the inquiry is postponed until next week, it is not likely to appear before Thursday, the regular meeting day of the grand jury, as Monday will be Labor Day, and all form of activities will be suspended at the Federal Building.

GOVERNOR BACKS HINES IN CRISIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 29.—Gov. Stephens has called upon all sheriffs, mayors and other peace authorities in the State to assist in the preservation of order, under the announcement by the United States Director of Railroads of the determination of the Federal government to operate in full all railroads in California under its control, beginning Saturday morning, August 30. The Governor's statement continues:

"To the end that this may be accomplished, causing an intolerable transportation situation to be relieved and incalculable loss to producers to be prevented, you are each and all urged to use every means given you under California statutes to enforce law and preserve order."

RETAILERS GET MEAT CUT GAIN.

morning. Mutton was off an equal amount, while pork was selling even lower.

In spite of this fact inquiry among a score of retail butcher shops revealed that in none of them had prices come down from the high mark of early in the week.

The ultimate consumer must still pay 45 cents or more for tenderloin steak, 30 cents to 40 cents for mutton chops and 45 cents or more for pork chops.

The extra profit is being pocketed by the retailer.

The retailers in most cases denied they had been able to buy meat at lower cost, but their testimony was contradicted by the Bureau of Markets, which is in the position of an impartial judge. The lower prices, it was stated at the bureau, were being taken advantage of to the fullest extent by the retail dealers, and should have been of benefit to the consumer immediately.

In addition it was pointed out that Thursday and Friday are the days on which all the butcher shops of Chicago do the majority of their buying. This would make it virtually impossible for more than a few butcher shops in the city to have missed the price reduction which was in effect on the wholesale market today.

After settling its low mark last night, the price of hogs rallied a little today under heavy buying from the East and went from $15 up to $16 and $16.50. It was not predicted, however, that it would return to the mark of $21, which it held at the beginning of the week.

Produce prices remain practically unchanged.

TOO MANY RETAILERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Interjecting some sharp advice and warning to city dwellers as to meat prices, western stockmen today laid before the Senate Agriculture Committee further protests against the conference on the Kendrik bills to regulate the packing industry.

"I'm going home and tell my neighbors we'll have to curtail production to the point where consumers will eat the whole beef carcass," said George T. Donaldson, president of the Kansas State Live-stock Association.

With J. H. Mercer, cattle commissioner of that State, and others, he said, he had been investigating distribution of meats in all the larger cities.

EXORBITANT PROFITS.

"Right in your city of Washington," he told the committee, "I have found the forequarters of beef selling to the retailer for 3 cents a pound, and selling to the consumer at 32 cents. We learn there are 700 places here where meat is sold, and we think 100 would be ample and reduce the cost to consumers."

Mr. Donaldson opposed the regulatory measures, and Senator Kenyon asked him if he had read the Federal Trade Commission report on the subject.

"I have," replied Donaldson, "and I regret to say I haven't as high a regard for the Federal Trade Commission as an American citizen of my age ought to have."

Mr. Mercer, though opposing the bills, said packers ought to relinquish ownership of stock yards in favor of producers.

J. H. Bachelor, Nebraska stockman, attacked the entire proposal, as did most of the witnesses heard and said that the high price agitation was due largely to "people who want six hours work and sixteen hours pay."

"Most of the testimony taken during the last week from producers has been highly favorable to packers," Senator Gronna pointed out to E. P. Meyers of Hyannis, Neb., "and we are hearing a good deal about the possibility that the packers might have induced you all to come. Did anybody pay your expenses or do anything else to get you to come down here for them?"

"I am not in favor of the packers," Mr. Meyers retorted. "I'm speaking in my own interest. Cripple the packing business, license it and add to its cost of operation, and you hit me because the excess cost will have to come out of the producer."

E. A. Stryer, secretary of the Omaha Live-stock Exchange, said "he met hundreds of shippers every week and never heard one word" in favor of any scheme of broadening governmental control over industry.

Frozen fish held in storage August 15 amounted to 64,740,172 pounds compared to 32,554,798 at the same time last year, the monthly report of the bureau of markets of the Department of Agriculture made public today, shows.

INQUIRY IN MISSOURI.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29.—The price of staple foodstuffs in Missouri has increased from 100 to 300 per cent. since 1915, according to a statement issued tonight by Atty.-Gen. McAllister. Evidence is being gathered to determine whether the State anti-trust laws are being violated, McAllister said.

DROP COMES SLOWLY.

That the decline of market prices on beef and pork in the Chicago market will be reflected in a similar decline in prices in Southern California is the consensus of opinion of Los Angeles packers. None of the local packers, however, expect the Los Angeles market to be affected by the drop in the Chicago market in the immediate future. Roy Wilson, of the Ogden Packing & Provision Company, reports a downward trend of the Chicago market as the beginning of a reduction of the cost of living.

No reduction can be expected in Los Angeles for at least ten days, however, according to the statement made by Mr. Wilson, owing to the fact that the strike has cut the meat supply of Los Angeles to such an extent that the situation has become critical. "Not until the meat supply again reaches a normal basis can we look for a reduction in prices," said Wilson. "As a matter of fact, Los Angeles prices are always one or two cents above the Chicago quotations."

R. L. Bliss, manager of the California Dressed Beef Company, believes that the local market will follow the Chicago market. While there has been a drop in the market price of live cattle, according to Bliss, the wholesale price of dressed beef has not declined in proportion, owing to the fact that there has been a decline in the price of the by-products, such as hides and tallow. This, he says, always affects the prices of the meat cuts. A spokesman of the Cudahy Packing Company expects a decided drop in the price of meat, but he does not believe that it will affect the situation in California immediately. "As to the situation," he said, "there is no question; beef is cheap enough, but pork is unreasonably high. It would be foolish to pay the high prices demanded here.

"If necessary we will get our meat from Chicago. But as yet California hogs dress only from 60 to 65 per cent, under the Chicago hogs, so that where there is a difference of only half a cent it pays to buy in the home market."

Attention was to the subject, however, in a tement by Chairman Lodge Senate.

Mr. Lodge made public his of August 12 to the President, for the documents and in-. It follows:

KES FOR TREATIES.

treaty with Poland is re-to in the treaty with Ger-and the other two documents to be concerned exclusively subject of the treaty with and the committee, there-re desirous of considering them altogether in connection with the treaty of peace with Germany.

"I am further instructed to say that, as the treaties with Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey are all closely connected, if not interlocked, with the treaty with Germany, the committee would be obliged, if it is not incompatible with the public interest, if you could send them any drafts or information in regard to the terms and provisions of those four treaties, which the committee are certain would be of very great help to them in expediting action upon the treaty of peace with Germany."

The data called for and not received by the committee included another and previous Rhine agreement and any available drafts of the treaties under negotiation with Austria, Bulgaria, Turkey and Hungary. Committee members pointed out that a long statement by M. Clemenceau, as president of the Peace Conference, attached to British and French official copies of the Polish treaty, was not included in the copy sent in today by the President.

A British print of still another Versailles treaty, an air of convention between the United States and various other nations, was put into the Senate record by Senator Knox. An explanatory note heading the convention said it had not been signed, but was being given to the public for their information. Mr. Knox said this plan apparently had been followed out in every country except the United States.

HOPE FOR COVENANT.

The two amendments adopted today regarding representation in the League of Nations constituted the first action to be taken on the league covenant, and were regarded as indicating no attempt would be made by the committee majority to strike out the covenant altogether. Members thought also that there would be no further amendment of that part of the treaty, but that reservations to it would be recommended to the Senate.

When the committee adjourned it was discussing the last amendment remaining on its calendar, a proposal by Senator Fall to strike out the provision for an international labor organization. Tomorrow will be occupied with hearings, but there was some talk today of a session Monday, a holiday, to hasten the committee's report. After the amendments are disposed of, it is expected that the question of reservations will be taken up.

Senator Hitchcock, the Democratic leader, announced today he would speak Tuesday on the treaty. His address, which under present plans, is to be almost coincident with submission of the committee's report and on the eve of President Wilson's departure on a speaking trip in the interest of the treaty, is expected to be the keynote of the final fight that precedes the ratification vote.

At tomorrow's hearing the committee will listen to Ireland's claim of independence, as presented by American sympathizers, and to representatives of Greek societies.

HEAR SUBJECT PEOPLES.

Claims of India, Lithuania, Ukrainia, Esthonia and Letvia for self-government were presented today to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Dudley Field Malone of New York, representing Hindu Indians, told the committee that if it would "break the heart of the world" to reject the peace treaty, ratification of its present form would break the heart of millions in Ireland, Egypt and India. Great Britain had secured a place for India at the peace table, he asserted, for selfish reasons only, meantime making more and more severe her oppression of the Indian people.

CHARGES AGAINST BRITAIN.

"Since the armistice, fresh coercion laws have been enacted," he declared, "in spite of the unanimous protest of the nation, and when the people organized a nation-wide strike in connection therewith they were put down by the military. Martial law was proclaimed, which had sentenced, up to June 26, seventy-three persons to death."

The case of the other four nations were presented by representatives of the Mid-European Association, who made a plea for American recognition of the countries as independent states. They said that thus a chain of buffer states would be set up to cut Germany from Russia.

MERCIER TO VISIT GIBBONS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Because of the absence of President Wilson from Washington next month, it is understood that the first visit to be made in this country by Cardinal Mercier, the veteran Belgian prelate, will be to Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore. Cardinal Mercier will sail from Brest early in September.

SOUTH CHANGES FOR SUFFRAGE.

Mrs. Bass Says Movement has Struck a Pace in Dixie.

Example will Encourage Calling of Special Sessions.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL PASO, Aug. 29.—The South is changing its attitude toward woman suffrage and Alabama, which has been a stronghold of the anti's, is on the verge of ratifying the Federal equal suffrage amendment, according to Mrs. George B. Bass, chairman of the women's bureau of the Democratic National Committee.

She returned today from Montgomery with word that ratification is now only two votes shy in the Legislature, the suffrage movement having struck a pace in Dixie that has astonished Senators Underwood and Bankhead, who led in the fight against it at Washington.

The southern trip was made at the end of a western tour that took Mrs. Bass into nineteen States. She covered 17,000 miles in sixty-two days, with a total of sixty-seven speeches.

PROSPECTS SATISFACTORY.

"The prospects for suffrage are more than satisfactory," she said. "Fifteen States already have ratified; four more are ready, making a total of nineteen. That leaves us seventeen to get.

"Suffrage leaders are trying to get States to hold special sessions to ratify in time for the elections next year.

"The South has been regarded as unfriendly, but in Alabama sentiment is as strong among the women as in any northern State. When I made an address in Montgomery the women were as enthusiastic over suffrage as any audience I have seen in Illinois.

WOMEN WILL ELECT.

"If one or two southern States fall into line it will be a great encouragement for northern States to call special sessions for ratification. Even by two or three votes it still would show how sentiment is changing in the South.

"The women next year will nominate and elect the next President, regardless of whether the Federal amendment is ratified in time. I do not mean it will be a feminist movement in politics, but the women will be a factor which essentially will control the situation.

"There are no party lines among the women of the country. Their interest in the war and in peace and in the problems of reconstruction is above party lines, an influence that will be carefully reckoned with when candidates are chosen.

SENTIMENT IS FOR WILSON.

"I have just finished a tour of the West. In nineteen States I found sentiment ablaze for President Wilson. The women are idealists—practical idealists, just as Woodrow Wilson is. Potentially he is as strong in the West as he ever was, and the two things the women out there are thinking of most particularly are the treaty of peace and Wilson.

"In the middle of July sentiment was strong for the League of Nations. People weren't talking about the Monroe Doctrine. They were talking about something that would tend to make future wars impossible. I do not know whether the Shantung matter has caused any change since then, but of this I am certain: When President Wilson makes his tour of the West he will find a response and an enthusiasm that will be astonishing even to himself."

FIFTY-ONE SHIPS IN GREAT FLEET REVIEW.

PACIFIC ARMADA IS AUGMENTED FOR APPEARANCE BEFORT DANIELS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DEL MONTE, Aug. 29.—When the Pacific Fleet steams into San Francisco Bay next Monday morning there will be fifty-one ships to pass in review before the battleship Oregon, the official reviewing ship, according to announcement issued today from the United States ship New Mexico. The new fleet is to be augmented by cruisers, colliers and other craft on the south coast.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels is scheduled to arrive here Sunday morning on the U.S.S. New York and at 12:30 p.m. the fleet will start from Monterey to rendezvous in Bolinas Bay at 10 a.m. Monday. Secretary Daniels is to travel to San Francisco by train.

Gov. Stephens left here today for Sacramento, after participating in welcoming the fleet, to attend the opening of the State Fair.

Rear-Admiral H. A. Wylie boarded the destroyer Birmingham today and took formal command of the destroyer flotilla. The ceremony was witnessed by many visitors and marked by the firing of salutes for both admiral and rear-admiral.

Today's programme included an open-air boxing exhibition. Joe Kelly, 142-pound champion of the fleet, was outpointed in the main event by Frankie Jones, San Francisco; Bob Grant, heavyweight; Fred Burrows, lightweight, and Johnny Myers, featherweight, won their respective bouts for the fleet.

More than 200 sailors were entertained tonight at a picnic supper and open-air performance in the Forest Theater, at Carmel, near here.

Murphy, Republican, Ohio, attacked the league covenant and expressed the hope that the President would "tell the truth" regarding it on his forthcoming trip. He said it proposed to tie young Americans "to the cannon's wheel."

Representatives Welty, Ohio, and Blanton, Texas, Democrats, replied to Representative Murphy, declaring that Representative Kahn, Republican, California, was the champion of conscription. He defended the League of Nations as an instrument of peace.

SEEK POSTPONEMENT.

Representative Rodenburg, Republican, Illinois, introduced a resolution, proposing that Congress declare that "the President should postpone his proposed tour of the country, at least until such time as we may know definitely the problems which confront us growing out of the country's industrial situation and the cost-of-living problem."

A second resolution, by which the House alone would ask the President to remain in Washington, was offered by Representative Strong, Republican, Kansas, who, in an address in support of his measure, said domestic and international conditions were such that the absence of the President would be "fraught with very grave dangers."

MUST MEET PROBLEMS.

The resolution said the railroad and labor situation generally "indicate the necessity for immediate steps to bring capital and labor together for a better understanding;" that Congress would soon adopt the President's suggestions to combat the cost of living, and "that renewed absence of the President at a time when his signature is required to place in effect measures adopted by Congress to reduce the high cost of living would occasion serious delay in solving this vital problem."

The resolution went over without debate.

PRESIDENT'S ITINERARY.

Leaving Washington on a special train, the President will swing through the Middle West, thence across the plains States to the Pacific Coast at Washington and down the Coast as far as San Diego. On the return trip he will speak in Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky, his last address being at Louisville September 29.

Whether the President will make speeches from the rear platform of his train has not been decided. He has set for himself the task of making thirty addresses in twenty-six days, and to carry out this programme it will be necessary for him to deliver two speeches a day for eight days of the trip, as his itinerary does not call for any addresses on Sunday.

The President will leave Washington before Gen. Pershing returns from overseas. He had planned to meet the general in Missouri, probably at St. Louis, but under the revised itinerary he will be well across the continent when Gen. Pershing lands in New York.

The President's itinerary, as announced today at the White House, will be as follows:

SCHEDULE IS ARRANGED.

September 5, St. Louis; September 6, Kansas City, Mo.; September 6 and 7, Des Moines, Iowa, with address on night of September 6; September 8, morning address in Omaha, Neb., and evening address at Sioux Falls, S. D.; September 9 at St. Paul and Minneapolis; September 10, Bismarck, S. D.; September 11, forenoon address in Billings and evening address in Helena, Mont. September 12, forenoon address in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and afternoon address in Spokane, Wash.; September 13 and 14, Tacoma, with evening address in Seattle September 14; September 15, Portland, Or.; September 17 and 18, San Francisco; September 19, afternoon and night in San Diego; September 20 and 21, Los Angeles; September 22, Reno, Nev.; September 23, Salt Lake City; September 24, late afternoon address in Cheyenne, Wyo., spending the night in Denver; September 25, forenoon address in Denver, and afternoon address in Pueblo, Colo.; September 26, forenoon address in Wichita, Kan., evening address in Oklahoma City, Okla.; September 27, mid-afternoon address in Little Rock, Ark., and night address in Memphis; September 28 and 29, Louisville.

LANDLORDS OF PARIS INCREASING RENTALS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Aug. 15. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The income from lodgings and apartments in Paris, calculated on the rentals now demanded by landlords, would show an increase from 663,000,000 francs in 1916 to more than 1,325,000,000. The number of apartments for rent increased about 30 per cent. between 1889 and 1919, while the total rentals went up about 50 per cent. between 1889 and the fall of 1913.

Since the armistice the increase has been more than 100 per cent, and most of that since April of this year.

WARFIELD PLAN IN COMMITTEE.

Asks Solution of Important Problem by Congress.

Seeks Guaranteed Return of Six Per Cent. to Roads.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Principles of the Warfield plan, under which a minimum interest return of 6 per cent. on railroad securities would be guaranteed through a mandatory adjustment of rates by the Interstate Commerce Commission, were indorsed by "fifty million persons, owning or directly interested in railroad securities," in a memorial to Congress submitted to the House Interstate Commerce Committee today by S. Davies Warfield, president of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities.

Signers of the memorial numbered 5000 investing institutions, including savings banks, national and State banks, surety companies, trust companies and life and fire insurance companies and $189 individual investors. The shipping public also was represented in the indorsement by sixteen municipal trade organizations, with an estimated total membership of 20,000. Insurance companies giving their indorsement were said to represent 23,000,000 policyholders, while it was estimated that 5,500,500 persons were represented by savings banks.

In presenting the memorial, Mr. Warfield said its signers did not ask "the continuation of autocratic railroad methods of the past, but a just and definite solution by Congress of the most important problem now before the country."

Urging favorable consideration by Congress of the remedial legislation proposed in the Warfield plan, the memorial declared:

"It is our conviction that the railroads can not avoid destruction and eventual government absorption without a primary distributable return of not less than 6 per cent, assured upon the aggregate investment, not through a governmental guarantee, but through the exercise by Congress of its duty to stop, by act, the knife of regulation short of the heart of the transportation system of the United States."

RENTERIA DENIES THAT AVIATOR KILLED HIM.

LETTER TO ARIZONA PAPER IS CLAIMED TO HAVE BEEN WRITTEN BY BANDIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Aug. 29.—A letter, purporting to have been written by Jesus Renteria, kidnaper of Lieuts. Peterson and Davis of the United States Army, has been received by the Douglas Daily Dispatch, claiming to have evaded the expeditionary force sent to effect his capture. The letter was turned over to civil and military authorities who are investigating, though they said they believed it spurious.

The letter was mailed in Douglas August 28.

It declared Renteria had been surprised at seeing news stories of his death in the public prints and gave a boastful version of his encounter with the American aviators. He promised to return to Douglas and said he hoped he would be allowed to meet the Chief of Police there as he wanted to see "how much man" he was. The writer declared it would cost the lives of four or five police officers to capture any of his bandits. He promised to answer any questions put to him through the medium of the newspaper.

AVIATORS NOT YET FOUND.

Reports of Rescue Proved False; Rockwell Field Renews Search.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Lieuts. Frederick Waterhouse and Cecil Connelly, lost aviators from Rockwell Field, have not been found. Word to this effect was brought in late tonight by Maj. S. Hartwell, commanding the American border patrols who have been searching for the missing men.

Maj. Hartwell said that he got his information direct from American Consul Sydney Smith of Ensenada, who telephoned him that Capt. Trujillo knew nothing at all of the affair. Consul Smith told Maj. Hartwell that Capt. Trujillo was sitting in the American Consulate when he read a report of his message in the American papers.

A Mexican courier brought word on August 25 that the aviators had been found safe by Mexican cavalry, the courier's report being accepted at the time by the American authorities. With no further reports from the Mexicans, and after vain searching by the American army men in airplanes and motor trucks, the Rockwell Field authorities are ready today to start another line of search that appears warranted.

Col. H. L. Watson, commanding at Rockwell Field, states today that he can report absolutely nothing about the men. Maj. Theodore MacCauley, on the search, arrived here yesterday for fresh supplies and went back to the Mexican country again. He was reported as having arrived at Ensenada, but no direct word came from him.

A new account about the missing men, not before published, comes from the border country at a point about midway between San Diego and the Imperial Valley where a region known as Round Mountain is located. It is stated that the wreck of a Liberty-motored airplane, burned up, is wedged there between two rocks. Col. Watson is after the fullest information on that report today.

According to the new account a party of soldiers and two civilians discovered the wreck last Thursday. The civilians were Stanley Hill and Lloyd Lovell, ranchers and residents of the Round Mountain district. They report that a passing automobile stirred up some vultures in a canyon on the American side of Round Mountain, and that they went to investigate the occasion for the presence of the birds. Hill did not go all the way, but Lovell and the soldiers are said to have gone on until they found the wreck.

Don Ruby, proprietor of the boulevard store, near there, discredits the report and states that he and Capt. Pierce of a neighboring army outpost went to investigate and did not find the wrecked airplane. Col. Watson, however, stated that he will obtain a complete and official report.

That the lost army aviators, Lieuts. Frederick Waterhouse and C. S. Connolly, who have been missing from San Diego since August 20, have not been found, is the information just received by Collector John B. Elliott.

Deputy Customs Collector Captain W. B. Evans, with a small detachment of picked men, had been dispatched by Collector Elliott to make a search of the country south of Tecate. The party equipped with trucks carrying supplies, penetrated about fifty miles into the Lower California desert, but on hearing that the birdmen had been found returned to Ensenada. Later information was received that the reported rescue of the men was not true. In his telegram to Collector Elliott, Capt. Evans said:

"Lost aviators are not found so far as we know. Have reports from Ojos, Negros, Alamo and Trinidad Valley. Col. Hanlon and Maj. MacCauley have been working out of Valley Trinidad. Torpedo chasers arrived at Ensenada this morning with gasoline for the use of rescue planes."

Capt. Evans is familiar with the country in that section, and is well acquainted with Mexican people.

CANADIAN AIR PLANS CHEAPER.

Testimony in Federal Inquiry Shows Extravagance.

Dominion Built Only Six Miles of Railroad.

Dependence Placed Entirely on Logging Industry.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND, Aug. 29.—By depending on its logging and milling industry for its airplane production, Canada obtained 26,500,000 feet of airplane lumber between April and November, 1918, Frank R. Pendleton, former superintendent of aircraft production for the Canadian government, told the members of the Congressional subcommittee investigating aircraft spruce expenditures here today.

Both the logs and the lumber for Canadian airplanes were obtained from the loggers and mills on contracts, and no soldiers were employed in the operations, Pendleton testified.

ONLY SIX MILES OF RAILS.

With the exception of six miles of railroad, no construction was undertaken by the government and when the operations closed the government had no equipment or properties on its hands to dispose of, he said.

According to figures produced by Pendleton, airplane lumber was produced more cheaply for the Canadian government than for the United States government.

DISQUE TO REPLY.

The testimony of Mr. Pendleton, held to be of high importance, vied in public interest with announcement that Bryce P. Disque, former brigadier-general, commander of the spruce division and president of the Spruce Production Corporation, had arrived from New York to make personal reply to the flood of testimony adverse to his administration.

Under promise of the Congressional committee and assurance that Secretary of War Baker already had guaranteed such protection to enlisted men who might testify, George French, private in the spruce division, late today told of the administration of affairs at the spruce cut-up plant at Vancouver, Wash.

Private French, who served as intelligence officer in the department, made a number of charges, based upon reports he had previously made in his official capacity. Many of these reports, he testified, elicited no attention and conditions of which they complained never were remedied.

He told the committee the attitude of spruce division officers toward his work was hostile.

Tomorrow the members of the Congressional committee will leave for Lincon county, Oregon, where they will spend two days in a personal inspection of the spruce railroads in the Toledo district, as well as the $1,000,000 government mill at Toledo. Sessions will be resumed here next Tuesday.

RYAN IS DEFENDED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—John D. Ryan, former assistant Secretary of War in charge of aircraft production, was defended in the Senate today by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, from what the Senator said were insinuations in a report made to Secretary Baker by two Republican members of a Congressional subcommittee now in the West investigating operations of the War Department's spruce production division.

The report alleged, Senator Thomas said, that approximately $5,000,000 of government funds were squandered in the construction of thirty-eight miles of railroad for the spruce production division and converted to the uses of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad in which Mr. Ryan is a director. While the committee may have found waste of aircraft funds, Senator Thomas said, such inuendoes against Mr. Ryan were "unjust and unreasonable."

SAN FRANCISCO HAS NEW AUTO THIEF TRAP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—The first of a series of automobile thief-catching stations to be erected at every highway outlet from this city has been built and equipped on the Junipero boulevard, at the southern boundary of San Francisco.

It will house officers armed with sawed-off shotguns and equipped with high-powered automobiles and motorcycles.

Whenever an automobile theft is reported the news will be flashed to all stations guarding ingress and egress to the city. If the theft occurs at night an electric sign bearing the word "Stop" will be swung over the road, and all motor cars will be inspected before being allowed to proceed.

FRENCH CUT DEBATE TO HASTEN TREATY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Ratification of the peace treaty with Germany by the Chamber of Deputies apparently was considerably hastened this afternoon when more than twenty Deputies scheduled to speak on the treaty waived their right to address the Chamber.

During the debate this afternoon Deputy Maurice Barres criticised the treaty for failing to make a Rhine frontier. He declared he would vote for ratification of the treaty, however.

CARRANZA FORCE IS NOT IN STEP

Move to Take from Him Extraordinary Powers.

Cabrera Asks Court not to Use Haste in Amparo Case.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Advices from Mexico City respecting the oil situation state that Luis Cabrera, Secretary of the Treasury of Mexico, in addressing the Supreme Court of Mexico and recommending that no undue haste be taken in the decision of the Amparo cases now pending before it lest it seem that Mexico was allowing herself to be influenced by the United States, was acting officially.

The cases before the Mexican Supreme Court, brought by American oil companies, are aimed directly against the Presidential decrees of February 19, July 31, and August 13, 1918, which aroused protests from the governments of the United States, Great Britain, France and Holland.

Reports from private sources which have reached the State Department indicate that the Supreme Court and Congress of Mexico are out of step with President Carranza and that there is a definite movement on the part of these branches of the government to put an end to legislation by executive decree. It has been by decrees that Carranza has tried to put into effect measures jeopardizing foreign interests in Mexico under the constitution of 1917.

The recent tactics of Cabrera, Schiaffino and others of the Carranza circle, it is reported, were prompted by the existence of a definite movement in the Mexican Congress to withdraw from Carranza extraordinary powers in finance. It is urged by the anti-Carranza faction that the withdrawal of such powers would prevent a recurrence of attempts at confiscation and would indicate to the world how far the new legislation might go toward enforcing radical measures authorized by the constitution.

Editorials in all the Mexico City newspapers are taking Cabrera to task for his attitude. In an interview Cabrera accuses the Mexican people of a lack of patriotism in these critical times. It has been declared repeatedly in Mexico City that 80 per cent. of the Mexican people would look upon American intervention with indifference while 90 per cent. of the educated class would welcome it.

SENATE CONCILIATORY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Aug. 29.—"The Mexican Senate wishes to meet the foreign oil interests half way," said Senator Adolfo de la Huerta, Governor-elect of Sonora, here yesterday, while en route to Hermosillo, Sonora, to become civil Governor, September 1. He was formerly Mexican Consul-General in New York.

Senator De la Huerta said there was a general feeling in the Mexican Senate that certain clauses in the constitution applying to the oil situation should be eliminated and that the idea of the Senate was to hurry action on these points, to eliminate the possibility of international friction.

He said there was no possibility of Carranza becoming a candidate for the Presidency in 1920 and said Gen. Obregon and Gen. Gonzales were considered the strongest candidates at present.

WARRANTS OUT FOR JUDGE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Aug. 29.—State troops were asked yesterday to prevent an armed clash between police of Agua Prieta, Sonora, and friends of Judge Gabriel Trujillo, city judge and recorder of Agua Prieta, for whom warrants were issued yesterday charging malfeasance in office. Pablo Gonzales and Horatio Camou, friends of the judge, were arrested after escorting Trujillo, guarded by eleven armed men, past police who last night attempted to arrest the judge. Francisco Monge, former Police Chief, yesterday informed Capt J. G. Tato, presidente municipale, that he and a hundred other friends of the two prisoners would attempt to rescue the prisoner from the City Jail last night.

Monge, leader of the faction supporting Judge Trujillo, was arrested last night by a posse under Ramon Alvarado, special Chief of Police, after a running fight through the streets of the town in automobiles. Monge was wounded in the right hand and Ramon Estrada, who was with him, was probably fatally wounded. Although many shots were fired by both sides, these were the only persons injured.

Tato received a telegram last night from Gen. Calles, promising to send troops if necessary.

A police guard surrounds the home of Judge Trujillo, ready to arrest him should he emerge, and to hold him in the house until a Federal warrant arrives to be served on him. Under the Mexican law, Trujillo, although a municipal official, is a Federal appointee, and his home, therefore, is Federal soil.

PEOPLE GLAD TO RIDE IN HEARSE.

Motor Funeral Car Carries a Cheerful Load in Strike.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Conspicuous among the nondescript procession of vehicles crowding the highway between Los Angeles and this city is a large automobile hearse which has been pressed into service as a passenger conveyance, owing to the interruption of railroad traffic.

The converted funeral car was reported from Oceanside headed south, and carrying no less than sixteen passengers. Seats had been arranged along the sides of the car and the occupants appeared cheerful and carefree. The hearse is said to be the property of a Los Angeles concern.

CAPTURED SUBMARINE ARRIVES IN SAN DIEGO.

PUBLIC IS WELCOMED TO INSPECT THE GERMAN DIVER FROM END TO END.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—The UB-88, captured German submarine, arrived here this morning under convoy of the United States steamship Bittern while on a cruise to all the principal ports in the country. The Navy Department is displaying the ship to the general public, partly to show the people what it is like and partly as a stimulus for recruiting.

The submarine already has been visited by 250,000 Americans since the war, regular visiting hours being maintained at every port and the public being admitted freely to inspect the ship from end to end. No engraved invitations are sent out, the Navy Department turning it over to the people without reservation and a crew being maintained aboard to navigate it and to protect it from souvenir hunters at the ports. A few items in the ship's equipment already have been removed by vandals.

PITTSBURGH RESUMES STREET-CAR SERVICE.

MEN GO BACK TO WORK AT 5-CENT RISE, AGAINST WHICH STRIKE WAS CALLED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Street-car service was resumed here today for the first time in two weeks when 5000 striking motormen and conductors of the Pittsburgh Street Railway Company returned to work, following a vote of the carmen late yesterday to abandon the strike.

The men went back to work at the wage increase—5 cents an hour—granted them by the National War Labor Board recently, against which they struck two weeks ago.

Eight hundred relief men were paid off and entrained for Los Angeles, it is reported by a local news bureau.

PEORIA (Ill.) Aug. 29.—A partial tie-up of street car service through the heart of the city attended the opening this morning of a three-day general strike, called for 6 o'clock a.m. by insurgent labor leaders.

Refusal of the accredited American Federation of Labor representative to countenance a strike kept the majority of workmen on the job today.

The strike was called as a protest against blacklisting of factory workers now on strike at the Keystone Steel and Wire Company and other plants. The strikers demand that full union recognition be granted by the employers in all shops.

Later reports indicate that many small factories and stores have been closed by the strike.

The accredited representatives of the American Federation of Labor in the city refused to participate in the strike and there was no general response from the organized crafts.

REFUSES TO REPORT MOONEY ACTIVITIES.

SECRETARY OF LABOR WILSON SAYS ANARCHIST CLEWS LEAD TO THIS CASE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—On the ground that publication of such information would be incompatible with the public interest, Secretary Wilson today refused to furnish the House a report on the present activities of the Labor Department in the case of Thomas J. Mooney, who is serving a life sentence after conviction in connection with the preparedness day bomb explosion in San Francisco in 1916. The report was requested in a resolution offered by Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas.

In reply to a question about department activities since Mooney's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, the Secretary said investigations of alien anarchists "have developed clews that lead to the Mooney case" and that these inquiries were being continued. He refused, however, to disclose the information thus far obtained.

SPEED TROOPS OUT OF SIBERIA.

Baker Says Emergency Men are to Return Soon.

Denies Americans are Fighting for Kolchak.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Assurance that efforts would be made to bring selective service men back from Siberia at the earliest possible date was given the House Committee on Foreign Affairs today by Secretary of War Baker. The Secretary said, however, that difficulties were involved and that the immediate return could not be promised to the entire number. He said he thought all the emergency men would be back by midwinter.

Assistant Secretary of State Long also appeared before the committee discussing various questions relative to the Russian situation in executive session.

Secretary Baker testified in open session, both department officials appearing in response to an invitation to discuss the resolution introduced by Representative Rhodes of Missouri inquiring how long American troops would be kept in Siberia and why Great Britain, France and Italy were not doing as much as the United States.

"I'll do everything I can to expedite the relief of drafted men as rapidly as possible," said Secretary Baker. "But I do not want to leave you under the impression that it is an easy thing to do. These men who have volunteered for service in the regular army have many of them been obtained to fill the places of others and are not available to be sent to Siberia. But we want to get every emergency man on of the service as rapidly as possible."

UNDER FIRE OF QUESTIONS.

Representative Mason of Illinois asked Mr. Baker a number of questions.

"I judge our troops at Archangel were working with our allies for the Kolchak government," remarked Mr. Mason.

"No," said Secretary Baker, "they were sent there to guard large military stores and while there they were acting with the British and French. The government in North Russia is, so far as I know, not affiliated with Kolchak."

"Do you know how much money the President has put into the Siberian railroad?" asked Mr. Mason.

"I do not know," replied the Secretary. "By that I mean I do not know whether he has put anything into it."

"As I understand it the troops were sent to Russia under an agreement with our allies?" continued Mr. Mason.

"Yes," replied Mr. Baker.

"Does that apply to troops sent to Silesia?"

"No troops are being sent to Silesia, as I understand it. I am sending 5000 troops to Europe. They may ultimately go to Silesia. I am sending them to replace 5000 men in the First Division who would otherwise have to stay."

REPLACEMENT ISSUE.

"Why do you have to replace them?" asked Mr. Mason.

"We have to keep a certain number there," replied the Secretary. "There will be all told from 10,000 to 12,000 combatant troops. In addition to that there will be about 20,000 service of supply troops, who will be released as rapidly as the stores can be turned over to purchasers or shipped home."

Representative Rhodes asked how long any of the drafted men might remain in Siberia.

"It has been stated that it is the intention of the War Department to replace soldiers in the Siberian service," said Mr. Rhodes. "In the event we fail to obtain a sufficient number of men to replace them, do I understand that these selective service men will be kept in Siberia indefinitely?"

"We cannot keep them there longer than four months after the proclamation of peace," replied Secretary Baker. "We will try to get them back as much before that as possible."

"Is it not a fact that the Japanese soldiers are located along the Siberian Railroad in the vicinity of Vladivostok?" asked Mr. Rhodes.

"That is generally so," said Mr. Baker.

WHY FORCE IS LARGE.

Mr. Rhodes asked how it happened that the United States has a force of more than 8000 men in Siberia, while the British have only 1500, and France 1400.

"At the time the Siberian situation came up it was determined that the United States should send the preponderance of forces to Siberia, as they were closest," said Mr. Baker. "The British and French on the other hand, found it easier to send men to Archangel, and had larger forces there than the United States."

Representative Mason asked whether the American troops in Siberia were considered as neutrals between the hostile forces and the Kolchak government.

"I think they are," said Mr. Baker, "because they are accused by both sides of not being neutral."

In response to a question by Mr. Mason as to whether the United States troops were in danger of attack by the Bolsheviks, Mr. Baker said the nearest Bolshevik troops were thousands of miles away.

"CAPITAL AND LABOR AVOID CONFERENCES."

SENATOR POINDEXTER SAYS THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD FORCE THEM TO MEET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Charging both capital and labor with "inconsistency and narrowness" in their viewpoints and with ignoring the public welfare, Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, urged in the Senate today that the government take some steps to compel them to get together for the purpose of reaching an understanding. Such a conference, he said, might effect a settlement of the labor controversies, which now threaten "the peace and order and well being of the entire country."

The Senator introduced a resolution recently authorizing the President to call such a meeting "at an early date."

He said that after the resolution had been offered, he had received a communication from President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, as well as from manufacturers "expressing some resentment because the resolution was introduced without consulting them."

"The representatives of organized industries and labor," Senator Poindexter said, "don't want to confer with each other and for that reason the government ought to take some steps to bring them together."

WILSON SENDS SENATE TREATY WITH POLAND.

PRESIDENT ALSO TRANSMITS AGREEMENT COVERING THE RHINE OCCUPATION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The treaty between the Allied and associated powers and Poland and the agreement signed at Versailles covering occupation of the Rhine, asked for by the Foreign Relations Committee in connection with its consideration of the treaty with Germany, were sent to the Senate today by President Wilson.

The President sent a brief letter of transmittal, asking the Senate's "advice and consent" to the two treaties, saying they were "ancillary" to the Versailles treaty, and, therefore, were submitted so they might be considered along with it.

AIRPLANES MAY FILL GAP IN MAIL SERVICE.

WILL FLY BETWEEN YUMA AND SAN DIEGO IF TRAINS FAIL TODAY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Airplanes will bridge the continental gap in the United States mail service, between Yuma and San Diego, beginning tomorrow unless the trains begin running tomorrow, according to announcement today by Postmaster Lucius Barrow. The postmaster says he will wait until 3 p.m., to see what the trainmen are going to do, and that he will then proceed with his aerial mail arrangements if the prospect for train service does not improve.

The only airplanes available here are the lighter and speedier types, of small cargo and lifting capacity, capable of carrying only 100 pounds of mail, which would amount to approximately 1600 letters. The cost for gasoline would be about $40, besides all the other expenses such as maintenance, overhead, salaries, etc.

Postmaster Barrow states that one plane would be entirely inadequate for the continental gap but that it would represent a start from which development could be made and that probably a sufficient service could be evolved in time.

Motor trucks from the army equipment continue handling all of the local mail, including parcels post, between Los Angeles and Imperial Valley by way of San Diego.

NO BOATS HOME FOR HONOLULU TEACHERS.

OPENING OF SCHOOLS IS POSTPONED ONE WEEK TO ACCOMMODATE THEM.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Because several scores of Honolulu school teachers, vacationing in the United States, have found it impossible to obtain accommodation on vessels which would return them to Hawaii in time for the regular opening of the school term September 15, the schools will remain closed until September 22.

Matson Navigation Company officials, in announcing the receipt of advices to this effect, said a number of teachers had obtained passage on army transports.

Passenger lists of all trans-Pacific liners are booked full to the end of the year, officials of steamship lines here report. Some companies which ordinarily carry few passengers have added to their accommodations, and the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Oriental Steamship Company recently inaugurated a direct run from San Francisco to Yokohama, eliminating stops at Honolulu and Chinese ports, in order to handle more traffic to and from Japan.

The congestion is expected to continue until more ships are turned back by the United States Shipping Board to Pacific routes. Little relief is anticipated before the first of next year.

ASKS SUPPRESSION OF LUDENDORFF'S STORY.

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN REQUESTS AMERICAN PAPERS NOT TO PUBLISH IT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—American newspapers were appealed to today by Senator Chamberlain, Democrat of Oregon, not to publish the story of the war written by Gen. Ludendorff, quartermaster-general of the German army. Senator Chamberlain told the Senate that several newspapers had announced that they would publish it.

"I hope the newspapers," he said, "will without any act of Congress decline absolutely to print this story of the German general, largely responsible for the kind of warfare conducted by Germany."

"I, too, trust it will not be done," interjected Senator Lodge, Republican, of Massachusetts.

AUSTRIAN PACT NEARLY READY.

Supreme Council may Deliver it Early Next Week.

Carries Most Favored Nation Clauses for Allies.

Arrange for America to Release Germans.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Aug. 29.—The supreme council today again considered the Austrian peace treaty, which probably will be given to the Austrians early next week.

Loring Dresel and Brig.-Gen. W. D. Connor have been named as the American members of the inter-Allied commission which will begin immediately the repatriation of German prisoners of war.

PARIS, Thursday, Aug. 21.—The Echo de Paris says today that the treaty with Austria carries most favored-nation clauses for all the Allied and associated governments without distinction between them.

The Italian boundaries were discussed by the supreme council today, but no decision was reached. The question came up in connection with the Austrian boundaries. Fiume was not mentioned.

There have been many rumors concerning proposed Fiume agreements, but none has been reached. It is clear the supreme council will not agree on any settlement of the entire Dalmatian question which does not provide for complete internationalization of Fiume.

The Austrian treaty is undergoing a general overhauling at the hands of the supreme council and indications are that several more days will be required to complete it.

The council is progressing very slowly with the Bulgarian treaty. The several members of the Bulgarian delegation will probably go to Sofia for a few days, to attend the opening of the Assembly.

OX PLEADS ERMAN CAUSE.

Treaty Impossible of Enforcement.

"Hard and Cruel Terms" Engendered Strife.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NGTON, Aug. 29.—Declaring that the peace treaty can not be enforced, but will lay the foundation "for centuries of bloodshed," Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee and former Secretary of State, told the senate today that the United States should decline to become a party to the settlement affected at Versailles and should negotiate a separate peace with Germany.

Terming the "hard and cruel" terms, he said, of the treaty imposed on Germany, provisions which violate international law and engender strife, declared there was no reason why the United States should protect itself into the dangers of such a treaty.

"Not only should we refuse to renounce," he said, "in favor of Germany any of the claims for indemnity and damages she gets credit for what she pays.

ANNOUNCES TREATY.

"I see no reason why we should object to imposing upon Germany, whose terms, our president says, she will not be able to perform, a treaty that robs our friend, China, in a way discredited by our negotiators; a treaty that lays the foundation for a system of blood-letting into which we should not be drawn; a treaty contrary to our own judgment, as to the amount of indemnities to be paid, leaving that vast subject to the whim of a majority commission on reparations; a treaty initiated upon the assertion of a stricken and helpless power that leaves our counsel and support to the beneficiaries of silence as to the measure and character of the benefactions they receive; a treaty that with all the awful presages our involvement in the eruptions of suppressed and morbid conditions; a treaty that will require us to underwrite international understandings heretofore recognized by the character of which are based upon the ambitions of weak nations, many of which are yet secret and undisclosed, but when disclosed might result in acts of injustice similar to that which the President felt himself compelled to acquiesce in at the Shantung."

VOICE BY RESOLUTION.

Senator Knox said a state of peace should be established in the world as soon as three of the great powers had ratified the treaty, and the United States should make formal peace status complete by the adoption of a current resolution of Congress.

Committee had tried in vain to get important data relating to the treaty, the Senator said the people at last were waking to the true issue, as the facts about the Versailles negotiations leaked out.

"Little by little," he continued, "they are bringing a divulgence of the facts connected with the treaty and they may now hope finally to see the whole of the great gaunt tragedy into which those whom they had charged with protecting them were about to betray them.

"What is it about these things that the people cannot know? What is there to hide from them? Must we take this thing, as the German people must take it, unsight and unseen? Are we to be no more advantaged than our fallen enemies"

TREATY BUT AN ALLIANCE.

Calling attention that Russia was not included in the peace settlement, he continued:

"Think you Germany, smarting and staggering under the terms of this treaty, will supinely rest content with the dole of grace and sufferance we are vouchsafing her? That people will no more cease to plot and plan to recover their former high estate than did Satan plunged into the abysmal depths of hell."

Stripped of its idealistic phrases, Mr. Knox said, the treaty really was but an alliance among five great powers, against whom Germany would try to bring a stronger alliance. The real interest of France, he said, was in gaining the friendship and not the emnity of the German people.

"TRUCE OF VERSAILLES."

"The instrument before us," he said, "is not the treaty but the truce of Versailles.

"It takes Germany's territory, European and foreign, without compensation; it takes from her practically all of her ocean shipping and a large portion of her inland vessels; it deprives her of all special benefits of treaties and conventions; it takes her cables; it compels her to supply large quantities of raw materials; it internationalizes her great river systems and throws them open to traffic of all nations on a national basis, as if they were the high seas; it opens her coastwise shipping to all nations; it compels her to grant exceptional import and export privileges and to accept important restrictions; it closes out German interests in practically the whole civilized world, it closes out the interests of that same world in Germany.

"The United States is bound up in every one of the obligations and duties incident to the enforcement of these terms with the great responsibilities attached thereto."

CAMP FIRE PERMITS ARE TO BE REQUIRED.

NEW FIRE NEAR EMIGRANT GAP HAS BURNED OVER 1300 ACRES OF TIMBER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Due to fire ravages camp fire permits will be required for the Trinity, Klamath, California, Shasta, Lassen, Plumas and Tahoe national forests on and after September 1, the United States forest service announced here today. Authority to demand the permits was telegraphed to the service today by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The permit requirements will be extended to other forests as the need arises, it was announced. All permits will be issued free.

The fire on Ferris Creek, Plumas county, was said to be under control, as was the Nordheimer Creek fire in Siskiyou county. A new fire at Texas, near Emigrant Gap, had burned over 1300 acres of good timber.

ALDER SPRINGS (Colo.) Aug. 29.—Fire covering an area of approximately 10,000 acres of brush and grass land adjacent to and inside the California National Forest, was reported under control last night.

It started August 24 about five miles northwest of Stony Ford, Colusa county. Forty men, in spite of high winds, kept the flames out of the timber.

MISSOULA (Mont.) Aug. 29.—Reports on the fire situation in Western Montana and Idaho yesterday continued good. More fires were placed under control, progress was reported on all others and only one new fire broke out.

YAKIMA (Wash.) Aug. 29.—Denis Quesinbury of this city and his son, 16, were rescued after being surrounded by flames more than two days in the Clearwater forest, Idaho, according to information which reached their family here yesterday. They found refuge in a deep gulch which the fire did not reach.

Maj. Simons piloted a DH-4 with 400 horse-power Liberty motor and carried one observer.

Officials of the American Flying Club tonight began computing handicaps to determine the winner.

CLAIMS UNFAIR INVESTIGATION.

Says He Declined to Give His Views on Justice.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Fostering of unfair and prejudiced investigations of army courts-martial practices through "packed" bodies of inquiry, were charged to Secretary Baker and Judge-Advocate-General Crowder today by Samuel T. Ansell, former acting Judge-Advocate-General.

Resuming his statement before the Senate military subcommittee, Mr. Ansell declared that the inquiries made by the American Bar Association committee, Inspector-General Chamberlain and the army tribunal headed by Maj.-Gen. Kerran were "biased" and that recommendations in favor of the existing court-martial procedure were a foregone conclusion.

"If Secretary Baker had designedly sought to appoint a most reactionary committee he could not have improved upon his selection," he said, referring to the Kernan board.

Because he regarded the board as prejudiced, he did not submit his views on military justice reforms. When he declined to participate in the investigation made by Inspector-General Chamberlain he was told by the inspector-general, he said, that a report would be made to Congress that would "be very detrimental" to Ansell.

This statement by Gen. Chamberlain he characterized as "a mild third degree, a menace and a threat."

Mr. Ansell said his charges of obstruction by War Department officials of his efforts to reform courts-martial practices had been misinterpreted. He did not mean to include Gen. March, Chief of Staff, among the obstructionists, who, he said, were Secretary Baker, Gen. Crowder and acting Judge-Advocate-General Kreger.

BIG CHICAGO BREWERS WILL BE PROSECUTED.

SAID TO HAVE BEEN BREWING BEER AS OF YORE FOR THREE WEEKS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Chicago's biggest brewers are to be made the target of libel informations which Assistant District Attorney James R. Glass is now preparing and which he will file in the Federal court early next week. All officers of the brewing companies, which the government contends have been violating the law through the manufacture of beer with more than one-half of one per cent. of alcohol, will be named. Evidence against them will be carried before the Federal grand jury and their indictment will be sought.

The beer itself will be seized by Federal officers as one of the first steps in the government's wholesale prosecution here of all violators of the war-time prohibition law.

Mr. Glass declared that the Chicago brewers at first played the game square, but when they noticed that the law was being violated with impunity in other cities they, too, began to manufacture beer as of yore. This has been going on for the last three or four weeks and the Federal officers have gathered the evidence on which next week's action will be based.

"The law is going to be enforced here to the letter," declared Mr. Glass, "and it may as well be understood now as later.

"The law is on the statute books and it is our duty and the duty of all officers everywhere to see that it is enforced whether they favor such legislation or not. The point is that the law exists and that it must be obeyed."

SOCIALISTS GATHER FOR CHICAGO MEETING

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Advance guards of the National Socialist convention, which opens tomorrow, and of the communists and left wing Socialists, who will open a communist convention Monday, reached Chicago today.

New policies of the national Socialist party are to be formulated. It is said the party will continue to urge change by use of the ballot, while in the Communist convention it is expected many delegates will favor more severe tactics.

Adolph Germer, national secretary, said tonight the party would show an average of 100,000 members for the year and continue in the national political arena, notwithstanding wholesale membership losses by expulsion and secession.

DUAL OWNERSHIP IS BRYAN PLAN

Let States Own Branches Within Their Borders.

Says He Prefers Plumb Plan to Private Ownership.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Ownership and operation of the railroads by the Federal government and the States was advocated by William Jennings Bryan today before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

Mr. Bryan said the dual plan, by which the Federal government would own trunk lines extending throughout the country, while the States would own and operate other roads within their borders, would avoid the dangers of nationalization as proposed in the Plumb plan.

Discussing the Plumb plan, Mr. Bryan said he would prefer it to private ownership, but thought it unwise to take authority away from the States to the extent planned.

MUST BE MONOPOLY.

"The first question to be decided is whether the railroads shall be owned and operated by private corporations or by the public," said Mr. Bryan. "This question must, in my judgment, be answered in favor of public ownership and operation. I am led to this opinion by the fact that the railroads must be a monopoly. A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. It must be a government monopoly administered for all the people and not a private monopoly administered for the few.

"To my mind the only question open to discussion is how can the transformation from private operation and ownership to government operation and ownership be effected with the least risk.

"I beg to propose a dual plan. It contemplates the ownership and operation of a Federal trunk line system, reaching into all States, and ownership and operation of all other lines by the States in which they run.

DISCUSSES PLUMB PLAN.

"The Plumb plan provides for the nationalization of all the railroads. I agree entirely with the fundamental proposition on which the plan is based, namely, that the government should own the railroads. I do not think it is unfair that in the management of the railroads the 2,000,000 employees should have one-third representation. As I understand it, it gives 20,000 officers one-third representation. I cannot understand why 1 per cent. should be given the same proportionate representation as 99 per cent. Still less can I understand why 20,000 officials should be given as much representation as all the other people in the country. I hardly believe the people will consider favorably a proposition that 20,000 officers will have as much representation as all the people who pay the taxes.

"As to the charge that the government would use the railroads for political purposes it could not do worse than the private ownership. The railroads have elected Governors and Senators and have had their lobbies at State Capitols corrupting legislators. The railroads expected to be in politics more in the future than in the past.

ROADS WANT CONCENTRATION.

"What the railroads want is the concentration of all authority at Washington. They want to consolidate all the lines into great trunk lines. What they want is one gigantic monopoly, the greatest the world ever saw, with all the banking power back of it, and all the newspapers owned by it. Then the question will be whether the railroads own the government.

"The most serious argument against nationalization is the concentration of all power at Washington. If I had to choose between concentration of all power in the hands of railroad officials in New York and in the hands of the government at Washington I would take the latter.

"My own belief is that government ownership will be successful. The test during the war has not been a fair one. The roads were taken over under conditions that made it impossible for the government to introduce various economies.

DENIES REAL TEST.

"We have never tried government ownership," declared Mr. Bryan, referring to the Railroad Administration. "A subsidized newspaper never thinks to tell that the government took over the railroads when the private owners could not run them. The government has been only in temporarary control and the roads in the hands of those who wanted to see government ownership fail so they could get the roads back."

Representatives of two coastwise shipping companies urged that port-to-port rates be not put under the control of the Interstate Commerce Commission in re-organization legislation.

SEATTLE, Aug. 29.—Members of a House of Representatives subcommittee here investigating United States Shipping Board operations were told today that diamond and platinum bar pins, jeweled wrist watches and other gifts presented to sponsors of Seattle ships were paid for by the government, and not by the shipbuilding companies, as was generally supposed.

G. P. Deane, district comptroller of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, a witness, said that up to February 5, 1919, $1500 was allowed for launching expenses. The cost of the sponsor's gift was taken from the $1500. Now only $500 is allowed for launchings.

GREAESTT TENNIS EVER.

Match Between Johnston and Patterson Astounds the Gallery.

BY FRED HAWTHORNE.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FOREST HILL (L. I.) Aug. 29.—"The greatest tennis seen on American courts," was the universal verdict of the 10,000 persons who filled the stands to overflowing and stood for hours under a hot sun today, when Wm. M. Johnston hammered out the final point in the desperate five-set match that gave him the victory over Gerald L. Patterson, the stalwart Australian hurricane, in the fourth round of the national championship singles lawn tennis tournament at the West Side Tennis Club.

Johnston, winning by a score of 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5, was given a wild demonstration when he marched off the court toward the clubhouse after the match. With one accord like giant waves, those in the stands rose up and roared further a welcome to this slender, freckled-faced American youth from the shores of the Pacific, who had just humbled the great Australian who bears the title of world's champion. Then one man tossed a seat cushion into the air. It sailed out over the field and came skidding down through the air to land near the court.

THROW CUSHIONS.

This seemed to be the signal for thousands who had watched the international struggle to show their enthusiasm both for victor and vanquished. In another ten seconds the air was filled with flying pillows. Nothing like this had been seen since the Davis cup matches of 1914, on those same courts, when McLoughlin downed Brookes. In fact, the crowd today was even more wildly demonstrative than on that other occasion.

But there were other great matches during the day, and the eight men who came through to the round before the semi-final will earned their places in the great tourney.

HARD TO BEAT.

William T. Tilden II, of Philadelphia, had to go through five swiftly played sets before he defeated Ichiya Kumagae of Japan by a score of 6-4, 6-1, 1-6, 4-6, 6-2. Richard Norris William II of Boston, champion of 1914 and 1916, dropped the first set of his match with Ronald V. Thomas of Australia before he could bring American's colors to the top by a score of 4-6, 6-4, 6-0, 9-7.

Robert Lindley Murray of Niagara Falls, the playing-through champion, went through Conrad B. Doyle of Washington by a score of 6-2, 6-2, 6-3, and Maurice E. McLoughlin of California, still without serious opposition in the tourney, took young Percy L. Knyaston of Long Island into camp by a score of 6-2, 6-2, 8-6.

FIVE SETS.

Norman Brookes, Patterson's doubles partner and once hailed as the world's greatest player, was carried to the full five sets before he could quell Charles S. Corland of Pittsburgh, one of the brighest of the young players in this country, the score going at 1-6, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2, 7-5.

The remaining two matches of the afternoon found Wallace F. Johnson of Philadelphia winner over Nathaniel W. Niles of Boston at 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1, and Walter Merrill Hall of this city, Middle States champion, a victor over Theodore Roosevelt Pell of New York by a score of 6-1, 9-7, 0-6, 6-2.

Glancing over the list of those remaining in the tournament we find that there is every promise tomorrow of another day of sensational struggles for supremacy.

Murray versus Johnston, Wallace Johnson against Hall; Tilden against Brookes and Williams against McLoughlin. Murray and Johnston, old rivals, are both going at their best right now. Tilden and Brookes have never met and the interest in this match will be intense. Personally I look to Tilden to conquer the veteran Australian.

Williams and McLoughlin. A match between these two should be enough to crowd the stands. Williams tore the national championship crown from "Red Mac" at Newport in 1914 and again defeated the great "comet" in the national tourney of 1916.

CITY TENNIS TOURNEY IS TO START TODAY.

Play in the city tennis tournament begins this afternoon promptly at 1 o'clock. Hawks will step out on the court in an effort to take Ketchum's measure and from then on until 6:15 and for several days thereafter the battle deciding the city champions will rage.

The games will be played on the Y.M.C.A. courts.

O'BRIEN AND KETCHELL SCRAP TO A DRAW.

Long Beach pulled off another successful boxing tournament last night at the Silver Spray Arena, where 2500 fans assembled to witness the festivities. The main feature of the evening's entertainment was a four-round go between Tommy O'Brien and Young Ketchell. In the second round the latter put Tommy to the canvas for the only knockdown of the set-to. Tommy, however, came back good and strong in the final rounds and earned a well-merited draw.

Gene Watson and Frankie Tucker fought four fast rounds with honors even. This assault-at-arms pleased the crowd very much. Joe Capelli fought Mike Botsino to a draw while Paul Brewster won over Soldier Cummings. Bobbie Keene knocked out Eddie Hanlon in the first round and Ducky Cline drew with Bill Howard.

The curtain raiser was a wrestling match between Peter James, who is after Wale Walter Miller's scalp, and Dan Martin. The men wrestled twenty minutes to a draw. James showed up well and bears watching. Frank Holborrow refereed and gave entire satisfaction.

BIG CRICKET CONTEST ON FOR TOMORROW

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 29.—Cricket has become the most popular sport in Santa Monica and the game at the Santa Monica High School athletic field continually draws large crowds. It is rumoured that cricket may become a part of the athletic curriculum of the high school. Should this be so, it will be anticipated by members of the club as an advantage in the building up of a team that Santa Monica hopes to have compete for the world championship.

Tomorrow Santa Monica will play the Los Angeles Celts, captained by Hugh Evans. Monday an all-star match will take place between the Los Angeles Wanderers and the Santa Monica crack team. Though the Santa Monica team has always kept up her high reputation, she admits that the Wanderers put up a strong game and expects an exciting fracas to-day.

TIGERS WIN IN NINTH INNING.

Vernon Bats in Needed Run, Scoring Mitchell.

Game is Long Drawn Out and Full of Misplays.

Milligan Balks Plan to Kidnap Him at Night.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

...this has the true sterling ...Vernon 4, Sacramento 3. The ...time being the charm, it was ...Tigers' turn to win, but the victory was achieved through a tornado of misfit plays, lost opportunities, a truckload of horseshoes and ...fast, breaks galore and spelling crises. The visitors had the ...game just about in their grasp 53 ...and then blew it. It was a case ...of see-saw, teeter-totter, until to...ward the end the Bengal rooters ...found a heap of vocal support and fell ...a lot of silence.

...game with, the Solons should ...have won, not because they played ...better ball, but because Bill Essick, ...one of the best manager the Coast ...league has ever known, drew a suspension of three days from Presi...dent Baum for crabbing at Guthrie's decision in the ninth inning of ...the game. Guthrie called ...Essick when the latter was ...tagging at first base, and ...Essick exploded and told the ...umpire his lamps needed a good ...cleaning. Guthrie ordered him out ...of the game. Guthrie reported the ...matter to Baum, and Essick yesterday ...afternoon received the following ...wire from the league prexy: "You ...are suspended for three days."

THERE WITH BEARD.

...Essick, however, is a past master ...of the art of dissembling, both vo...cally and physically. Now, we don't ...know whether he was present at ...the game or not yesterday afternoon, but a bearded man sitting ...in the Bengal dugout was noticed every few minutes carrying on ...a animated conversation with ...Manager Tinker when the locals were at bat. The beard looked like a ...case of camouflage and at times ...it moved in unison with the ...player's lips. If this were really ...Essick we will have to hand it ...to him, for his own father would ...hardly recognized him. With ...his new disguise, make-up, Bill could ...have passed right now and make ...a bee line to him to his soul with ...a pair of steel.

...Manager Artemus Fromme—as long ...as he lives he will remember that ...day of yesterday. He really pitched ...airtight contest; was in as many ...holes as there are in a prairie-dog ...town, and his trembling, multi...tudinous sounded like the grinding ...of a car that had been suddenly ...switched into service with ...its sand-gear layer of cob...webs on it. Art recovers from that ...nervous workout by the time the ...first of October rolls around we ...are pretty surprised.

"DAZEY" DIZZY.

...Manager Vance started to heave ...a few Tippers, but lasted only ...two innings. Something was ...wrong with his carburetor. Evidently ...the picture was too rich, and to ...add to matters worse there suddenly ...appeared a playhouse of juvenile ...delinquents just above his ears that ...made him see things rather muckle-duplicate. He was displaced by Larry Cook in the fourth, who, taking all ...the circumstances into consideration, twirled ...a perfect article of ball.

...Two runs entered the last half ...of the ninth inning with the score ...tied. For the first time this year ...Vernon had a least in the encouraging ...aspect in the threat of a home ...run. This can be accounted for ...partly by the fact that there had ...been so many tight places during ...the game that the boys had waxed ...weak in expending their lungs. ...Perhaps it was the first Bengal up. ...Manager Waldom Row got busy and ...sent in its first bulletin, viz.: "If ...we lose, it's a cinch Chadwell will sacrifice him to second ...with one out and Meusel ...Hamilton coming up, the game ...is over." Wisdom Row pulls ...wires, and how near it was ...to be proved by what follows.

...Sacramento—Old Gibraltar Chet ...Mitchell sacrificed Mitchell to second, ...Cook to Griggs. Bobby Meusel, ...a portent of silence, lifted one ...into Main street, which struck a ...wall of air at an altitude of about ...two feet. As it entered the pocket ...it lost its momentum and unluckily ...for Bobby, it landed inside the grounds into the ...capacious hams of Roxy Middleton. ...Then another cyclone of serenity ...broke from the Vernon rooters — what's ...the matter with ye?) Edington waddled ...up to the plate. He tried at several ...pitches and found one to his liking ...and lifted the old plum to deep center, ...which was probably a home ...run, as only a single was ...scored. Mitch scuttled home with ...the tying run. Now when a bunch of ball ...players have been kept on a constant ...jag for two hours and fifteen ...innings they are pretty well pleased ...with the ninth inning is over, and ...in the spirit of the vast assemblage at Washington Park yesterday afternoon.

BOLD AND TIMID.

...Describe the intricate mass of ...baffling misplays that bobbed up ...during the game yesterday would require ...a book the size of which would ...make Webster balk. Time ...and time again the game was bold of ...play and timid of results. ...The Tigers would clutter the ...bases with only one out, and then ...the next two batters would fall dismally ...in succession with the Tigers. ...Almost one series of pent-up ex...citement after another, and then just ...at the critical moment a batter ...would strike out or pole one to the ...infield.

...The visitors, Stumpf's work ...was the best in the last two days ...but he bowled with demerit. He ...not only to have a screw ...ball soaring but also to have ...developed screws loose. On ...several occasions at a vital ...stage he allowed the ball to slither ...from his anatomy and each time ...it has horseshoed it over ...the plate. In marked contrast to ...Stumpf's work is the sensational ...relief work of Jerry McGaffigan has been ...a feature second.

OFF YOU, MARTY!

...The Irishman has pulled off ...some stunts here in the last ...year, has thrown a bomb ...into the Bengal ranks ...and continues in this manner

DOUBLE-HEADER ON FOR TODAY.

Just think of it—three bargain days in baseball. Beginning this afternoon at Washington Park the Vernons and the Sacramentos will hook up in the first of three double-headers. The first game of the first double-header will begin at 1:30 o'clock. Starting at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon two more games will be played and on Monday afternoon at the same time the final double-header with the Sacramentos will be pulled off.

All these games will be played at Washington Park and both games can be witnessed for the price of one admission. These double-headers will furnish the full quota of the nine games to be played here this and the early part of next week to finish the last series between the Tigers and the Senators. This is an important series and on the result may depend the chances of the rag being annexed by Eddie Maier and his league leading Bengals. It is confidently expected that a crowd of between 10,000 and 12,000 will be on hand at Washington Park this afternoon and special preparations will be made to handle it.

...the league leaders will surely have their work cut out for them to cop the series from Bill Rodgers. The second sacker's work has shot a blue funk into Bill Essick and unless Marty falls foul of Joe Slump, Essick will have to resort to heroic measures to offset McGaffigan's heartrending achievements.

We don't know whose fell work this is, but something is in the air to eliminate Marty from the rest of this week's play. The story transpires from the Continental Hotel and is about to this effect: About eight o'clock last night McGaffigan was quietly sitting in his room after dinner reading The Times. Answering his telephone he heard the following warning: "Mr. McGaffigan—I'm a friend of yours but you don't know me. For God's sake don't leave the hotel tonight or you will surely be kidnaped. There are three men now waiting on the outside to follow you with an auto and shove you into it at a given point. The Vernons are desperate and must get you out of the way to take this series. Be careful and take a fool's tip and from one who knows what he's talking about."

McGaffigan then slipped out of his room, glided down the long hall to the window overlooking the thoroughfare and there, sure enough, were three men about fifteen feet apart across the street. As forewarned is always forearmed and as Marty is taking no chances in these Bolshevicki times, he made a virtue of necessity, pulled down his blinds, clicked off the electric lights and sought the arms of Morpheus. TAIL-ENDERS WALLOP ANGELS

McCredie's Youngsters Make it Two Straight.

Seraphs not There in Pinch and Fail at End.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND, Aug. 29.—"Lefty" Schroeder looked like a cool million today, working in the Lox for the Beavers, and hurled Portland to its second straight victory over Los Angeles, 2 to 1 being the final score. Timely hitting of Lou Blue put the game in the win column. McCredie's promising young twirler, who never looked more promising than today, was touched up for nine hits by the slugging Angels, but they were fairly well scattered.

Nick Aldridge was on the mound for Los Angeles, and was nicked for seven hits, three of them in the first frame, when Portland put across two runs. Nick was right, but did not get the breaks. The Beavers believe in putting the runs away in the early innings, or waiting until the very last. Today's game was one of those early-inning affairs.

TEX SINGLES.

Billy Speas, as the lead-off man, hit out a beautiful single to left field right off the bat in the first. Tex Wisterzil drove out a single to right. Schaller walked, filling the bases. George Maisel flew out to Kenworthy. Lou Blue slammed a single over second base, scoring Speas and Wisterzil. Siglin flew out to Bates and Baker forced Blue at second, ending the inning.

Scoreless ball followed up to the fifth inning, when Los Angeles scored its lone tally of the day. Walter Boles, first up in the fifth, popped out to Schroeder. Ellis doubled to right field. Aldridge flew out to Speas. Killefer singled to center, Ellis reaching home. A few minutes later Killefer tried to steal second and was nabbed by Baker, who got the ball down to Kingdon in time to get the Angel manager with room to spare.

"BIFF" GRABS IT.

But for a great one-handed catch by Biff Schaller of Jacques Fournier's drive to right field, in the sixth inning, it might have been a different story. Fabrique led off in the sixth frame, and flied out to Siglin. Fournier landed on the pellet and it looked as though it was good for a double at least. Schaller made a decent catch of Fournier's wallop. Sam Crawford hit to Blue and was safe when Schroeder dropped Blue's throw. Bates singled to right, Crawford taking second. As said before "Biff" Schaller had not made the grand stand catch the runs might still be coming in. Kenworthy fanned.

The seventh inning was short and sweet. Boles flew to Maisel. Ellis fanned and Aldridge grounded out. The eighth was a repetition of the seventh. Killefer and Fabrique flied to Maisel, while Fournier flied to Schaller. Schroeder had a bad inning in the ninth, when three hits were garnered off his delivery, and for a while it looked as though Los Angeles would edge over a ninth-inning victory.

BATES SINGLES.

Crawford went out on a fly to left field. Bates came through with a hit over second base, and Kenworthy singled between third and short. Boles hit into a double play, relieving the agony of some 15,000 fans.

Wisterzil and Blue had a healthy day with the bludgeon. Wisterzil registered three hits. Blue was good for two hits in three times at bat. Today's game was features by sensational catches on the part of players of both clubs. Kenworthy made a leap in the air in the fifth inning to pull down Kingdon's hot one that earned him a big hand. Killefer broke into the applause column when he made a shoe-string catch in center field of Speas's long drive.

SAY ALLEGED OFFICER IS BOGUS CHECK MAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER (Colo.) Aug. 29.—Lester Becker, under arrest in San Francisco with Mrs. George E. Miller on a charge of impersonating a United States officer, is wanted in Denver on a charge of posing as a Federal officer to cash faulty checks, it was announced today by United States secret service officials here. It could not be learned whether Becker would be brought here for trial.

Mrs. Miller is not known to Federal or police officers here. It is reported her husband is serving a sentence in the Washington State prison at Walla Walla.

A special dispatch to a Denver newspaper tonight declares Becker is charged with obtaining thousands of dollars on the Pacific Coast by "shaking down" alleged food hoarders and profiteers by posing as a government officer.

PERSIAN TREATY IS DISAPPROVED

State Department Turns Down Request from Britain.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The British government has sounded out the State Department in regard to the recently announced Anglo-Persian treaty, requesting or inviting an expression of acquiescence in it on the part of the United States, it was learned today. The State Department, in its reply, strongly disapproved of the treaty and, it is reported, refused to recognize it.

The State Department's action is approved by several Persian officials in the United States, excepting the new Persian Minister, Mizro Abdul Ali Khan, Sadigh-Es-Sultaneh, who came to Washington as Minister direct from London, where he occupied a semi-public office in the Anglo-Persian oil syndicate. It is understood that he was succeeded in London by his brother, and that both of these personalities approve of placing Persia under British tutelage.

Kaikhosrow Shahrokh, member and chief custodian of the Persian Parliament, who was sent to America on a special mission and is now in Washington, has protested to Secretary Lansing against the Anglo-Persian treaty. It was revealed today that the Persians in the United States, some of them Persian officials, are organizing a strong protest against the treaty, alleging that it "sells out Persia to Great Britain for ten million dollars."

CHARGE TREATY INVALID.

This protest, which is now being prepared, charges that the treaty is invalid and that it was not legally concluded, having been secretly negotiated by "seven or eight persons" lacking constitutional powers, the fundamental laws of the country requiring that treaties and conveyances be ratified by the Parliament.

The Anglo-Persian treaty, it is asserted, never was submitted to the Persian Parliament for the approval and is unsigned by the Persian people. As evidence of the real feelings and desires of the Persians, it is declared, reputable Persians then constituting the Persian government, approached both the British and United States governments before the meeting of the Peace Conference, with the request that Persia be given a hearing at the Peace Conference on matters appertaining to Persia.

Secretary Lansing in a note to the then Persian Charge d'Affaires in Washington, Mirza Ali Kuli Khan, in reply to the Persian representations stated that "the government of the United States regards with sympathy the request that Persian delegates be admitted to the Peace Congress with power to take part in the discussion and determination of all questions in which Persia is interested or concerned."

PERSIA NOT HEARD.

Persia had claimed a right to appear at the Peace Conference on the ground that England, Russia and Turkey violated her neutrality and her sovereignty during the war, the British establishing military bases on and using Persian territory as a ground for military operations. The British government led the Persian government to believe that Great Britain would consent to the sending of a Persian delegation to Paris, the British Minister at Teheran in a note to the Persian Foreign Office having declared that "the British government on its own part is ready to receive the empowered representative of Persia at the place where the Peace Conference will be held so that he may give information when matters pertaining to Persia may be discussed."

The action of the British government was communicated to the State Department by the Persian charge here and it was believed that England was acting in good faith.

After the assembling of the Peace Conference, however, when the United States undertook to obtain a hearing for Persia, a delegation having been sent by the Persian government to Paris after reaching the formal assurances given by the United States, the British delegation prevented them from getting a hearing and at least one member of the American peace delegation has charged that Great Britain defeated the efforts of the United States to serve Persia and secure a hearing for its delegates.

BRITISH ATTACK RED NAVAL BA

Kronstadt Bombardment Reported in Finland.

Admiralty Denies Report of Battle.

Denikine is Within Distance of Kiev.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ARCHANGEL, Aug. 29.—A monitor Glow Worm has been sunk at Bereznik by the explosion of an ammunition barge; it is believed twenty men were killed and forty are missing.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A bombardment lasting two days was heard in Viborg, Finland, August 27, in the direction of Kronstadt, the Bolshevik naval base near Petrograd, says a Helsingfors message today. It is supposed British naval and air forces are engaged.

The British Admiralty has received no advices regarding the reported bombardment.

The towns of Kupiansk, 80 miles east-southeast of Kharkov, and Pavlovsk, on the Don, ninety miles southeast of Voronezh, have been occupied by the Bolsheviki, according to a statement issued by the Russian government.

The recent capture of Kupiansk by the Bolsheviki was due to intrigues and lack of discipline among the anti-Bolshevik commanders, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Helsingfors.

RED REGIMENT DESERTS.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Red army, under Gen. Kamonitov, has succeeded in breaking through the Volunteer army, captured 13,000 prisoners and dispersed 20,000 more, mostly untrained men. A dispatch to this effect has been received to this effect by Gen. Kamontov, which means that the Bolshevik assertion his commanders have been cut off.

A Red regiment has deserted to Gen. Kamontov, who is forming a division made up of former Bolshevik prisoners. He has evacuated Tambov, proceeding northwest to Kozlov.

ARCHANGEL, Aug. 28.—The monitor Glow Worm has been sunk at Beresnik by the explosion of an ammunition barge. It is believed twenty men were killed and forty are missing.

RED REGIMENT DESERTS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Czecho-Slovaks under Gen. Kamontov, who recently succeeded in breaking through the Bolshevik army, captured 15,000 Bolsheviki and dispersed 20,000 mobilized and untrained men. A dispatch to this effect has been received to this effect from Gen. Kamontov, which refutes the Bolshevik assertion his commands have been cut.

A Red regiment has deserted to Gen. Kamontov, who is forming a division made up of former Bolsheviki. He has evacuated Tamber and is proceeding northwest toward Saratov.

Gen. Denikine's advance is continuing rapidly; he is within sixty miles of Kiev and twelve miles of Petlura's forces. If a junction occurs the entire old Bolshevik front remaining in the pocket 250 miles deep, on a fifty-mile width, south of Kiev, will be cut off.

HAS NO OPPOSITION.

To the northeast Gen. Denikine has captured the important railroad junction of Bakhmach. Denikine's cavalry and armored trains are leading the advance and are not meeting with any opposition on the whole western front. The Bolsheviki, however, are massing in the center and right. The plan of General Denikine is to follow the Dnieper preparatory to a general advance.

The Bolshevik claim of the capture of Pskov, southwest of Petrograd, is probably correct. Forces to the south the Poles are advancing on Dvinsk and on the Dvina, and have forced the Bolsheviki to retire from the Dvina near Polotsk, intrenching their line.

South of the Pripet marshes the Poles have been checked on the line of the Sluch River. Fighting is going on at Mevgorod. Farther eastward the Poles have retaken Zhitomir. The success has been counter balanced by the capture of Fastov by the Ukrainians.

COMPANY STANDS FIRM IN YELLOW LINE STRIKE.

Decline to Allow Strikers to Decide by Voting with Others How They Shall Go Back to Work.

All efforts to terminate the yellow street car strike by mediation seemed to have failed yesterday as the last communication issued by the Mayor's Mediation Committee stated that the Los Angeles Railway Company stands firm in its position taken in the controversy and will not consent to the introduction of politics to decide the manner in which the strikers may return to work.

The mediation committee admitted several days ago that it was deadlocked, for demands of both strikers and employers had been sifted down to the problem of the status upon which the strikers were to return to their positions. All other issues had been sidetracked, to be left to the decision of the mediation board. The strikers insisted that they be permitted to return as a body, retaining their seniority with the company. The company refused to accept the strikers back into their employ as a body, claiming it reserved the right to take the strikers back individually, to reject any striker whose record is not clean and to deprive the strikers of their seniority, permitting them to return only as new applicants.

Such a deadlock on this point reached, the strikers' grievance committee again offered to open negotiations by suggesting the solution of this problem be referred to a vote of the yellow car employees. The railway company's rejection of this proposal, made yesterday afternoon, again blocked negotiations into a deadlock.

COMPANY STATEMENT.

After careful perusal of the letter of Saturday with your board, signed by R. P. Dix, chairman," and Manager G. J. Kuhrts, of the Los Angeles Railway Company, and the mediation committee, and the fact that the Los Angeles Railway Company is invited to take action at which several hundred men who have left the employ of the company will be entitled to vote on the question whether or not they are to be reinstated and the method, manner and terms of their re-employment, and several hundred employees who have a decided opinion as to whether or not they wish to work with the strikers are given the privilege of voting, we believe that the ridiculous nature of this proposition will appeal to every board and that no further action on that question will be taken. We panse, however, to let you know absolutely the position of the loyal employees of the company upon the question of whether the striking employees return on the basis which sentiment is overwhelmingly against such action and the nature of the action proposed in the letter of August 22, 1919. We desire to give our first consideration to the welfare of these employees who remained faithfully and loyally through the people of Los Angeles with adequate transportation, and in accordance with the terms of our letter of August 22, 1919. We desire to say again and in emphasis of the terms of that letter that we will re-employ the men, excepting in cases where the applicant has verbally or physically abused, insulted or assaulted a loyal employee of the company or some member of his family, or such applicants who have by their conduct encouraged such action.

"Our obligation to the people requires that we shall increase our service and resume normal service at the earliest possible moment. Having this in view we are employing and will be required to employ several hundred men in our platform service as rapidly as they can be recruited. Under these circumstances we do not consider it out of place to suggest that if these men desire to be again employed by the company they should file their applications not later than Wednesday of next week.

Very truly yours,
Signed]
By G. J. Kuhrts,
General Manager.

P. S.—Any ex-employee of this company desiring to apply for re-employment may rely upon his application being carefully examined by the management, and ample justice being done him.

G. J. K."

MEDIATION HALTS.

Copies of this letter were sent to strikers' committeemen and to Mayor Snyder. In submitting the letter to the Mayor, Bishop Cantwell, chairman of the mediation committee, informed him that the mediators had exerted every effort to terminate the yellow railway strike, but that their work had been temporarily halted at this point of the controversy.

"The essential thing that the public should know in the mediation of this strike," said Seth R. Brown,

Mr. Galbreth has been associated with the Swift Packing Company for many years, having been employed by the company at Chicago prior to coming to Los Angeles to take charge of this branch. He was a member of the Culver City Country Club and the City Club. He leaves a widow and a daughter, Mrs. Leroy Jepson.

Funeral services will be held at the family residence, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, under the auspices of White Company, funeral directors. Burial will take place at Inglewood Cemetery.

FRUIT, SUGAR SHORTAGE.

That Los Angeles will suffer from a shortage of fruit for some days to come as a result of the strike is the opinion of the leading produce men of this city. Sugar, too, is scarce, according to wholesalers. This will not be remedied for several weeks, it is stated.

During the strike the local companies have been going to the factories and getting the sugar as fast as it was sacked. The surplus has been used up and there is no cane sugar to be had at most of the local jobbers. The demand for the cane sugar has been turned into the beet channels, and this has nearly exhausted the Southern California supply. Powdered sugar, which is made from the cane product, has been out of stock at some of the wholesalers for a week. Had the cane sugar lasted, the refineries here would have had time to manufacture the regular quantity for the season. As the tie-up prevented the southern shipments from arriving, the sugar stock of the local fields is nearly gone.

One of the largest commission merchants in the State announced yesterday that eight carloads of bananas are stranded at Coachella, and although trucks will be sent to haul them to the city if the strike is not broken by today, the entire shipment will be a total loss. It is not even hoped that the proceeds of the sale of the entire eight cars will pay the freight, it is stated.

"We will receive poor stuff at first," said this merchant yesterday. "Then there will be no fruit received for several days. It will take some time for conditions to adjust themselves, and in the interim prices will undoubtedly be high. There are evidences of hoarding on the part of the public. We have found it necessary to limit the quantity of potatoes sold to the dealers. If the people will only use a little judgment and buy and use food in a conservative manner, we will be able to bring the products from the north by steamer. Buying at this time has a tendency to force prices up. Los Angeles will not starve, no matter how long the tie-up lasts."

CITY'S LEADERS PLEDGE SUPPORT TO END STRIKE.

Members of the Twenty-two Principal Civic Bodies Organize to Help the Government Smash Tie-up.

Two thousand of the leading citizens of Los Angeles and members of the city's twenty-two largest civic organizations, with a combined membership of 12,000, yesterday afternoon, at a mass meeting at Trinity Auditorium, pledged their aid to the United States government in its efforts to restore steam railroad transportation here, which has been halted a week by a sympathetic strike. In resolutions, enthusiastically and unanimously adopted, the mass meeting went on record as reaffirming "our unalterable allegiance now and forever to the cause of the open shop, that Los Angeles may continue to be the city of the free."

Copies of these resolutions were telegraphed last night to the President, Director-General Hines of the Railroad Administration, Senators Phelan and Johnson and Congressman Osborne.

President Moreland of the Chamber of Commerce presided at the meeting, which was called to order shortly after 4 o'clock. The speakers included Oscar Lawler, who received an ovation on his first public appearance on the platform since the explosion in which he nearly lost his life, Edwin A. Meserve, Clinton E. Miller and Capt. John D. Fredericks. All the speakers declared the present situation is critical and that if equality under the law is to continue to prevail in Los Angeles, the citizens must be aroused to the menace, in order that it may be met and defeated.

A permanent organization was formed, consisting of one representative from each of the city's twenty-two leading civic organizations, to make effective the co-operation with the national government, which had been pledged.

These organizations are: Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles Realty Board, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, Commercial Federation of California, Founders' and Employers' Association, Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, Produce Exchange of Los Angeles, Advertising Club of Los Angeles, Southern California Laundry Owners' Association, Southern California Hotel Men's Association, Southern California Wholesale Grocers' Association, Los Angeles Clearinghouse, Wholesale Dry Goods Association of Los Angeles, Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association, Los Angeles Grain Exchange, Wholesalers' Board of Trade, Wholesale Metal Dealers' Association, Motor Car Dealers' Association, Building Owners' Association of Los Angeles, Southern California Seed Trade Association and Building Industries Association.

TEXT OF RESOLUTIONS.

The resolutions adopted at the meeting are as follows:

"Whereas, the directors of the organizations signatory hereto in joint meeting duly assembled on August 27 passed the resolution read to you and copies of which are attached hereto, and

"Whereas, the directors of the organizations signatory hereto in joint meeting duly assembled on August 27 passed the resolution read to you and copies of which are attached hereto, and

"Whereas, the members of these organizations and other citizens here assembled in mass meeting come in response to the call of the organizations named, and

"Whereas, oligarchic forces having neither responsibilities to employer nor to employee for results that may follow through the powers at their command, directly and indirectly exercised, have sought to make of Los Angeles a beleaguered city and isolated from the world at large, hoping by starvation and stag-

CITY OFFICIAL FOR STRIKERS.

Tries to Block Building of Oil Tanks on Property of Pacific Electric.

Fire Commissioner Francis Drake, who is also a labor unionist, yesterday voted against an application of the Union Oil Company for permission to erect three gasoline tanks with 45,000 gallons capacity on Pacific Electric property near the power-house on West Sixteenth street. The site is desired as it is most desirably located for serving the public, but Commissioner Drake said that he would not do anything to assist the Pacific Electric during the strike.

Mayor Snyder pointed out that it was not the Pacific Electric Company that was asking for the permit, and that its purpose was to give advantage in serving the people, but Drake voted against the measure, which was passed by the votes of the Mayor and Commissioner Denman.

TRADE BOARD PLEADS FOR ANTI-STRIKE LAW.

FEDERAL CHECK SOUGHT ON PERNICIOUS ACTIVITY OF SMALL MINORITY.

Believing that national legislation is imperative in checking the desperate efforts of a small minority of the population to gain its ends by stopping transportation utilized by the great majority, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has addressed the following telegram to the State's representatives in Washington:

"The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce urges that legislation governing public utilities be enacted at once preventing small minority of population bringing stagnation, destruction of peace, and commercial disaster upon entire communities or perhaps nation. Less than 2 per cent. of Southern California population has isolated more than million from rest of nation. Mails stopped, thousands of tons of food wasted, and staggering financial loss entailed by few thousand men ignoring contracts with government to run trains. They are acting in violation of orders from their own organization as individuals while public suffers with no means of redress. Believe entire country in sympathy with our appeal.

FOR PAVING PROTESTS.

Protests on the proposed paving of the extension of Broadway, from Tenth to Pico streets, were set for hearing by the City Council yesterday for September 4th.

EXONERATE MOBBED CAR CREW; JAIL SUSPECT.

Police Expect to Take into Custody Three More Men as Leaders of Riot After Fatal Accident.

Armed with sticks and stones, a mob of striking street-car men, assisted by scores of men and women sympathizers, yesterday morning charged a South Pasadena Pacific Electric street car at Pasadena avenue and Avenue 57, following an accident in which Mrs. Sylvester W. Lowe, 60 years of age, of 845 South Olive street was killed, and with cries of "lynch them" assaulted Motorman James Johnson and Conductor H. H. Schiffler. The two street-car men were beaten almost into unconsciousness when the police arrived from East Side Police Station and scattered the mob. The car men were surrounded by a score of officers and rushed to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. Motorman Johnson was later removed to the Crocker-street Hospital. His injuries are serious.

ARREST MADE.

A dozen detectives working under Capt. James C. Chapman of East Side Station who investigated the riot late yesterday afternoon placed under arrest Leo Waite, 27 years of age, of 5716 Marmion Way. Waite who is an automobile repair man, and a strike sympathizer, refused to make any statement to the police after he was identified by Conductor Schiffler as the man who struck the first blow. He is being held in default of $100 bail.

According to Capt. Chapman, three other arrests will be made by the police as soon as Motorman Johnson is able to make identifications of suspects now under police surveillance. Capt. Chapman stated last night that the police hold five John Doe complaints for the arrest of the mob leaders, and declared that the men are known to the police and will be taken into custody as soon as proper identification can be made.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company last night offered a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of any one of the mob which attacked the car crew.

CREW NOT TO BLAME.

The official police investigation exonerates the car crew for the death of Mrs. Lowe. Every effort was made by the car men to bring the heavy car to a stop before the accident, and the car was seriously damaged by the suddenness with which the brakes were applied. Capt. Chapman closed the investigation of the death soon after the accident and stated that it was unavoidable.

From witnesses who saw the accident the police learned that Mrs. Lowe was struck, after she had crossed the Pacific Electric tracks at Avenue 57 and Pasadena avenue, by the left front step of the inbound car. She was hurled almost to the sidewalk on the east side of the street and died before medical attention could reach her. The car step was torn from the car by the force of the collision.

Mrs. Lowe, according to Motorman Johnson and many witnesses secured by the police, started to cross Pasadena avenue when the street car was more than half a block away. Just before she was struck she seemed to hear the warning car whistle and gong which was being sounded by the motorman and paused, then she sprang across the track and almost cleared the oncoming car.

Motorman Johnson applied the air brakes to his car as Mrs. Lowe started forward and then reversed the power but was unable to bring the car to a stop. With all four wheels sliding the heavy car first passed the spot where the accident took place by about fifteen feet, and then started backwards under the reversed power. The motorman brought the car to a stop about 100 feet back from the intersection.

MOB ATTACKS.

Howling for blood, hundreds of strikers and scores of women, men and boys, all strike sympathizers, surrounded the street car. While numbers shouted for a rope and raised the cry of "lynch them" scores of the men and women rushed into the car and with sticks, stones and their fists, assaulted the two car men. Hurled to the floor of their car the two men attempted to cover their heads while the infuriated mob showered them with kicks. The police who arrived shortly after the accident drove the mob from their prey and took the two men to the Receiving Hospital.

Motorman Johnson was treated for a fracture of the nose, concussion of the brain, lacerations of the scalp and bruises and lacerations of the body. The conductor suffered many bruises and lacerations but was not seriously injured. Schiffler

ADVENTISTS RELIEVE ILLS.

Hospital Work Extolled at Big Camp Meeting.

Elder Dwells on Cause of Woe and its Cure.

Last Services at Tent City Tomorrow.

The Loma Linda Medical College of the Seventh-day Adventists, with which is affiliated the White Memorial Hospital, at Boyle and Michigan avenues, has grown so rapidly within the last few years, that while four years ago five students entered the freshman class, this year sixty-four have applied to enter, according to Dr. Percy T. Magan, of Los Angeles, who is in charge of the White Hospital, and who spoke yesterday afternoon before a large audience at the Adventist camp-meeting at Melrose and Western avenues, Hollywood.

Dr. Magan spoke also of the high record maintained by students of the medical school, and told of the large amount of charity work being done by the hospital dispensary. He said that last year 18,032 patient visits were received by the clinical section and that this year the number has doubled, so that between 100 and 150 patient visits a day are now being received.

Elder J. W. Christian, of Glendale, president of the Pacific Union Conference, said there is a vast difference between saying prayers and talking with God. So many people make the sins of others an excuse for their own wrong-doing, he said. "But we never can reach heaven because of either the goodness or the wrongs of other people."

That heaven itself was the scene of the first war ever fought in the universe, and that Christ and Satan were the leaders of the opposing forces, consisting of millions of powerful angels, was the declaration of Elder Fred C. Gilbert, quoting Revelation, 12:7. He said that all the woe, and misery in this world have come because Lucifer wanted to have his own way and usurp Christ's place. God, he said, expelled the rebel leader, and ever since he has warred upon the world.

"The law of God is perfect," said the elder. "It is a great mirror which reveals the defects in men's characters. But a mirror cannot cleanse a man's face. It can only reveal the dirt, and water to do that, and is the cleansing agent offered by the gospel. The mirror shows his guilt by comparing him with the law, comes to Christ, and finding and with his sins covered again looks at the law which declares him to be in harmony with itself.

"The great cure for the ills and lawlessness today is the study of God's law, and obedience through the spiritual strength of Jesus Christ can give. But this must be done individually. No one cannot be saved en masse."

Sabbath school will be held in the camp ground this morning. At 11 a.m., Elder Christian will speak. At 3 p.m. the meeting will be Elder Gilbert. At 8 o'clock tonight Elder Elbridge Adams, missionary from the Philippines, who is now on furlough, will speak in the big pavilion.

Tomorrow is the last day of the big camp meeting. Regular services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 and 8 p.m. with the people's meeting at 6 p.m.

HOFFMAN SOON TO LEAVE FOR EAST.

BUT TRIP TO ENGLAND TO TAKE CHARGE OF STUDIO IS DELAYED.

Owing to certain delays in building operations in the London studio of the Famous Players-Lasky British Producers Ltd., Milton E. Hoffman, who is to assume the general management of these studios, will not be required to take active hold until November 1, it is announced.

Pending this, Jesse L. Lasky has wired Mr. Hoffman at the Lasky studio, to come on to New York to assist in the organization of the International Film Corporation studios, affiliated with the Famous Players-Lasky, in the releasing of Cosmopolitan pictures.

For this reason the genial general manager at Lasky's is making every effort, in view of the strike, to leave Sunday or Monday for the eastern metropolis.

Upon Mr. Hoffman's departure Charles Eyton will assume the general management of both the Lasky and Morosco studios, and act as western representative of the company's interests on the Coast. Fred Kley will become studio manager at Lasky and Frank E. Garbutt at the Morosco studio.

HOW HAYAKAWA KEEPS IN TRIM.

Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese screen star, whose picture, "The Gray Horizon," is showing at Clune's Broadway, believes in keeping physically fit, and to do this he depends largely upon a stationary bicycle. In fact he has two such vehicles. One bicycle on a frame he keeps in his attic, while another is in his dressing-room at the studio. Each morning before breakfast he rides a distance of ten miles, gauging his constitutional by a cyclometer.

Hayakawa declares that if every man would use a stationary bicycle in his home an hour a day the condition known as "high blood pressure" would disappear from medical problems.

"Blood pressure is a condition due to a sluggish circulation," asserts the famous Japanese star. "What we all need is brisk exercise for a certain period each day. The stationary bicycle is the best means I know of for securing this."

But Hayakawa is equally interested in keeping mentally fit as he is in keeping physically fit. The best gymnastics he has found for developing the brain power is a study of languages. He has already mastered some six of these, which is proof that he has an agile brain. He speaks Russian, French, English, Spanish, Italian and his own native language with fluency.

In order that her presence may burst upon you like a glorious sunrise, we will absolutely withhold the name of the wonderful girl star who portrays the role of "The Virtuous Thief" in the photo-drama of that title which commences an indefinite run Monday, until the newspapers of Tuesday, September 2nd. Those visiting Grauman's Monday, will, of course, find out for themselves.

HUN SUBMARINE AT SAN DIEGO.

Captured U-Boat to Arrive Here Early Next Week. This is Home Port.

The captured German submarine U-88, that will tour the Pacific Coast and then be put out of commission and berthed permanently at Los Angeles Harbor, arrived yesterday morning at San Diego and is expected here late Monday or early Tuesday.

The U-boat is 156 feet long and armed with four torpedo tubes and a six-inch gun. She is known to have destroyed at least sixteen Allied vessels during the war.

In command of Lieutenant-Commander Nielson, she has been sent by the Navy Department to visit Pacific Coast ports, partly to advertise the new Southern States ship canal. She carries a bale of cotton consigned to Mary Pickford, who will auction it for charity.

BAVARIAN DIPLOMAT TELLS GERMAN GUILT.

"INVESTIGATE OUR PART IN WORLD BRUTALIZING PROCESS," HE SAYS.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

BERLIN, July 24.—Prof. F. W. Forester, Bavarian Minister to Switzerland, recommends an "honest national self-indictment" for the Germans. Writing in the Tageblatt on the questions of war guilt and the conduct of the war, he says:

"We must investigate our own part in this world brutalizing process quite as much as we should our opponents abroad. Not until then are we able to understand the Paris decision as the tragic result of our own national guilt. The ruthless cruelty with which we were treated we ourselves practiced in the occupied territory.

"Whoever has the slightest conception of the rigorous measures we adopted in the treatment of prisoners and the systematic destruction of industrial plants and the deportation of thousands of young girls will readily understand the resentment of the French people.

"We must be perfectly clear in our own minds in respect of our own guilt if we are to be born again nationally. We must always remember that, while the whole world is practicing the politics of might, we on the other hand have systematized the politics of might and elevated it to a new political philosophy."

EVERYBODY KNEW IT.

He is a very facetious young man who has paid court to a Hoosier school teacher several years. Now he has formed the habit of often coming after her in his machine, and while he waits for her he amuses himself by teasing the boys. Recently one of the boys reminded him of a promise he had made to take them riding. "Aren't you ever going to do it?" demanded the boy.

"Oh, of course—some day," laughed the man. "Didn't you fellows know that I was a regular shark at putting off things?"

The boy was provoked. "Yes, we know it, and so does Miss W—." He gave the other boys a significant look. "If you weren't that we'd have a new teacher some day."—[Indianapolis News.

BRIDE ALLEGED MOTOR BANDIT.

Girl Held as Accomplice of Suspected Husband.

While He's Jailed in North as Leader of Gang.

Tale Told of Surgery with Penknife After Shot.

Willis Edgar Carter, 21 years of age, alleged by the local police to be the leader of a desperate gang of automobile bandits, and who escaped from arrest August 5 after having been shot by Detective McCarron of the Boyle Heights police, was arrested yesterday at Portland, Or., according to telegraphic information received at the police detective bureau last night. Immediately after receipt of the news Detective Sergeants Beaumont and Roberts went to a candy factory at Sixth and Los Angeles streets and arrested Carter's bride of two weeks, Florence Clanathan Carter, who later said her husband deserted her a few days after their marriage at Santa Barbara, the 16th inst.

According to the telegram from the northern city, Carter was driving a stolen Cadillac car at the time of his arrest. It is believed by the police to be the machine in which he fled from Los Angeles.

In a statement to the officers Mrs. Carter, who is charged with suspicion of grand larceny and is alleged by the police to have been Carter's active accomplice, said her husband told her he had been shot during a fight between two pals in a house at 116 North Avenue 37, where three of Carter's alleged accomplices were arrested a few hours after his escape, and a large quantity of stolen auto accessories found. She also said that two days after he was wounded her husband, while on the State Highway, extracted the bullet from his thigh with a penknife.

Mrs. Carter has been making her home since being deserted by Carter at 1015 North Central avenue, Glendale. When she applied for her old positon as candy maker, the information was sent to the detective bureau and an officer was detailed to shadow her in an effort to locate her bandit husband.

According to the police, Carter is considered the most desperate and dangerous criminal in Southern California since the death of Dale Jones. Charges of highway robbery, grand larceny and burglary are against him. He will be immediately reurned to this city to stand trail, an officer having left last night to bring him from Portland.

URGE NEW FLAG FOR BRITAIN.

"Britain has no national flag," says Admiral Sir Charles Dundas in the course of his appeal for an ensign to represent universally Britain and the British empire.

"There is the white ensign of the British navy; the red ensign of the mercantile marine; what the blue ensign represents nobody seems to know, but nevertheless there is one. The Royal Air Force has chosen a blue and white ensign. This completes the series of ensigns, and we now descend to common flags. First of all comes the Union Jack, which is a combination of the flags of England, Ireland and Scotland. Then there are the flags of the dominions and colonies, which present a formidable array of color.

Sir Charles, continuing, says the ideal national flags are the French Tricolor and the Stars and Stripes.—[Norman Watson, in Cincinnati Times-Star.

Playing Safe.

SPEED UP MAIL SERVICE.

Double Crews of Postal Clerks to Go on All Outgoing Trains Today.

At the offices of the railway mail service last night, Chief Clerks F. I. R. Moore and Charles Rager were indulging the hope that traffic, so far as transportation of the mail is concerned, will be resumed this morning. "We are watching and waiting," said Mr. Rager.

In a general way, it was said that the local situation was well covered, but that there had been trouble getting mail either to or from Phoenix, Tucson and Yuma, involving the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railway lines. There has been much difficulty in securing the services of drivers of auto trucks to make the long, hot journey over the desert, as it was necessary to do that leg of the trip in the night to avoid the heat.

But arrangements have now been made, and if there is not a general resumption of the mail service this morning, motor trucks will start from Los Angeles to these points, and return with mail for this city and points north.

Mail is being taken to Yermal by truck, and also to Needles, where connection is made with the Santa Fe and Salt Lake lines.

Orders have been dispatched, in case traffic is resumed this morning, to send double crews of postal clerks on all out-going trains, so that the mail can be expeditiously worked. These men will meet incoming trains, and with the crew already on these trains a double service will be inaugurated by some of the outgoing crews on the return being added to these trains.

NO PACIFIC ELECTRIC DELAY.

There has been no delay in the delivery of mail by the Pacific Electric and motor trucks to near-by points within a radius of fifty miles of Los Angeles, and it will be still further improved if the emergency continues to exist. Every hour sees an improvement in the service, and in nearly every instance the schedules are nearly normal.

Railway mail officials declare that if the embargo is lifted this morning it will be several days before regular conditions are fully restored, even if every striker returns to work. In the meantime excellent service has been rendered in the way of handling the schedules, every hour since the declaration of the strike being utilized to that end.

The first overland mail that has reached Los Angeles since last Monday came in yesterday by truck from Needles, where the crew that had accompanied it to that point had abandoned the transcontinental train.

Assistant Postmaster Foster yesterday received word from Needles that there were two or three tons of Los Angeles mail at that place, and arrangements were at once made by Chief Clerks Moore and Rager to bring it here by trucks.

O'ER DESERT BY TRUCK.

For twenty-four hours without stopping—save for water or gasoline—a big truck plowed its way across the desert and boulevards to Los Angeles from Needles, arriving here just at dawn yesterday morning. By noon the big accumulation of letters and newspapers from the East had been distributed, and by last evening it was all served to patrons throughout the city.

It was reported that somewhere between Fresno and Los Angeles ten big army trucks were last night trying to negotiate the journey, the machines being loaded with tons of letters from San Francisco and the north. Five trucks, loaned to the Los Angeles Postoffice for the period of the strike, left San Francisco by the coast route, the other five by the valley route. There were scores of cities and towns along the route to be supplied by this mode of conveyance. All ten of the fleet are expected in Los Angeles this morning.

Since the tie-up in the railroad yards in San Francisco, the plan of sending eastern mail by steamer to the northern city has been abandoned, and none of it was dispatched yesterday from the railroad stations, where it was allowed to accumulate. It is proposed to send the letter mail East by Pacific Electric cars today to San Bernardino, from whence it will be trucked across the desert to Barstow, in the hope that the steam lines will be available from that point.

The mail for San Francisco went by truck to Santa Barbara yesterday, where it was transferred to the first available northbound train.

FASTEST MILE OF YEAR MADE.

Mignola Wins Second Race of Present Meeting.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Lu Princeton made the fastest mile of the season, equalling his record of 2:02, in winning an exhibition trot from Mabel Trask, also from the Cox stable, at the Grand Circuit races today.

Mignola won his second race of this meeting and his ninth consecutive victory this year when he captured the President stake. Cox took Mignola into the lead at the word in each heat and held command the entire mile. In the last two heats Geers was only a neck back with Don de Lopez, which was the same distance in front of Echo Direct. The times were 2:06½, 2:05 3-4, and 2:07½.

The two-year-old trotting division of the American horsebreeder futurity went to Dudette, property of Frank G. Jones, Memphis. In both heats Geers laid the filly within hailing distance of the leaders to the home stretch and had the speed to win by a close margin from the great Miss Morris in 2:11½ and 2:10 1-4 respectively.

Prince Pepper, owned by D. B. Burnham, of New York, took the first two heats of the 2:17 pace in 2:12 3-4 and 2:09 1-4. The final heat Hyde was pocketed and in the last eighth Murphy went to the front with Clifford Direct in 2:08 2-4.

Murphy piloted Dr. Nick, owned by A. H. Cosden, of Southold, N. Y., to victory in the 2:24 trot, and to a record of 2:07 3-4 in each of the first two heats. McDonald took the last heat with Baron Cegantle by a few inches from Frank Watts in 2:07¼. The summaries:

FRENCH TO GIVE UP ARMY HEADQUARTERS.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

PARIS, July 30.—The general headquarters of the French army, established August 2, 1914, at Vitry le Francois, soon will be discontinued after five years of varying fortunes, vicissitudes, reverses and victories. It will now be superseded by the old French Supreme War Council, with headquarters at the military school in Paris.

Marshal Petain, it is understood, will drop the title of commander-in-chief to take that of chief of staff, which Joffre held at the beginning of the war.

HAPPY ENDING TO WAR FEUD IN TROPICAL ISLE.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

PAPEETE (Tahiti) July 1 (by mail.)—Traditional South Sea hospitality ended a feud between Papeete veterans of the world war and their cousins, Paupans, from the island of New Caledonia, when a steamer recently brought the soldiers home from Europe.

Resentment engendered while the Tahitians were training at Noumea, capital of New Caledonia, in 1914, smouldered throughout the war and threatened an eruption when New Caledonians should land on the shores of Papeete. It was typical of the islander, however, that when the troopship El Kantara stopped here the Tahitians should forget their resentment and welcome their erstwhile enemies to the gorgeous festival prepared for their home-coming.

Officers had a great deal of difficulty rounding up New Caledonian soldiers, who had gone inland, hoping they would be forgotten and left behind. A few did elude their officers and still are on the island.

Stanford Folows Eastern Lead.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNVERSITY, Aug. 29.—Conforming to the policy laid down by eastern universities, Stanford has divided the economics and poltical science departments, creating a separate department for the teaching of Political Science. Professor Victor J. West, former professor at the University of Chicago, has been appointed head of the new department, and Professor E. G. Cottrell has been secured from Chio State to assist him.

STRENGTHEN AIR BORDER PATROLS

De Haviland Fours Placed at Strategic Points.

Personnel Includes 77 Officers and 411 Men.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The United States Army air service now has 159 airplanes on the Mexican border with seventy-seven officers and 411 enlisted men of that service ready for action.

The planes are all De Havilland 4's and all are now reported to be in condition for border patrol duty. The majority of them are equipped with Martin and Lewis machine guns, radio apparatus and bomb racks.

The disposition of the aero squadrons on duty and in reserve was announced by the air service as follows:

NUMBER OF HEADQUARTERS.

Duty, reserve surveillance; squadrons, 2; at San Antonio; in reserve.

DEFEAT CABRERA PLAY.

Officials here were interested today in the action of the Mexican Supreme Court in rejecting the motion of Luis Cabrera, Secretary of the Treasury, that the Ampuro cases brought by American oil companies at the suggestion of the State Department be detained.

Reports from Mexico City indicate that the court's decision has been popularly approved in Mexico.

Advices received quote the Mexico City Excelsior as saying editorially:

"If we were the Supreme Court we would know how to answer this attempted threat. We would answer Luis Cabrera as follows:

"Questions relating to the public welfare belong to the jurisdiction of the public legislature. The exclusive duty is to see that the law is applied and to guarantee individual and collective security within its proper sphere and in compliance with the laws in force. We, the judicial branch of the government, have no other mission than that of administering justice, administering it without regard to person, to Alexander on his throne as well as to Job sitting by the roadside.

PROMISE QUESTIONED.

"You say that the laws to be discussed and passed will guarantee all vested interests and put an end to the present controveries. You say that the Amparos to be granted, if they are granted, may hamper the laws guaranteeing these rights which we have protected. But who will guarantee to us that these laws which you, the executive, promise will be as effective a guarantee as the Amparos which we consider it just and right to grant?

"That if we expedite a decision we will decide the amparo without any law on which to rest our decision is a surprising statement from a lawyer. The constitution is all that we need on which to rest our decision. If the law regulating it conforms to the constitution the basis for our decision will not be the law to give effect to the constitutional provision but the constitution itself. On the other hand if it does not conform to the constitution it is our sacred duty to grant amparo to any one who seeks such protection."

URGES INTERVENTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Aug. 29.—Intervention in Mexico and the adoption of the League of Nations "to make the world safe for American citizens," were urged by Gov. Hobby of Texas, in a speech made tonight at a dinner given in his honor by friends here.

"It seems reasonable to expect that our neighbors, the Mexicans, should respect us and, as the world war is over and practically all of our combat divisions are at home again, those in authority, if they see fit, are well able to adopt and carry out a policy that should bring about favorable and happy results," Maj.-Gen. Robert L. Howze, who arrived here late today to assume command of the border, announced in a written statement made public tonight.

"This policy should bring about favorable results as far as concerns, first, our own interests and those of our friends, subjects of Great Britain and France, who have vast property holdings in Mexico; and secondly, as far as concerns Mexico in stabilizing or in establishing a livable form of government," Gen. Howze added.

PERSONNEL STRONG.

"We are living in a time too far advanced for the world to tolerate any but livable forms of government wherever civilized people may choose to live.

"Fortunately, American military matters on the border are in the very best hands, those of Maj.-Gen. Dickman at San Antonio, who in turn is backed up by our strong Chief of Staff, Gen. March."

Gen. Howze came direct from New York, arriving there Sunday from the occupied area of Germany, where he commanded the Third Division on the Rhine. He formerly commanded this district.

He relieved Brig.-Gen. Erwin, who returns to his pre-war rank of colonel, September 1.

OBJECTS TO PATROL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 29.—J. J. Kilpatrick of Candelaria, Tex., today requested Maj.-Gen. J. T. Dickman, Southern Department commander, to withdraw American troops stationed at Candelaria, claiming their presence caused friction between Americans and Mexicans.

No Churches in Powder River.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

BUTTE, Aug. 15.—The section of Montana from which the fighting Ninety-first Division of the army took its battle cry, "Powder River, let 'er buck," has not been scratched by religion, according to the Rev. B. H. Lingenfelter of Butte, who toured the Powder River section in Southeastern Montana without being able to find a single church. The all Protestant Home Mission, it was announced, will urge the establishment of a church in the Powder River country.

VETERAN OF DIAZ WAR DIES FROM CAMPAIGN.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Aug. 23.—B. Hone, veteran of two revolutions, physician, miner and ranch owner, died recently at his home in Agua Prieta, Sonora, just across the international boundary from Douglas. Death was caused by illness contracted while campaigning in Southern Sonora against Yaqui Indians with the Mexican Federal forces.

Dr. Hone was born in Germany, but came to the United States with his parents when he was 5 years old. More than forty years ago he entered Mexico, and shortly afterward settled at Bavispe, in Eastern Sonora. When Porfirio Diaz began his last and successful revolution Hone served with him as surgeon and as a major.

Six years ago the elderly surgeon joined the ranks of the Constitutionalist army, where he served until his death.

Dr. Hone was married three times, each of his brides being a member of the distinguished Samaniego family of Sonora. Thirty-six years ago he married Miss Rita Samaniego, who died two years later, leaving one son, Dr. George Hone, Jr., of Agua Prieta. Three years later Dr. Hone married Miss Amelia Samaniego, the sister of his former wife. Fifteen years ago the second wife died, and three years later Dr. Hone married Miss Maria Samaniego, a cousin of his two former brides, who survives with their three children.

MEXICAN EXCURSIONS FOR BELGIAN REFUGEES

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 6.—The newspaper Excelsior says it learned officially that Mexican consuls in the principal European capitals have been instructed to give all possible aid to prospective immigrants and that during the month of September "excursions" will be run from both Germany and Belgium.

The Secretary of Agriculture told El Excelsior that the Japanese about whose alleged colonization schemes there have been so many rumors, would be admitted on equal footing with other foreigners.

THEIR OWN KIND.

Those railroad Socialists who think that private capital can be extinguished with a few scattering remarks forget that half the railway securities are held by people of modest means.

WHAT'S THE ODDS?

Strikers in America are now losing more than two million dollars a day in wages and incidentally boosting the high cost of living for others a few millions more. But look at the fun they are having!

BOTTLED FINANCE.

If the government wants to take over the supply of warehouse whisky at the price it went into bond and then apportion it to be sold at auction in different States it would be possible to pay off quite a slice of the national debt.

TRANSPORTATION.

It is hoped that when the President visits Southern California next month he will not have to walk. It would seem that a government-operated railroad ought to be able to haul as much of the government as is represented in the person of our noble Executive.

ARE STRIKES CRIMINAL?

Discussion in the American Bar Association of the enactment of a law to make strikes criminal indicates the drift of public opinion. The day has passed when a striker can be considered a hero. He is supposed to be either foolish or a firebrand and the people are becoming disposed to take steps accordingly.

COME ON, YOU SUCCOR!

The poor railroad men went on a strike because they were afraid that some of the naughty men who stayed on their jobs might hurt them! Isn't it awful how these wicked workers pursue the peaceful, kindly strikers and slap them on the wrist? Will no one save these gentle and inoffensive strikers from the malignant men who selfishly keep on working for their wives and families?

THE BITER BIT.

What do the unions mean by having a railroad strike just as half a dozen carloads of beer were knocking at the gates of the city? Have the walking delegates lost their reason—or their thirst? Would they palsy transportation just as a carload or so of foaming lager was about to enter our midst? Have they no mercy on our midst? Doesn't the brotherhood scent treason in its own camp?

THE TIE THAT BINDS.

During the visit of Gen. Pershing at Rome the leading newspaper organ of the government declared that the United States and Italy were bound together by ties of indissoluble friendship. That wasn't the way they were talking in Rome at the time American sentiment as to the disposition of Fiume was made known. Probably the Italians want some more money as another "indissoluble tie."

FAILS AT THE TEST.

The railroads entering Los Angeles are operating under government control. So far as the casual public is concerned they are as much the property of the government as are the postoffices and the customhouses. Government ownership could hardly go further. The employees of the railroads are chiefly in four general classes, or "brotherhoods." These unions are under contract, both with the original companies and with the government. The men agree to perform their specific duties for a determined wage. They expressly agree not to engage in a strike. The public understands that the constitution and policy of the railway brotherhoods are specifically opposed to the sympathetic strike.

But what is disclosed?

When the test comes the railway lines operating under the "open shop" plan deliver the goods. They furnish a service.

But the service of the government-operated lines collapses completely. Much property is lost and hundreds might be left to perish. The "brotherhoods" show themselves to be brother of the wolf. They repudiate their contracts and agreements and defy not only their own leaders, but the government. Every trial of government operation of railways shows that when an emergency comes it is helplessly inefficient. Every test of a union contract seems to prove it valueless. The unions are exacting: they expect the other side of the agreement to be fulfilled to the uttermost, but their own obligation is a rope of sand. If the business world repudiated its agreements with the insolent ease of the labor union such a thing as commercial honor would be unknown.

Through incompetent and incendiary leadership the dignity and standards of American workmanship have been immeasurably marred. The closed shop has closed the door to the mutual confidence which existed between the employer and employed. It would replace it with a game of goudge, in which each side grasps all it can and gives as little as possible.

YES, ALL STRIKES FAIL IN LOS ANGELES.

As this edition of The Times goes to press the general strike situation is clearing up. Most of the striking trainmen on the steam lines have voted to return to work and cars will start moving this morning in accordance with the United States government programme. There probably will be some recalcitrants, but that will make no difference. The strong arm of Uncle Sam will control, and the trains will be running as he has ordered. The attempt of the trainmen to isolate Los Angeles, terrorize the public and defy the government that is backed by 100,000,000 people, has proven a monstrous fiasco.

Los Angeles has fully sustained its reputation as the cradle of industrial freedom. Not a single door of her open-shop industries has been closed by the series of strikes planned by the imported agitators of the "radical left" of the labor unions. As far as the Pacific Electric Railway is concerned there is no strike now. Its cars are manned by loyal, well-paid and well-satisfied men who are not compelled to offer tribute to exercise as a privilege their right to labor. The company has formally announced that it has not, and will not, recede one step from its advanced position of operating an open-shop industry. Some of its former employees have torn up their brotherhood cards and resumed their places in the ranks of independent workmen. Never again will they put their faith in the barren promises of irresponsible agitators. For them the "one big union" is that which has for its emblem the American flag. Others are still clinging to the idea, preached by the radical agitators, "better a traitor to one's country than a traitor to one's class"; and are seeking to foment elsewhere the discord that led to the Pacific Electric strike.

No great difficulty was experienced by the Los Angeles Railway in dealing with the strike situation on its lines. Not more than one-third of the trainmen obeyed the strike order; the shopmen remained in their places and the company secured enough extra men within three days to restore normal service during the daylight hours. Ruffians sought to disorganize its service after dark by hurling stones through car windows, and in order to protect both the public and the trainmen, the company discontinued temporarily night service. This will be resumed as soon as the danger of violence passes. There is no strike on the Los Angeles Railway now. Its men are all satisfied.

Last and most disastrous to its participants of all the strike movements in Los Angeles is that which now passes into history. It has failed, like all those that have gone before, because strikes and boycotts cannot succeed in an atmosphere of industrial freedom. There is not sufficient fuel here on which agitators can feed. There are no sweatshops, few underpaid workmen and no tenements. The employer feels that his workmen are worthy of their hire; and the employees know that they are as well paid as workmen in similar crafts anywhere in the country, that the cost of living is less here than in any other great American city, and that working conditions approach the ideal. The only thing which the agitator has to offer is to replace present conditions with a dictatorship of the proletariat, as a kind of annex to soviet Russia. For such goods he finds in Southern California no market.

When the brotherhood men deserted their posts of duty a week ago and sought to isolate Southern California from the rest of the country The Times said editorially that their strike was certain to fail, because it was based on a misconception of the economic and industrial conditions in Los Angeles. Had the brotherhood men then read and reflected on the advice The Times was offering, in place of vilifying the paper and its publishers, they would not find themselves in the humiliating position they occupy today. The following paragraph, taken from that editorial, obtains an added force in the light of what has transpired since it was written:

> So long as Southern California industry is sound within it cannot be struck down from without. There are more than 100,000 workmen employed in Southern California today who came here to escape the gyves of labor servitude elsewhere. They have paid tribute to union-labor bosses; they have given up lucrative positions in the past, having no personal grievance, but throwing down their tools at the orders of some nonresident radical agitator. They have seen their women and children a-hungered because they were forbidden to take the labor offered them. And they came to Southern California because here labor and industry are free; because they can work where they will and when they will without asking of Sam Gompers or some other union-labor boss as a privilege that which is their right.

For twenty-five years workmen have flocked here because it is a free city. They have found the freedom they sought and they are not now inclined to offer again their wrists to the shackles. A generation of workmen has been born and reared who have never in their lives paid a dollar in tribute for the privilege of holding a job. "Live and let live" expresses the spirit of mutual co-operation that exists between the employer and the employee. Under such conditions servitude cannot thrive.

The radical leaders are so many little Canutes who imagine they can command the tides of the great sea of modern industry. Their attempt will prove as futile as one who would stop up the mouth of a kettle to check the escaping steam.

As the storms precipitated by the series of strikes pass, the industrial atmosphere in Southern California is brightened and purified. The shipyard strike failed; the telephone strike failed; the electrical strike failed, and now the three railway strikes have failed. Workmen employed in other industries know that it is not necessary to pay tribute to walking delegates in order to secure permanent employment at good wages. They know that all the unions combined are not strong enough to close a single open-shop industry in Southern California. Employers know that there are enough loyal, independent and patriotic workmen in Southern California to sustain any industry attacked by strikes and boycotts. Never in its history have the fires of industrial freedom burned more brightly than on the present morning when the beaten members of the brotherhoods go back to their old jobs and the boycott which aimed to "wipe Los Angeles off the map" is lifted.

The Times trusts that the lessons taught by the collapse of the railway strikes will not be lost on the country at large. Los Angeles has demonstrated that an American community, filled with public-spirited citizens, can exercise self-determination in industry as well as in affairs of political government. From the beginning, the weight of public opinion was against the strikers. They were coddled by two radical newspapers, the Herald and the Examiner; but the influence of those publications did not extend outside the ranks of the radicals. The spirit of the community as a whole was adamant against the fomenters of strife and violence. The "sympathetic strike" created no more sympathy than was awakened for Germany in neutral countries by the torpedoing of the Lusitania.

Director-General Hines deserves for the stand which he took the commendation due to every man who does his duty in a time of crisis. President Wilson deserves equal commendation; for Mr. Hines stated in declaring that the trains would resume operation at 7 o'clock this morning, and whoever interfered with their operation would do so at his peril, that "THE PRESIDENT HAS SO INSTRUCTED." Strikers who had been crying "scab" at the loyal employees of the Pacific Electric Railway and at the management suddenly became dumb. For they were told in effect that the President would not hesitate to use what the strikers term "scabs" to operate the government railways. It is well to remember that the words "Yankee" and "Uncle Sam" were originally coined as epithets of scorn and reproach to be addressed to the first Americans, to the men whom the world now revores as founders of liberty.

And The Times sincerely hopes that the stand taken by the President and Mr. Hines will mark the end in all administrative circles to the truckling to labor agitators and walking delegates. There have already been too many surrenders to the extortionate demands of groups of employees who threatened to paralyze the industries of the country if their terms were not accepted. The whole trend of radical unionism since the beginning of the war has been toward industrial anarchy. There has been a desperate attempt on the part of the radicals to capture the union organizations. The Times has always held that the radicals were in a minority, even in the unions; and that there were enough loyal and honest members of the labor unions to cleanse the organizations of that disrupting and disreputable element. We trust that the brotherhoods, and the labor unions generally, will begin a fall housecleaning that will rid their organizations of the Bolshevists. If they fail to do so the union organizations will not long survive.

FOR A REGULAR ARMY.

Suppose somebody should offer you a trip to Europe, Alaska, Asia or Hawaii free of cost. Assume that he should agree to clothe and board you, to furnish sleeping quarters, teach you a trade and pay you substantially for accepting his generosity. Would you go?

That is precisely what the United States Army is offering the young men of Southern California and of all the country today. With this proposition open to every able-bodied citizen of military age the army needs some 100,000 takers by the end of September. And it is finding the youth of the country remarkably coy.

The fault does not lie with the army or with the worth of the opportunity for travel and improvement it has to offer. The plain fact is that the army is in large sense a victim of a well-known and often-demonstrated kink in human nature.

After every war, it would seem, nothing should be more abundant than soldiers. But, as every recruiting officer knows, the reverse is quite the case.

With the average man just out of the army a uniform is about as popular as a safety razor at a darktown picnic. He has a lot of reasons to offer in regard to his aversion for everything military, but few of them quite sincere. The proof is that in many cases the former soldier is back in a month or three months or six months picking an acquaintance with the recruiting sergeant and listening for the dulcet strains of "chow" call.

After the Philippine campaigning the United States Army was well-nigh denuded of personnel. Many a formerly-burning patriot came home full of experience and an adamantine determination to get out of the service and stay out. He got out, in the regular course of things, but in many and many a case he did not stay out. At that time there was no cloud on the national horizon and the army could afford to wait, and did wait, for the natural reaction and rebuilding of the ranks.

But just now, with certain small odds and ends of trouble lying around the world, threatening to grow up into real he-troubles, it is not felt that the army can wait to drag through a slow period of rehabilitation. We need the military establishment provided for by law and we don't need it next year or in the next generation. Certain gentlemen at Washington, who probably know why, want our Regular Army of 225,000 kept at full strength. And that can be done only by getting enlistments right now.

By September 30 all emergency men will be out of the service. Moreover, the enlistment periods of many professional soldiers are expiring every day. Since last March, when the recruiting drive began, 100,000 new enlistments have been secured.

The present movement is not for a great military machine. It is only to re-establish the army of authorized strength of 225,000 that we had before the war.

Elements of this army are in Europe, Siberia, Alaska, the Canal Zone, Hawaii and at home. The ranks must be filled and to fill them the government is offering inducements never before proffered to a private soldier in the world's history.

Not only does the high pay scale of the war period remain—the highest pay by far that soldiers have ever received—but stranger yet, the individual soldier is made largely an arbiter of his own fate.

Men with former army experience may enlist for one year or three years as they choose.

They and the raw recruit, who must enlist for three years, may choose, practically without restraint, the branch of the service they will enter and where they will serve.

This means that they may elect branches, such as the motor transport and the Signal Corps, that offer splendid opportunities to learn useful trades and may then choose whether they shall "see America first" or a bit of Asia or the islands of the Pacific or the wonders of the Canal Zone. It means a year or so of travel, self-improvement, body-building and real service at a scale of pay that allows of useful saving.

The trenches are past and the "cootie" is vanquished. The hardships are gone. But the real opportunities in the army remain and they are certainly worth serious consideration and more.

Why is it that stage manners are seldom what the world would call good manners? In these days the manners of the stage are merely guesswork. The ideal of style in modern comedy was Charles Coghlan. Too many actors wear a dress suit as if they were waiters. They enter drawing-rooms as if they were prize fighters; they are too fond of thrusting their hands into their pockets. In love scenes they are veritable cave men. Their affected ease is merely a want of ease. The average leading man seems to know nothing of society.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH?

Prof. Ding Beeson was telling
At the dinner-table how in ancient times unscrupulous prelates
Used to lay a community under an Interdict for something some member of the community had done or Hadn't done and how grain and
Fruit might rot in their fields
And yet they could not dispose of
It to their neighbors because of
The Interdict, and how on the other hand the neighbors might have
The food and the Interdicted ones
Starve for lack of it, and how
Their families might sicken and
Die without being able to secure
The doctor's care or the clergy's
Comfort, and the Lowbrow who sits
At the other end of the table spoke
Up and said: "I think they ought To let Wilson settle it," and the Prof ask him what he was talking about and he said, "The same Thing as you I suppose,
The Switchmen's Strike."

THREL FALL.

Possibly Congress is waiting until prices drop before acting upon the peace treaty. In that case the country is likely to be too weak to utter more than a feeble note of approval.

It looks as if things were being made just as interesting for the President in Washington as they were in Paris.

COVENANT ASTROLOGY.

Signs at the Signing of the World War Peace.

The rising sign for this covenant is Scorpio. It is the strongest of the watery signs which are the weakest of the signs. Mars (war planet) is in eighth house (house of death;) he, being ruler, denotes danger of long illness or death. It, however, has the support of most planets with good aspects and may grow strong and live for years.

The moon in progress passes over all planets except the sun, Mars (ruler) and Uranus the first three years. The third year it becomes very ill and may become paralyzed as the moon is in conjunction with Saturn and in opposition to Uranus in fourth house. After this crisis has passed it can gain and become strong and powerful in action. This good period will continue until the year 1931. During this year the Moon has progressed to the opposition of Mars, the ruler. This indication is fraud as Mars is in Mercury's (Gemini) sign. This sign rules the United States. All sorts of passions are created under this influence, even to war. Fires and probably famine are due at this time. The moon at this time has the support of Venus (peace-maker) from mid-heaven, and from Jupiter, whose sign she is passing through; he was exalted at birth. This good planet Jupiter, in conjunction with Mercury at birth, should give the best of laws that can be expected from such a restless people. Mercury rules the eleventh house, the house of friends, legislature and wishes; these laws are worthy of use in all such things as is indicated by the houses which have planets in them.

The ninth house is a weak one, astrologically speaking. It holds most of the planets and is the house of travel, invention, science, religion, shipping and moving from place to place. The moon is in her own house, she rules the common people, especially elderly women. Also many of the watery products. She is swift in motion and in a movable sign which will cause many changes for the good of this covenant. This planet is nearest to the sun and precedes it. Therefore, with Mercury and Jupiter in this house, peace has a support to uphold the laws created. Jupiter rules the church, senate and financial world.

With fixed signs on the angles in the chart of the covenant, its home will seldom be changed. A change should be made in location while it is young. The planet Uranus is in the fourth house in opposition to Saturn and Venus in tenth. There can be no peace and rest while in the place of birth. This fourth house is domestic; it shows conditions at the close of life, the end of undertakings. This planet in fourth shows a hard death.

The seventh house is important, it has to do with marriage, partnership, law, contracts, open enemies and dealing with other nations. It has no planets in it. It is ruled by Venus, the good lady of peace. She also rules twelfth house, which means no secret enemies. Her influences will nurse and doctor the covenant as she calls for peace. This good lady ruler of seventh house is conjoined in tenth house with the evil planet Saturn; therefore, this covenant will not be without trouble in these undertakings. It is best that nothing be added or taken away from the covenant. Let it rest and grow strong, for changes in these will give room for envy and malice. The countries ruled by Taurus and Capricorn will be most eager to give offense. Ireland, Persia, Poland, Asia Minor, Grecian Archipelago, Cyprus and White Russia come under the rule of Taurus, ruled by Venus. India, Circan, Afghanistan, Macedonia, Albania, Bosnia, Bulgaria, Greece, Saxony, Mecklenburg, Mexico and Lithuania come under Capricorn, ruled by Saturn. These two planets in tenth (house of honor, fame, trade, affairs of the government) are sure to cause disturbances when evil planets transect the place they held at birth.

The trade and occupation indicated from this sign Leo and tenth house, which has Venus and Saturn therein, shall in general comprise such things as need fire. Most all articles of food grown under and above ground, meats, fish, dairy products, farming, mining to some extent, especially coal, lead and gems. All kinds of leather. Various kinds of waterways. These combined with the many influences from the ninth house will bring into action the greatest transfer and commercial trade the world has ever known. The moon in ninth will influence liquids, fish, mail carrying and messengers, washing and cleaning products. She is the planet that creates travel by water.

One of the best things about this covenant is that all but one planet was above the earth when birth came. The sun is life giver and has a good aspect to the ascendant, which gives it strength to ward off most evil. The house should face the north in which it is kept. Let all be mindful, too, that the governments own as little property as can be. Make the good laws for the people and allow them to do the business.

Chains Useless.

Bishop Flipper said in an address at Atlanta:

"A colored chaplain was addressing a squad of colored men back of Bar-le-Duc.

"'Boys,' he said, 'Satan is powerful, but he is not omnipotent. He is bound with chains, yet he can get at you'—and the chaplain pointed to a Mobile soldier—'and he can get at you'—and he pointed at a soldier from Washington—'and he can get at you'—and he pointed to a soldier from Paint Rock.

"The Paint Rock soldier gave a grunt.

"'Why, boss,' he protested. 'The old cuss might as well be loose.'"—[Washington Star.

Supervisors were firm in their opinion of not turning over the channel-way to the government. If the proposed plan was carried out, declared this plan, it was declared, Long Beach would be turned into Long Beach industrial district. Col. Cogswell said the plan would be satisfactory. The county's plan is to go on Section A.

DAY OF SCRUB SIRE PASSING.

Inferior Cows are no Longer Considered to be Worth Their Keep.

The sun is setting on the unpopular scrub sire as more and more farmers and dairymen come to realize the wastefulness of giving barn space and room at the feeding stalls to animals that do not produce enough to justify their keep. Read the feature article on this important subject in tomorrow's Farm and Tractor Section. Another article that all live-stock men will want to clip and keep is one by the Farm and Tractor field man, H. S. Hoard, on the handling of cows on test for production. These are live and timely topics and they are ably discussed in the big Sunday Times farm department this week.

Fall gardening is something for the householder to be thinking about just now and and a garden authority who knows what he is talking about has some good advice for growers in tomorrow's Farm and Tractor. The same issue features an article on a breed of fowl that is found in the Orient and which it will pay Southern California poultry breeders to investigate. The tractor pages contain the latest reports of the progress being made in the preparations for the forthcoming tractor show. Two rotogravure pages that vie in interest have to do with the conquest of hard soil conditions by blasting and sub-soiling respectively. Hundreds of growers will be interested in these specially illustrated articles.

TWO MEN ROBBED HIM, STUDENT TESTIFIES.

WHILE ONE OF ACCUSED SAYS YOUTH WAS INVEIGLED INTO BUNCO GAME.

Herbert Marino, a student at Stanford University, occupied a stellar role in Justice Brown's court yesterday. He played opposite Herbert Holt and Cassius Mercer, the latter having a string of aliases, and recited an experience he had with the men, the result of which was he lost a $150 stick pin and $50 in cash.

He told the court that while he was waiting for a train to arrive from New Mexico, just before his departure for the university, the 18th inst., Holt approached and asked him for a match. Mercer, he said, sidled up and remarked:

"You had better give us that diamond pin."

A dash was made for the pin, his wallet was grabbed and the men fled, he said, and while he was searching for a policeman they escaped.

Some time later, he said, he encountered Holt on the street and got him into a furniture store. Holt struck him on the jaw and ran. He ran after Holt and while they were pummeling each other, Traffic Officer Fisher made his appearance and arrested Holt. At the Police Station, $49 were found in the bottom of the prisoner's left shoe.

Mercer declared they had inveigled the student into a bunco game, Holt being slated as the sucker. About $100,000 in fake bills and Mexican money was found in his room and offered in evidence. Police officers recovered the stick pin in a pawn shop. Mercer was identified by the pawnbroker as the man who had pawned it.

WOULD RAISE RATES.

Claiming that its present rates are not remunerative because of costly expenditures in improving its plant, the San Fernando Telephone and Telegraph Company has asked the Railroad Commission for authority to increase its rates sufficiently to produce $1032.85 income monthly, as against its present income of $788.60.

PATENT PAVING RESTRICTS BIDS.

Property Owners Ask Change in Specifications.

Royalty-Getters Have Slush Fund, Says Attorney.

City Council Hears Charges, but Defers Action.

The City Council, sitting as the committee of the whole, yesterday afternoon took up the consideration of the proposed changes in specifications for street paving.

A large delegation of members of the Property Owners' Protective League, which is urging that patented paving specifications be excluded, was present, and their spokesmen were L. B. Slauson and Herbert L. Goudge.

Mr. Slauson directed his remarks particularly to showing that there can be no real competition when a patented type of pavement is selected for a street, for the reason that it can be obtained from only one company, whereas, in other cases every constitutent of the paving can be obtained in the open market, and the property owner who pays for the job gets this benefit.

"Other cities have found the situation so grave and serious," said Mr. Slauson, "that they have absolutely prohibited the use of patented articles in the paving specifications."

PATENT EXPIRES SOON.

He urged that if a patented paving is to be permitted, the petition for the improvement should set forth the exact amount of the royalty to be paid on each job. In speaking of the Warrenite paving, he stated that the patent will expire in eight months, and that if there is merit in this process the city should defer paving for this length of time, so that the work may be done then without payment of the royalty.

Mr. Goudge declared that permitting the use of patented pavements gave ample opportunity "for favoritism, crookedness, fraud and municipal corruption," and they have always followed when patented pavements are included in the specifications for street work.

Mr. Goudge directed much of his address to declarations regarding the Warrenite paving and the added cost to the property owners because of royalty payments. He cited St. Andrews place, one of the jobs listed for this class of work, and stated that the royalty on that street work would be from $6000 to $8000, and he also stated that twelve out of twenty street jobs recently planned would require royalty payments of about $40,000, while of thirty-one street-paving proposals recently before the Council, twenty were for the use of Warenite, and that the total cost of royalties thereon would be close to $60,000. The differences to property owners, he declared, is from 30 to 40 cents per square yard, and that "this difference is their slush fund."

NOT THE SAME.

E. R. Young appeared as attorney for the Warren Bros., Company, and denied that the patented paving and what is known as the Topeka pavement, which Mr. Goudge declared was practically the same as the Warrenite, but which is free from royalty payments, were the same. He contended that if the bithulithic specifications are thrown out of the city's specifications, the situation will develop where the city will be at the mercy of the cement men.

George Dunlop submitted recommendations of the Municipal League relative to street improvement procedure, and the general subject was continued in the committee of the whole for a further meeting on the afternon of Sepetmber 12.

WOMAN "DIP" BUSY.

Working alone, a middle-aged woman dressed in black, according to police detectives, is taking advantage of the crowded downtown street cars and helping herself to all unguarded pocketbooks. The woman was first reported to the police yesterday afternoon by S. J. White of 245 Clark street, Fresno. According to White, she secured his purse while riding on a Pico-street car. The purse contained two promissory notes amounting to $4200 and a small amount of cash.

Mr. White told the police that the woman in black crowded against him on the street car and left the car near the end of the line, a few blocks from the point where he got off. After leaving the car he discovered his loss.

DENIES HE ISSUED WORTHLESS CHECKS.

"CAPTAIN" DECLARES HE IS MUCH MALIGNED—NOT A HERO, POLICE SAY.

Ernest Pearce Freeman, 26 years of age, who was arrested at the County Hospital Thursday night by Lieut H. W. Christensen of the army intelligence department and Police Detective Bert Cowen and locked in th City Jail, charged with having issued a number of worthless checks, yesterday denied all charges against him and also declared that he had a right to wear the uniform of a captain of the Canadian army.

Freeman states that his father, James Freeman, is a wealthy furniture manufacturer of Liverpool, Eng., and that he fought through the first two years of the great war as a private and was commissioned a captain after having been returned to Canada suffering from five wounds received in battle. The prisoner stated that he lived for a time in Boston, but never issued any checks in that city, as claimed by the authorities. He also stated that the bills owed by him at the Los Angeles Athletic Club and a tailor shop in the city are vouched for by a local business man and will be paid.

Freeman, according to his own statement, was married to a Miss Laura Pierce a short time after coming to this city, but left her about two weeks ago, following a quarrel. He stated that his wife is employed in a downtown department store.

According to the police and Lieut. Christensen, Freeman is wanted in Boston for passing a number of worthless checks and is also wanted by the Canadian army for wearing the uniform of a captain without authority. According to the arresting officers, Freeman was only a private in the Canadian army and never received a commission. A number of decorations which are alleged to have been worn by Freeman without authority are being sought by the police.

TO BE A REALTOR.

Secretary Best of Local Board to Enter Business.

James M. Best, for several years past secretary of the Los Angeles Realty Board, yesterday tendered his resignation to enter the real estate field. S. R. Fenner, formerly with the Globe Grain & Milling Co., was appointed by the directors of the Realty Board to succeed Mr. Best, who will shortly become associated with W. W. Mines & Co. Mr. Best, who is secretary of the Union Realty Company, and is widely known among Southern California realtors, has been a resident of Los Angeles for many years.

Mr. Fenner served as a captain with the American army of occupation in Germany, being attached to the staff of Brig.-Gen. H. A. Smith. He at one time was connected with the office of A. G. Wells, general manager of the Santa Fe.

ONLY BEER, HE SAYS.

But Driver for Wine Company Is Under Bond.

George Petrovich, charged with violation of the war-time prohibition law, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Stephen G. Long, yesterday, and held in $1000 bond, for the preliminary examination to be held September 8.

The defendant says he is employed by his brothers, Misu and Martin Petrovich, as delivery driver for their store at 211 Second street, known as the Royal Wine Company. Since June 30, he says he has delivered nothing but 2.75 per cent. beer. He was arrested on the complaint of Leon Bone, a special agent of the Department of Justice.

MARSHAL KILLS DEER.

United States Marshal Walton returned yesterday from a week's deer hunt with former Congressman Denver S. Church, in the Fresno-Madera counties district above the Big Pines in the High Sierras. He reports that they killed the limit, two big bucks each—yes, that is what he says.

CLAIMS FALSE ARREST.

Mrs. J. Shaffer filed suit against Ed Arnaelsteen yesterday, demanding $25,000 damages for alleged false arrest. It is alleged that on the night of July 8 last she was taken to the University Police Station on the charge of embezzling $2.50, and put in jail for two hours. Her husband, J. Shaffer, claims she was acting as his agent and that the arrest was false.

FOR JAILED WOMEN.

Mayor Snyder, Chief of Police Home and the Ebell Club have indorsed a plan to establish a school in the woman's ward of the City Jail, where the women prisoners may be instructed in typewriting, shorthand, etc. An appeal was made to the City Council yesterday for an appropriation of about $600 for typewriters, textbooks, and equipment for the proposed school. The subject was sent to the Finance Committee.

SLIGHT FIRE LOSS.

Fire Chief Scott reported to the Fire Commission yesterday that the fire loss for the week had been only $3250, although there were forty fire alarms. There were four fires with loss, twenty-five without loss, two false alarms and nine grass fires.

WORDS OF LOVE CALLED FRAUD.

Santa Ana Bridegroom Asks Annulment of Bonds.

That Lucien J. Littlefield was made a convenience upon which to hang his marriage to Lenore J. Littlefield, would appear from his plaint in a suit to annul his marriage, filed yesterday. He alleges in the complaint that Mrs. Littlefield practiced fraud by professing to love him. Her reason for marrying him is said to have been to checkmate her mother, who had insisted upon her marrying another man.

Mr. Littlefield was discharged from the army last May. In June he met his wife-to-be, and, after calling on her several times, fell in love with her. He did not propose marriage because he was afraid his love was not reciprocated. Subsequently she is alleged to have said to him:

"If you are as deeply in love with me as you say, I will dare you to marry me, for I love you as sincerely as you love me."

He took her dare. He says he suggested that their engagement be announced to her mother upon the latter's return from San Francisco, but the girl declared the ceremony must be performed before her mother's return. She named the very day the conversation occurred. They eloped to Santa Ana.

Mr. Littlefield noticed that his bride acted queerly. She said it must have been a mistake, he alleges; that she did not hear a word the justice of the peace who married them had said. In fact, she did not love her husband, never had loved him and could never live with his, he quotes her as saying. She was interested in her career, which was writing scenarios. She also told him, says he, that she believed him too conscientious and that he loved her enough to leave her and forget her.

Mr. Littlefield wanted to know why she consented to marry him if she did not love him, and her reply was that she must have been "nervous and unstrung" and in a "hysterical mood."

Later, he asked her to live with him, but says she refused, and, it is alleged, explained why she had married him. According to Mr. Littlefield, her mother is strong-willed. She is said to have insisted upon the daughter marrying the man the parent chose, who lived in San Francisco.

It was to balk her mother's plan that Mrs. Littlefield induced Mr. Littlefield to marry her, it is alleged.

At the time of the marriage, Mrs. Littlefield gave her age as 23. Mr. Littlefield says he ascertained that she was 28.

Apartment House Manager Sues an Owner for Injuries.

Instead of having the only key to the freight elevator in the Louvre Apartments, Joseph Westphal, who claims he had an agreement to manage the Apartments, discovered after he had injured himself by dropping down the elevator shaft because the elevator had been moved in his absence, that some one held a duplicate key. Yesterday he brought suit against Ed. Arnaelsteen, claiming that the latter moved the elevator and thereby was responsible for the accident.

Mr. Westphal alleges that July 7 he brought the elevator from the third to the first floor, got out and locked the door to the shaft. When he returned, he unlocked the door, stepped in and fell fifteen feet. He found the elevator had been moved to the second floor.

ALL-AMERICAN CANAL.

A resolution commending the plan of the proposed All-American Canal for the Imperial Valley was before the City Council yesterday, but requests were received that the subject be given a hearing before the resolution was adopted, and the Council set 10:30 next Tuesday morning as the time for such a hearing. At that time, it is stated, Dr. A. D. Houghton will speak in opposition to the proposed resolution.

NEW BUS INSPECTORS.

Under suspension of the rules and containing the emergency clause, which puts it into immediate effect, the ordinance providing for the employment of three extra motor bus inspectors by the Board of Public Utilities was adopted by the City Council yesterday. The inspectors are deemed necessary because of the sudden increase in motor vehicle passenger service, due to strike conditions.

An Odd Suggestion

From time to time the mail brings us suggestions for advertising purposes. The majority of these come from enthusiastic users of Herpicide. A recent one—dwelling upon the great possibilities for business in Russia—is so unusual that we publish excerpts from it:

"Why don't you distribute free of charge a few thousand gallons of Newbro's Herpicide in Russia and employ barbers to apply it?"

"My idea is that an army of American barbers supplied with hair clippers, would soon put an end to the chaos in Russia."

"Sampson became normal following a hair cut and the Populist party was clipped off by western barbers."

Continuing, our correspondent lays down this broad, general rule:

"Wherever women cut their hair short and men wear long shaggy hair, the whole bunch is on its way back to the stone age."

We submit all this for what it is worth, but we do feel certain that the great army of Herpicide users as a class, are reasonably considerate of and kindly disposed to others.

We believe that the men who use Herpicide are given more to labor than to controversy and we doubt if there is a soap box orator among them. That the women users of Herpicide are rational and exceptionally attractive is known and recognized by everyone.

Commerce Chamber Proposes Protection of People.

By Making a Public Utility Walkout Felonious.

Forwards Plan to National Civic Organizations.

Proposing that it be made a criminal offense for two or more persons engaged in public utility work to conspire to render such an industry impotent, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday forwarded to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and to the National Manufacturers' Association a letter signed by President Moreland.

The letter to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, of which the other is a duplicate, is as follows:

"Los Angeles, Calif.,
"August 29, 1919.

"Chamber of Commerce of the United States,
"Riggs Building,
"Washington, D. C.,

"Gentlemen:—

"In view of the lamentable experience of Los Angeles and Southern California in the recent railway strike, when 98 per cent. of the population was dominated by and made subservient to less than 2 per cent. of the population on strike, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in the interests of public welfare would urge the inauguration of a national movement designed to prevent such disastrous situations in the future.

"Although successful in isolating Los Angeles from the rest of the country, the less than 3 per cent. of the population on strike were unable to agree among themselves. Although the strikers on the steam railways all were members of the railroad organizations having contracts with the government of the United States, these contracts were violated, and national organizations and officers were ignored, and, acting on their own initiative as individuals, a few thousand men paralyzed rail transportation because of their sympathies with an attempted tie-up on local railway lines.

"Our organization believes that so long as such a condition may exist and if nothing is done to prevent similar disastrous repetitions, our people are failing to function as a democracy. So long as one class or organization, representing only a small minority of the population, is able to restrict at will the peace and enterprise of the entire population, there is danger of the entire country facing at any time exactly what Los Angeles has to contend with today.

"The board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce feels that the public would welcome a national movement to make it a criminal offense for two or more persons engaged in public utility work to enter into a conspiracy to render impotent such an industry, in order to compel settlement of some grievance. Legislation should be framed to apply alike to workers and owners of such utilities. In the discussion of this proposition, the idea was advanced that for the protection of the public, a public utility workman, official and owner, should assume a stated obligation, the same as does a soldier or sailor in the government service. Our idea is to unify the masses who are sufferers from strikes and bring home to them that it is within their power to prevent small minorities from disturbing the productiveness of well ordered communities by establishing a just penalty for the reckless and often criminal few who inspire others to force their disintegrating radicalism upon organized effort.

"The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will be glad to take the initiative in such a movement if sanctioned by the United States Chamber or will accept such a part in this movement to free cities as may seem expedient to the national organization.

"Yours sincerely,

secretary of the Mayor's Mediation Committee, "is that the problem of settling the Los Angeles Railway strike does not involve the recognition of the union. There has been no request laid before the mediation board concerning the recognition of the carmen's union. It has not been an issue in this controversy. The only difficulty that the mediation board has been asked to unravel are the questions of wages and hours.

"Though the mediation committee is again deadlocked, we will continue on the job as long as our services are required. I realize that the situation is becoming more critical, but we want to settle this strike and we are going to do it."

IS JUSTICE DEAD?

To the Public and the Officials of Los Angeles County:

In April, 1918, the Grand Jury of Los Angeles County returned, we are told, five indictments against the Rev. Dr. Otoman Zar-Adusht Ha'nish for alleged crimes committed upon the persons of five children. Dr. Ha'nish is absolutely innocent of these charges, and following is the proof of his innocence in statements signed by the five children as a result of whose testimony the indictments were returned, and also a statement to the same effect signed by all the parents of the children concerned:

"Dr. O. Z. Ha'nish never, at any time or place, did to us the things we were made to accuse him of before the Grand Jury and elsewhere through fear. He was always good and kind to us and never otherwise."

(Signed)

Bodo Tahbel. Audra Austin. Linda Gault. Angelica Sandberg. Sofia Tilton.

"We have always known and have so testified that the accusations of our children against Dr. O. Z. Ha'nish were absolutely false and without foundation. We have been amazed and horrified at the revelations, as our children have detailed them to us, of the methods that were used to compel our children to testify, falsely and against their wills, according to the wishes of those who have been working so strenuously for the conviction of Dr. Ha'nish rather than for the administration of justice. He has always been to us and to our children a true friend and a gentleman in the best sense of the term."

(Signed)

Henry Tahbel, Father of Bodo Tahbel.
Clara Tahbel, Mother of Bodo Tahbel.
I. L. Ellis, Stepfather of Audra Austin.
Mrs. I. L. Ellis, Mother of Audra Austin.
Arthur F. Gault, Father of Linda Gault.
Georgia M. Gault, Mother of Linda Gault.
Wm. K. Sandberg, Father of Angelica Sandberg.
Anna A. Sandberg, Mother of Angelica Sandberg.
Ira B. Tilton, Stepfather of Sofia Tilton.
Anna W. Tilton, Mother of Sofia Tilton.

The full sworn statements of these children have been for a long time in the possession of the Referee of the Juvenile Court, and these statements explain in detail and in the children's own words how they came to repeat, against their wills, false testimony against Dr. Ha'nish.

In this particular case a great wrong has been done an innocent man. The Rev. Dr. Otoman Zar-Adusht Ha'nish is, in my regard, the greatest educator of this age. His principles of right living and his explanations of the problems and principles of life have enabled hundreds of thousands of people in both Europe and America to become healthy, happy and useful members of society. Right here in the city of Los Angeles is a very large number of people who owe not only the best there is in life but also life itself to the application of the teachings of Dr. Ha'nish, and among which number of people the writer is included.

As a citizen of Los Angeles, and as a representative of the large number of people who know the absolute integrity of Dr. Ha'nish, I say it is a crying shame that indictments of this character should be permitted to be outstanding against him when not a single material and truthful witness can be produced by anybody to prove that Dr. Ha'nish ever committed crime.

If justice is not dead in Los Angeles the officials concerned in this matter will cause the immediate cancellation of the indictments.

ASSAIL CONSTABLE FOR STRIKE WORK.

SYMPATHIZERS ALLEGE THOMAS DEPUTIZED MANY MEN IMPROPERLY.

The intimation of the transportation strikers that they were going to "get" Charles R. Thomas, constable, took shape yesterday when a petition was filed with the Supervisors and a similar petition filed with the Civil Service Commission, charging him with "giving promiscuously, without regard to age, character or qualifications" his appointments of deputy constables.

The Supervisors, who have no jurisdiction, will file the petition. The Civil Service Commission will consider the petition at its next meeting and will probably give the petitioners a hearing.

"The petition simply charges Mr. Thomas with negligence," said Secretary Doty yesterday. "I do not see wherein it claims that the law has been violated."

The petition is signed by R. Belcher, R. A. Edwards, M. H. Harris, William H. Crawford, Thomas Baily, A. J. Tompkins, M. H. Densmore, Addis L. Abell and William C. Auble. A number of the petitioners and others called on Constable Thomas last Monday "and remonstrated with him against making promiscuous appointments. August 26, Mr. Thomas sent in 100 badges with blank, written, appointments to the Los Angeles Railway Company for it to swear in additional deputies," the petition states.

The particular reference in the petition is to the appointment, alleged to have been by Constable Thomas of Meyer Snuckler "who was sworn in as a deputy by the notary public for the Los Angeles Railway. He was only 19 years old and is now under investigation by the grand jury for the alleged killing of I. R. Day at Sixth and Alameda streets on the night of August 21, 1919."

It is claimed that Constable Thomas sent to the Los Angeles Railway 300 badges of deputy constables with the papers appointing special deputies filled out in blank and signed by him, "allowing the corporation through a lady notary, Evelyn Hickmore, 920 Pacific Electric Building, to swear in deputies, choosing the same to suit their convenience and with no regard to their moral character, capacity or the code section requiring qualifications of age and citizenship. The persons sworn in were accepted by Constable Thomas," the petition declares.

"I am not worrying," said Constable Thomas when informed charges had been preferred against him to the Civil Service Commission. "I am a citizen; I own property. These people wanted protection and I gave it to them."

was allowed to go to his home but Johnson was removed to the company hospital.

Capt. Chapman stated last night that the police under Lieut. Jackson, who arrived on the scene of the riot a short time after the accident, were prevented from making any arrests at the time on account of the nature of the mob which had been swelled by many passing pedestrians, and also because their attention was taken up with attempting to secure medical attention for the car crew and Mrs. Lowe.

"We will make every effort to run down and arrest all persons who took part in this affair," said Capt. Chapman last night. "My men are now working on clews which will lead to at least three or more arrests. We have information which will result in the arrest of a number of the leaders as soon as Johnson is able to identify the suspects. Every effort will be made by this station to bring the rioting to an end and punish the guilty persons."

INQUEST TODAY.

Mrs. Lowe according to the information secured yesterday by the police was a widow. No relatives were discovered yesterday. The body was removed following the accident to the Highland Park Undertaking establishment. An inquest will be held today.

For the past five months Mrs. Lowe has been living at a rooming-house at 845 South Olive street. She was a reserved woman, tenants of the house say, never having any visitors, and others who were living in the house became only slightly acquainted with her. Since her arrival in Los Angeles, she has been looking for employment. Yesterday morning, as she left the house, she seemed to be in better spirits than usual, and she remarked to one of her neighbors that she believed that she had found a job, and that she was going out to see about it. Later, when a search was made of her room to find a clew to relatives or friends who could be notified of the accident, her suitcase was found packed, as though ready for removal. No clew as to friends or relatives was found among her possessions. An abstract of title showed that she owned two lots in Los Animos, Colo. It is believed, however, that she has relatives living in Denver. The body is at the Cresse funeral chapel.

PUNCH ON JAW ENDS ATTEMPT AT STRIKE.

MOVIE EXTRA TRIES ROLE OF AGITATOR BUT DIRECTOR BEATS HIM TO IT.

A punch delivered straight to the jaw of a Mexican agitator effectually discouraged yesterday a strike of 140 motion-picture extras who were about to demand $5 instead of the specified wage of $3 for their day's work as East Indian natives in the movies.

The Mexicans were engaged from a New High-street agency by Webster Cullison, an assistant director with Nazimova, the actress, and gathered in front of the Metro studio yesterday morning. Mr. Cullison, who speaks the language, overheard one of the men urging the crowd to strike "because it is too late to get others, and they must pay us."

Mr. Cullison made his way through the crowd without a word, and knocked the agitator down. The Mexicans pushed forward angrily, but Mr. Cullison picked up a stone to protect himself, as he informed them in their own language that there was "nothing doing." Every man in the crowd worked at the price agreed upon.

DECISION POSTPONED.

The Building Committee of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, No. 99, met last night and discussed several sites for the organization's proposed $1,000,000 home, but deferred decision as to the selection until another meeting to be held next Friday evening, September 5. The committee desired additional information about the sites under consideration, according to Chairman Leo V. Youngworth.

LAWLER SPEAKS.

On the stage besides the speakers were 100 representatives of the city's civic organization. The audience entirely filled the lower floor of the auditorium and nearly all the galleries. There were many women present.

When Oscar Lawler came on the stage, walking with a cane, the entire audience arose and applauded him, and when later he stood up to speak, those present stood up as one person and applauded and cheered and waved handkerchiefs. Mr. Lawler said: "I seem to have been sent for, but was provided with a return ticket (applause.) The purpose of our gathering is to emphasize a fundamental American characteristic—the equality of all men before the law and the right of every man to pursue his occupation. Our community has stood at the forefront in the expression of that principle, and God forbid that it take a step backward. No one can deny the right of men to quit work, but no one can deny the right of men to occupy the places of those who left their employment (applause.) No man or combination of men has the right to prevent men from occupying these vacant places. All men are subject to the law. If men are permitted to break the law then law becomes a mere sham, and we cease to be a government. While there may be compromises on either and both sides of a controversy, there can be no compromise with wrong, no compromise on the question of enforcing the law equally for all."

BY MR. MORELAND.

President Moreland of the Chamber of Commerce, who presided, said: "I know of no better way to open this meeting than to read, as the expression of sentiment or keynote of this gathering, that section of the preamble of the Declaration of Independence which says, 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.' The time has come for us to reassert our rights."

Mr. Moreland then read telegrams from Senator Johnson stating that the officials of the Railroad Administration expected the steam roads strike here would be settled, from Senator Phelan, stating that the President intended to issue a proclamation on the steam roads strike; and a letter to the United States Chamber of Commerce, urging the enactment of a law making it a criminal offense to declare lockouts and strikes on public utilities and establishing a national board of arbitration. Great applause greeted the reading of the suggestions embodied in the letter.

Attorney William Kemp declared the present strike is the effort of 10 per cent. of the workers of the community, who belong to unions, to control the actions of the other 90 per cent. of the workers. "Do you think it fair that the Los Angeles Railway should take back men who committed violence?" the speaker asked. Answers from the audience of "No!" "The company is right," said Mr. Kemp. "We cannot depend on the word of the unions. Their contracts are scraps of paper. The union officers started something they cannot finish. The situation the unions are trying to bring on us is Bolshevism. It is up to you to stamp it out."

Capt. Fredericks was given a rousing reception. He told of his battle with the labor unions nine years ago, of the thousands of acts of violence the unions have committed from the time of the "Molly Maguires" to that of the McNamaras, told the of the ninety-seven buildings and bridges the McNamara gang destroyed and of the confession he wrung from Jim McNamara.

"Before that confession," said Capt. Fredericks, "the unions always said they were not responsible for violence, and they got away with it, until by the grace of God, McNamara was forced to tell the truth. Since McNamara confessed there have been no more explosions.

"Now we have a new union problem. The unions have started out to control the business life of this city, and they intend to take control if they can. They say they won't obey their leaders and desire to be a law unto themselves. They strike and others strike in sympathy in order to force a victory. Women and children are marooned on the desert by the orders of the union men. The strikers do not care. They want power. Do you think men of this kind are fit to be trusted with power, with the administration or law or the control of government? (Cries of 'No!' from the audience.) Then set your hearts like flint. Do not let these men choke the city to death.

"The day of the strike, especially the sympathetic strike, is past. It is an illogical method of settling disputes. The time is coming when parties to a dispute will be compelled to appear before a tribunal and adjust their industrial difficulties."

Attorney Edwin A. Meserve declared the present situation in Los Angeles differs only in degree from the Bolshevism forced on the people of Russia. He made a plea for the members of the community to stand strong for liberty under law.

Clinton E. Miller declared the electric road strikes were called by leaders who were insincere, that the strikes were unwarranted by the facts and that this is proved by the fact that a majority of the workers of the roads stood by their cars. He urged that the community show its appreciation to the loyal men of the companies.

After the meeting had been declared adjourned with the national anthem, a man in the gallery, who said he was a Los Angeles Railway employee who had left his job, challenged Attorney Kemp to a debate.

LOCAL INSPECTOR ASSIGNED TO HAWAII.

Charles S. Ranger, a postoffice inspector, has been ordered to duty at the Hawaiian islands, to reorganize the entire postal system of the Sandwich Island group, and extending his work to Guam, the lone port of call for army transports between Honolulu and the Philippines.

The length of his stay is undetermined, but is likely to be many months. Mr. Ranger will be accompanied by his wife and family to Honolulu, where they will make their headquarters.

WOULD FREE SMUCKLER.

Man Charged with Shooting Day to be Bailed out Today.

Arrangements will be made today to secure the release on bail of Meyer Smuckler, charged with shooting I. R. Day, a striking switchman, at Sixth and Alameda streets, on the night of the 21st inst.

Since the grand jury took up its investigation of the shooting of Mr. Day, the latter died of his wounds. Yesterday the grand jury called a number of special constables and questioned them about the occurrence. The grand jury will until Wednesday when it is expected the investigation of the matter will be finished.

A Coroner's jury, after hearing a large number of witnesses yesterday, returned a verdict that came to his death through pistol shot wounds inflicted by a person or persons unknown. Lawler was not called as a witness.

If Detective James Ross has returned from his honeymoon he will be called before the jury in the wind-up of the inquiry into the bombing of the home of Lawler.

has decided hundreds of families in favor of having a house that may become a homestead—an adored heritage for future generations.

Few persons can thoroughly enjoy the "fixing up" of a rented dwelling. There's a certain restraint, a lack of inspiration to invest in furniture of permanent interest and value.

The world cannot possibly have too many REAL homes—certainly Southern California cannot.

Let us help you to see, first in your imagination and then in reality, how wonderful A HOME OF YOUR OWN may be made—this fall.

From here Miss Wallace goes East to inspect an open-air school at the Ambassador Hotel in Atlantic City and to make preliminary plans for a school on the roof of the new Hotel Linnard in New York City. Miss Wallace will open a school at the Hotel California in Los Angeles when it is completed.

Children playing with matches today started a fire which destroyed a supply of frame forms for cement at the establishment of Clay Shaw, 86 Palmetto Drive.

Salvage crews are at work on the wreck of the steamship Sophie, recovering the bodies of those who were lost when the vessel sunk in Alaskan waters with all hands on board last winter, according to Herbert S. Miller, Pasadena man, who has just returned from an Alaskan trip. The bodies are being sent to Juneau. Gold ore and other cargo on the sunken steamer are being salvaged also. Mr. Miller says the Alaska salmon catch will be large this year.

A group of well-known Pasadena men have chartered the schooner yacht Dreamer and will spend the month of September cruising up and down the California and Mexican coasts. The party comprises Ernest H. May, president of the Security National Bank of this city, his son, Crawford May, who recently returned from service as a naval officer; Arthur Dodsworth and E. P. Moulton. They will sail from Los Angeles Harbor Sunday or Monday.

J. C. Woodward and C. L. Harris will leave Monday on a two years' tour of North America in a "flivver." They will go East by way of the Lincoln Highway and expect to go south along the Atlantic coast reaching Florida in the winter.

CALL BOND ELECTION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ANAHEIM, Aug. 29.—Citizens of Anaheim will vote on the question of a City Hall site and a city park. The Board of Trustees last night called a bond election for September 30, when a proposition to sell securities amounting to $7500 will be submitted. Both questions have long been before the people, but because of war conditions, were temporarily set aside.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Aug. 29.—In connection with the campaign being carried on here for a bond election to build a new high school, a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been busy for several weeks securing options of property which it is thought might be desirable as sites.

As a result of their work they have secured a list of five sites which can be purchased in different parts of the city. It is now proposed that all but two of them be eliminated and the two be placed on the ballot at the time of the proposed loection. The five sites selected in the preliminary investigation are on the Southwest corner of Holt and San Antonio, containing twelve acres; the present site of the Central school with considerable adjoining property; two plots on different sides of the Ganesha Park; and, the Mirande vineyard tract on North Garey avenue.

Officers At Redlands Discover Patch Worth $400.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Aug. 29.—Constable J. A. Rivera and Marshal George Larmore found a supply of marijuana valued at $600 at the home of D. Zamaripa in the Lugonis section today. They found a patch of the weed, from which is made the Merican opium or hasheesh that will "knock 'em dead in two seconds," according to the officers, growing in the back yard, more than $400 worth of it.

Zamaripa claimed that he was using the weed to make a liniment that cured all ills. The officers could not believe it especially when some cans of the dried product, worth $3 a small can, were found. It is said that two or three inhales of marijuana smoke will provide all the thrills of an opium smoke and a whisky jag combined.

LIVES OF FOUR SAVED BY TURNING OF THE MACHINE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Aug. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hamilton of West Seventh street, their daughter, Miss Dorothy Hamilton, and their son, Philip, had a narrow escape from death today when the sudden snapping of a front axle on their motor car, as they were descending the steep San Antonio canyon road from Camp Baldy, caused their machine to swerve into the bank instead of over the cliff opposite and plunge them to the canyon bed 150 feet below.

Had the accident occurred a little further down the road where the grade is even steeper, the result would have been serious. While the party was waiting for the arrival of the Camp Baldy stage, to continue their homeward journey, they were caught in a heavy thunderstorm, but reached home without further mishap and garagemen were sent for the disabled machine.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FRESNO, Aug. 29.—Fresno saloon keepers have asked for an injunction to prevent the police from interference with their selling of 2 3-4 per cent. beer, similar to action that was taken in the Los Angeles courts.

The Chamber of Commerce called on the police to enforce the law, giving as a reason that the Fresno Brewery is making only 1 per cent. beer and that it is unfair competition to allow outside brewers to bring beer of a higher percentage of alcoholic content to Fresno to compete with the home concern.

MELONS ARE CHEAPER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Aug. 29.—The people of Redlands have found one thing this year that has not gone up in price. It is watermelons. They are lower than last year, the best grade selling for 1 1-2 cents a pound. Last year 2 cents a pound was the lowest price. The crop is large and is ripening rapidly, which is the cause of the lower price. The growers seem satisfied and say they are making money.

MAKES AUTO OWNERS PAY REVENUE TAX.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 29.—George Giovanelo, deputy internal revenue collector, will tax all private conveyance owners who have been profiting by the railroad strike, carrying passengers between Los Angeles and Santa Barbara. They will be made to pay a $5 revenue tax for five-passenger machines and $10 for seven-passenger cars.

Many private-owned machines have been doing a flourishing business in carrying passengers, charging exorbitant prices, the minimum charge for a ride to Los Angeles being $10. It is claimed that private machine owners came to a gentlemen's agreement to charge all the traffic would bear, and marooned passengers who couldn't pay the price but offered $5 for the trip were ignored.

SELLS TAN BARK.

The first sale of oak tan bark from the Santa Barbara National Forest has been made by J. R. Hall, forest supervisor, to the Eberhart Tanning Company of Santa Clara, which next spring will take out 400 cords of the bark from the Monterey district of the forest, and pay $2000 for the consignment. Tan bark sales open a new source of revenue in a forest that has produced little but expense. To secure 400 cords of the material the purchasers will cut and strip about 4000 oaks. The bark must be hauled forty miles by truck to the railroad, which accounts for the small selling price. The wood, after the trees have been cut and stripped, cannot be used, because the selling price will not pay the cost of hauling.

FRIGHTFULLY BURNED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Aug. 29.—His back, arms and legs frightfully burned when a torch with which he was working in the hold of a vessel under construction in the yards of the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company ignited his clothing, Cecil D. Leslie, 21 years old, of 127 West Fifteenth street, is lying in a critical condition tonight in a local hospital.

Attending physicians say the burns may prove fatal. Doctors tonight announced that the welder suffered severe burns that covered nearly two-thirds of his body, and that but little hope was entertained for his recovery. Dr. R. W. Wilcox, chief surgeon of the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company, says that in the event the victim survives, it will require at least a dozen persons to furnish skin for a grafting operation that will necessarily follow.

Young Leslie was recently married.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 29.—Ernest King and Lucy Hutchenson, of Los Angeles, were thrown from an automobile, driven by Mr. King, today, when their machine was struck by a southbound Short Line car on Strand avenue, here.

Miss Hutchenson was badly cut and bruised. She was taken to the St. Catherine Hospital.

GALLANT GOB ACTS AS A HUMAN PLUG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Aug. 29.—Probably the most novel method of stopping up a sinking ship ever introduced on this Coast came to light here today when it became known that a sailor, a member of the crew of the U.S.S. Vermont, undoubtedly prevented a marine disaster when he seated himself in a two-foot hole that was torn into the side of a tender of the warship conveying a party of eleven Long Beach women to a dance on the Vermont last night.

When a short distance out from Long Beach a log rammed the cutter and tore a hole in its side, well forward. The water poured into the small craft and the tender began to list. A valiant gob, whose name was not learned, came to the rescue by planting himself in the aperture caused by the accident and succeeded in this unique manner in keeping the vessel afloat until it reached the warship. The dory was more than a third filled with water when a landing was effected.

Suit for $50,000 Outgrowth of Motorcycle and Auto Smash

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 29.—Fifty thousand dollars damage is asked in a suit filed here today by Floyd D. Browne and wife against R. F. J. George and August Lemke, all of Olive. The suit is the outgrowth of an accident on August 31, 1918, when a motorcycle side-car, in which Mrs. Browne was riding was struck by the Lemke automobile.

Mrs. Browne, it is alleged, was in the hospital two months, underwent two operations and has another in prospect, she says. One thousand dollars was spent for medical attention. Her left leg and the bone above the left eye were fractured. It is claimed she suffered many severe lacerations about the body. Attorney E. L. Daven of San Francisco represents the plaintiffs.

BARBOYS SELL REAL RED LIQUOR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Although liquor, the kind of the days before July 1, is being sold here without camouflage, the police say they are powerless to stop it. The system is for a customer to ask for a glass of ginger ale, soda water or 2.75 beer and place two-bits on the bar. The customer receives the ginger ale or water, then the bartender feels generous and gives him a drink of old-fashioned whisky from a bottle.

The city ordinance provides no penalty for giving away whisky without a license. The Department of Justice can only make arrests after an official has been served from the same bottle as that of which he claims a man is served, so no arrests have been made by the Federal officers, as the bartenders seldom feel generous when they see them. In the meantime soft drink bars are very popular.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 29.—Robert Silk, who pleaded guilty to stealing a motorcycle from T. J. Neal, was sentenced to San Quentin prison today for from one to ten years by Judge R. Y. ANAHEIM WIDOW IS WINNER IN COURT.

VALUE OF RANCH DEEDED TO ARDENT LOVER RETURNED TO WOMAN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 29.—Judgment for $75,000 and interest from January 9, 1919, was awarded to Anna G. Walters by Judge E. B. West in Superior Court here today.

The verdict was directed against George A. Fox and is the culmination of a civil suit growing out of a fast and furious love affair in which it was said that Fox after a three-day courtship induced Mrs. Walters to marry him and to deed her orange grove to her prospective husband. Fox later sold the ranch and received as part pay an apartment-house at a beach resort.

Money received in the trade was said to have been retained by Fox, who was arrested and convicted in the Los Angeles courts on a charge of embezzlement.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Optimism Ruled the Day; August Sets New Records; Food Situation.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The day was featured by exceptional optimism in nearly every quarter. The impending collapse of the steam railroad strike and the refusal of Pacific Electric officials to even admit the existence of a strike was largely responsible, but aside from the labor situation the casting of August accounts revealed a condition of business stability so encouraging that it found reflection everywhere.

The volume of business transacted on the stock exchange was exceptionally heavy and prices were sharply accelerated, local issues leading the list. The New York market was also strong and active.

Bank clearings for the month have broken all August records and come within about $10,000,000 of a new record for any month in the history of the clearinghouse. This, in the year's quietest month, marked by strikes which have tied up mails and interfered with business, is a most encouraging circumstance.

All August records for stock exchange transactions have gone by the board. The absolute balance had not been struck last night, but will probably exceed $3,000,000.

Danger of a famine or even a shortage in food supplies prophesied by the strikers was laughed out of court as the result of a survey yesterday. The terminal market was filled with good things to eat at prices lower than they have been for many months. Butter and eggs were received from near-by sources of supply by truck in ample quantity to stop the threatened rise. Meat prices are falling. Fruit and vegetables are plentiful and cheap. Even potato receipts met every demand and arrangements have been made to truck all that are necessary from Stockton and elsewhere if the railroad strike further interferes with normal delivery.

Building plans and permits are far in excess of August a year ago.

All exchanges, many stores and most offices will remain closed today and Monday. Banks will be open as usual until noon today.

Record Stock Market.

The local market yesterday was in exceedingly good condition, trading was heavy and prices high. Discounting the three day holiday probably had something to do with this, but the confidence of professionals and public alike that the strike crisis had passed found ample reflection in the trend of the market led by Union Oil which created a new high record and sold up to $169 with every prospect of still higher prices when trading is resumed on Tuesday. Strong inside influences are being exerted to clean up on this stock which is already so closely held that a few shares may, and frequently do, make quite an impression. Figuring the rights at $9.50 the top price yesterday equals $178.50 on the outstanding stock before the recent offering of the final 67,000 shares. The career of Union during the first hour of trading was spectacular. It opened at $165.75, rose gradually to $164.50, jumped quickly to $167.50 and then kept on until reaching the peak point. There was a slight recision at the close of the morning session to $168. There were no sales in the afternoon and the final quotations were $167.75 bid at $167.87½.

Other oil issues attained prices not equalled for a long time. The rise during the day was consistent, and the close everything the most enthusiastic bull could desire. Associated opened two points up at $92.37½ and moved up to $92.62½ which was the offering at the close. This issue together with Amalgamated Oil are most affected by the Bledsoe decision in the Southern Pacific oil land case. The latter stock was in demand at $75 with none offered at less than $77.

General Petroleum was another stock which felt the impulse, selling during the afternoon to $157.-87½ which is a $3 appreciation during the week. Oil stocks most vitally affected by the leasing bill were comparatively inactive pending more definite news as to the fate of that measure, but the prices remained firm at levels established several days ago. There is pretty sure to be some lively fluctuations in these issues upon the receipt of definite information.

The announcement of a change in the officers of the United Oil Co., resulted in considerable activity and a strong close around 72½. Union Oil rights, in sympathy with the stock movement sold up to $9.62½ and were in demand at that figure.

The oil market by no means absorbed all of the optimism for industrials were in fine shape. Aspinwall Investment continued its reaction from the lower level reached earlier in the week and regained most of its losses during the two or three dark days. It sold yesterday up to 89 cents and was in strong demand at 88. California Delta Farms registered an advance, sales being recorded to $62.87½. Other industrials were steady with strong undertone.

Mines were inactive except for Richmond Copper which continued to dominate the market, more than 25,000 shares changing hands from an opening at 50 cents to a strong close 4 cents above that figure. The rest of the mines were unusually quiet with only a few scattering transactions.

At the close the general condition foreshadowed a bull movement of no mean proportions early next week if the news continues to be favorable. It looks as though the decline had been discounted, for the present at least.

Banks' Greatest August.

At the close of business yesterday Los Angeles bank clearings for the month totalled $192,352,990.45 and estimating today's clearances at $6,000,000 the grand total for the month will be about $198,000,000. This is the greatest August business in the history of the clearing house, the corresponding month in 1918 only recording $129,247,174.47 and in 1917, $119,659,915.23. July 1919 holds the absolute record with clearings amounting to $210,332,-570.23. With the establishment of a branch of the Federal Reserve bank in Los Angeles and the development of our port bankers anticipate a rapidly increasing tide of clearings which will eventually overtake San Francisco.

Produce Exchange.

On account of the death of O. L. Galbreth, resident manager for Swift & Co., there was no call yesterday on the Produce Exchange. Today is the last of the full Saturday summer holidays and Monday is Labor Day so the butter, eggs and cheese prices established Thursday will remain until Tuesday afternoon. However it was said at the exchange yesterday that the market is in good shape, supplies ample and the strike inconveniences thoroughly discounted.

Moulton Marooned.

R. H. Moulton, of the firm of R. H. Moulton & Co., went to San Francisco about a week ago and has been marooned in that city ever since because of the railroad strike. Los Angeles friends fully alive to the seriousness of his predicament, hope to effect a rescue not later than tomorrow.

New Municipal Issue.

On September 12 the Ivanhoe school district in Tulare county will sell a $14,000 six per cent. issue. Municipal offerings are expected to be light until after the middle of September.

Last Saturday Holiday.

This is the last Saturday summer holiday and the stores which have been dark on the last day of the week during July and August will terminate the closure after today. The experiment has been found to work very successfully and managers claim that gross business has not been lessened. Because of the legal holiday which comes on Monday employees of these establishments will have a three day vacation with which to end the summer season. Some stores have adopted an all-year-round half holiday, a movement which shows some signs of spreading.

Authority to Sell.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California is authorized by the State Corporation Commission to sell 60,000 shares of its preferred capital stock at par, $100, for cash, so as to net 98 per cent. of the selling price. It also is per-

CALIFORNIA DRIED FRUITS.

PRICES ARE STEADY IN LOCAL PRODUCE.

FARMERS KEEP FIGURES UP, CONTROLLING MOST OF BEST OFFERINGS.

The majority of the dealings on the local produce exchange yesterday showed activity and all commodities moved readily with the exception of a few small fruits and vegetables which were in very poor condition. The farmers continued to flood the floor with all varieties of produce, but despite that fact prices held about steady owing to the poor quality of the majority of the offerings. The farmers held prices up fairly well as they controlled the majority of the best offerings during the early trading, but owing to the heavy late arrivals that became narrows and sacrificed large quantities of excellent stock during the last hour's trading.

Cantaloupes continued to feature the fruit list because of the heavy supplies on hand and the steadily increasing arrivals from the local producing sections, watermelons from Fernando Valley which is now at the peak of its shipping season. There was considerable demand for good stock during the early part of the session, but owing to the hammering of the retailers and the nervous condition on the floor prices made moderate declines. Watermelons received their share of the prosperity during the first hour's trading and prices made fractional advances, but in view of the heavy late arrivals a slight reaction took place and prices on all grades of offerings closed about steady. The majority of the transactions were made at from 1 to 1¼ cents per pound.

The vegetable market also was active and prices on all varieties of first-class offerings moved readily at a slight decline. The majority of the arrivals were in fairly good condition, but owing to the increasing late arrivals and practically no outlet for the leftover supplies prices closed slightly under.

There was very little demand for potatoes on the floor as the majority of the local retailers operated a sharp advance during the early part of the week and bought heavy supplies expecting to make a good profit on their investment. They will suffer considerable loss if the heavy shipments from Stockton via San Francisco continue to meet the demands of the consuming public at the present prices. The majority of the arrivals yesterday were in excellent condition, but despite that fact prices on all grades of offerings closed slightly under Thursday's closing figures.

Other fruits and vegetables met with a fairly good demand, but owing to the heavy arrivals and the large quantity of leftover stock on hand prices on all grades of offerings made fractional declines.

COTTON YESTERDAY ADVANCED 18 POINTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—While Liverpool was lower than due and the weather map favorable the cotton market opened steady today at a decline of 5 points to an advance of 13 points, with December selling around 31.95 cents and January 31.80 cents during the early trading. General business was quiet, but the entire opening was scattered buying on low private condition figures and a more favorable view of the labor situation.

The Journal of Commerce makes condition of cotton 64.9 compared with 70.1 a month ago. The indicated yield is about 1,500,000 bales.

BRADSTREET REMARKS GENERAL IMPROVEMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"There are more cross-currents in the general trade, industrial and labor situation but, unlike recent previous weeks some of these currents are in the direction of improvement. The President's stand on the subject of railway wages, the evidences elicited of popular support of his action, the across of what might be termed sober second thought among labor men and some really definite reductions in prices of foods at wholesale, have made for slightly more optimistic feelings as a whole. It is felt in some lines that while a possible country-wide steel-workers' strike impends, the outlook is not so disturbed as it was one or more weeks ago.

GRAIN MARKET IS MERCURIAL IN TONE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The unexpected happened in the grain market today. Opening was weak with declines to lower levels making new low season prices for corn and provisions due to renewed liquidation and short selling. The limit was reached at the bottom and a change came that necessitated heavy covering by the shorts and results was that prices closed around the top of the day. Oats gained ½ to 1⅛ cents, rye 2¼ cents to 2⅝ cents and barley 2 to 4 cents.

Provisions had a better tone after the break.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—With the exception of foreign exchange in which the London rate made further forfeiture of its recent recovery, events affecting the stock market today offered decided encouragement to the long account.

The firm attitude of the Railroad Administration in dealing with the Pacific Coast strike situation and the Federal court decision favoring the Southern Pacific company in the long-pending oil land case imparted a buoyant tone to the list at the opening which resulted in the very active close.

The Southern Pacific decision was most influential, not only because it affected an extreme advance of nine points in that stock, but because of its effect upon the entire oil division, where gross gains ranged from 3 to 12 points.

Rails as a whole, were stimulated by the government's stand.

Steels were again in a class by themselves on the further activity of Crucible, which sold considerably over yesterday's high record and scored a net gain slightly in excess of ten points.

Allied shares made more moderate headway, although Bethlehem and United States steels were especially prominent in the final hour with Baldwin Locomotive, Metals, tobacco and food issues, American Can also profiting by the general demand. Sales amounted to 900,000 shares.

Conditions in the bond market, where trading was relatively light, were very mixed; rails as a whole showing irregularity aside from the stronger tone of transcontinentals. Foreign bonds were firm, but Liberty issues continued to lose ground, the second 4s making a new record at 92.66. Total sales, par value, aggregated $9,850,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WILL DROP CASE AGAINST WOMAN

Companion of Harris Likely to be Set Free.

Federal Charge Still Hangs Over Robber.

Complicity Trial is Set for Next Monday.

A decision not to press the Federal indictment against Frances Kennedy, the companion of Lewis B. Harris, the convicted Artesia postoffice robber, has been reached by United States District Attorney O'Connor.

Harris has already been convicted by a jury in Judge Taft's court and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment in San Quentin for grand larceny and burglary. Both were indicted by the Federal grand jury on the charge of robbing the Artesia postoffice and stealing a large amount of stamps, and these indictments are now pending against them.

With Harris disposed of, there is a disposition on the part of the local Federal authorities to allow the charge against the woman to lie dormant or be dismissed. The charge against Harris will be allowed to remain, so that if he is able to secure an early parole under the State laws he may be prosecuted under the Federal charge.

At the trial of Harris it was charged that the Kennedy woman had been guilty of knowledge of the robbery, at least after its commission, for she had in her possession several thousand dollars' worth of stamps that were found in the Kilbourne Apartments in Denver, where they were arrested on April 25, last, just one month after the Artesia job.

It is alleged there was a woman in the party that broke into the postoffice, but that might be hard to show.

The trial of Miss Kennedy is set for Judge Craig's court Monday, where it is probable that the case against her will be dismissed.

ARREST LABOR AGENT.

Federal Officers Charge Japanese with Smuggling Countryman.

Tetsuge Dohi, a Japanese, also known as Hugh Dohi, a graduate of Whittier College, was arrested yesterday on a complaint issued by United States Commissioner Long, and sworn to by A. E. Burnett, immigration agent, charging him with violation of the immigration laws. His bond was fixed at $1500, and the preliminary hearing set for September 6.

According to the story told by Dohi, he is a Japanese labor agent, employed by the Japanese association at Oxnard to contract for Japanese laborers on behalf of the American Beet Sugar Company. [illegible] at Whittier he was active in [illegible] mission work.

It is charged that he engaged to smuggle Kwango Kawahara into the country from the steamer Kiyo Maru, that arrived at San Pedro last Monday. Dohi says Kwango is his brother, and that he came to San Pedro from Japan with a passport allowing him to go to Peru as a contract laborer.

Kwango, when approaching San Francisco, sent a radiogram to his uncle, Mennokichi Kawahara, of Fresno, to meet him in San Francisco, but instead the relative had Dohi to go to San Pedro when the Maru touched there. It is also alleged by the government that Dohi wired the Fresno uncle to send him $1000 for the benefit of Kwango, and that the money was sent.

When Dohi got over the rail he turned the money over to Kwango, who in turn passed it over to the purser of the vessel to care for him. Both men went ashore, and later on the contraband went back and got his money and Dohi returned to Oxnard, where he was arrested by immigration agents. Warrants are out for Kwango, Kawahara and Mennekichi Kawahara.

BAD SMOKING OPIUM.

Jung Sing, a local Chinese, was fined $500 yesterday by Judge Trippet, following his plea of guilty of having a five-tael can of smoking opium in his possession. He paid $400 to the clerk, and was allowed thirty days to furnish the additional $100. One hundred dollars was allowed Officers Jones and Littlejohn, who made the arrest.

NAVY'S WRATH DIMS COURT'S.

Overstaying Leave Worries Four Sailors More than Charges of Theft.

Having overlooked the graver offense of appropriating a motor car belonging to George Hebburn and only worrying about the penalty for overstaying their shore leaves, four sailors of the U.S.S. Texas were given a preliminary hearing on the theft charge before Justice Brown yesterday. They were held to answer and remanded to the County Jail.

SARAJEVO RESUMES PRE-WAR TRANQUILLITY

CITY IN WHICH WORLD HOLOCAUST STARTED RETURNS TO PEACE-TIME PLEASURES.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

SARAJEVO (Bosnia), July 12.—(By Mail) The war seems likely soon to become a matter of only historical interest even here in Sarajevo where Prinzip threw the bomb which killed the Austrian Archduke Ferdinand and set the world aflame.

The summer park at Illidza is crowded on Sunday with holiday-makers. The trams and trains run regularly. Moving picture theaters are open, and concerts are held from time to time. Recently the city has been the destination of American sailors on leave from Adriatic ports. All visitors in the city find an immense interest in the wonderful Turkish quarter, with its quaint bazaars where one may buy the most beautiful art goods.

The civil authorities at Sarajevo are principally Bosnians and Herzegovinans. Many Serbian officers are seen in the city. The Turks are as Turkish, the Jews as Jewish and the gypsies as gypsy-like as ever. The half-hundred mosques still exist to attract the faithful to their prayers. The Austrians and Germans still struggle to change their colors, and in the cafes the waiters often strive at Serbian which they speak poorly and ask that one speak "Deutsche."

The after-war population of Sarajevo is 65,000. The city is capital of Bosnia-Herzegovina. The population of the province is divided as follows: 800,000 Mussulmen, 800,000 Serbians, 200,000 Croats. The worshippers of Mahomet are not necessarily of Turkish blood; in fact most of them are said really to be Serbians and to speak Serbian. The true facts regarding nationalities in the Balkans cannot be easily determined.

CHINAMAN IS SAVED BY LODGE PIN AND GRIP.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

JUAREZ (Mex.) Aug. 7.—A lodge pin and grip saved the life of a Chinese merchant of Parral when Francisco Villa's troops captured Parral some months ago, according to a sworn statement made by the merchant to the American Consul here upon his arrival from the interior recently.

The Chinese merchant refused to permit his name to be attached to the statement for fear he would be killed if he fell into Villa's hands. He swore that he saw three of his cousins dragged through the streets of Parral by rebels and burned at the stake.

A demand for $5000 was made upon him upon threat of death, the merchant said. He told the Villa colonel he did not have this amount and was about to be ordered shot, he said, when he noticed a lodge pin on the lapel of the colonel's coat. The merchant said he belonged to the Chinese organization, which was similar to the one which the officer belonged to and they exchanged handshakes. The ransom was reduced to $2000 and he was finally permitted to go.

CITED FOR AN ACT HE HAS FORGOTTEN.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

MERCER (Pa.) Aug. 27.—Cited for bravery in action and unable to recall the act which his commanding officer thought worth while reporting, is the odd position in which N. Eugene Sampson, of New Wilmington, Pa., finds himself.

Sergt. Sampson, of Battery D, Three Hundred and Twenty-third Field Artillery, according to the citation, volunteered for a mission of importance while his command was under fire in the Argonne. The mission was executed successfully, says the citation, but Sergt. Sampson explains that he was so busy helping push back the Germans that he cannot recall the incident.

NO WAREHOUSES IN HOME AREA.

Storage Structures Limited to Business Section.

Unanimous Vote Closes Long and Hot Controversy.

Erection of warehouses in residential districts of Los Angeles is prohibited by an ordinance amending the fire district ordinance and adopted by unanimous vote of the City Council yesterday.

This closes a long drawn-out controversy that centered on the proposed erection of tall warehouses at Third street and Western avenue and also at Wilshire and Western avenues.

The subject is of such import that large delegations of property owners in fine residence districts have appeared before the Council or its committees at various times, while the opposition has contended that the sections where it was proposed to locate warehouses now have business buildings of various kinds.

At yesterday's Council session Councilman Langdon, although favoring the passage of the ordinance, asked as a matter of courtesy that the subject be postponed one week, so that Oscar Mueller might represent certain clients before the Council, but after the Councilman individually had expressed themselves as being in favor of the passage of the ordinance prohibiting warehouses except in the industrial or business districts, he withdrew his motion and the unanimous vote for adoption of the ordinance followed.

During the session a delegation of property owners was present and the Council was addressed by Gilbert S. Wright, Mrs. C. E. Vermilyea, William M. Rosenthal, Frank E. Walsh and others, while Gabor Hegyi spoke for the warehouse interests.

GROCERS' HEARING ENDS

Testimony Closed, Transcript to go to Federal Trade Commission.

Taking of testimony in the case of the Los Angeles Grocery Company against a number of wholesale grocers and jobbers of this city, charged with conspiring to boycott and injure the complainant has closed.

It was expected that the defendants in the action being heard by Karl E. Steinhauer, examiner of the Federal Trade Commission, would have a number of witnesses yesterday, and that the government would put on rebuttal testimony, but this programme was abandoned.

The findings with a transcript of the evidence will now be submitted by Examiner Steinhauer of the Federal Trade Commission in Washington, and the body will determine whether the testimony is sufficient to sustain any action, and if so, the respondents will be required to show cause why an order should not be issued against them.

IMPROVEMENT IN EXCHANGE IS STRONG FACTOR IN RESTORING CONFIDENCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"There is a better tone to the market this week. Sales have not been of large proportions, but there has been somewhat more business and with the improvement in exchange and with the manufacturers a long way from 'covered' on raw material more confidence exists.

"The foreign markets are firm and the tendency is higher in Europe. The manufacturing situation is hardly changed, the call for deliveries being very insistent."

ESTATE TO HIS KIN.

Many Bequests, But Widow Gets Bulk of Property.

A petition for probate of the will of William L. Brown, who died last July 31, leaving an estate valued at $100,000, was filed yesterday. The petitioners are Marion A. Brown, the widow, and Dr. David W. Smouse. The will bequeaths to a brother, John Brown, and "to his son, Alexander Brown," $1 each. A trust fund is created to yield an income of $600 a year for the benefit of the deceased's sister, Mrs. Mary W. Knox.

To his nephews, John and James Brown, and his nieces, Marion and Ruth Brown, the will bequeaths $2000 each. The residue of the estate is given to the widow.

MEN HELD FOR TRIAL AFTER A FLIRTATION.

UNDER HEAVY BAIL, THOUGH GIRL TELLS COURT NO BLAME IS THEIRS.

The arrest of Charles Scott, 19, and Henry Steen, 24 years old, for contributing to the delinquency of Teresa Bastine of Portland, Or., 17 years old, may open the way to charging the men with pandering. The men as well as the girl deny that the former profited from any sailors or soldiers who met her. The girl, before Judge Weller yesterday, exonerated the men of the contributing charge.

Judge Weller held Scott and Steen to answer to the Superior Court in $3000 bail each.

Miss Bastine met a girl friend in this city. Scott says they met him on the street and flirted with him. He said he went out with them and had a good time. Steen declares he took them out in his taxicab as fares and that they paid him the usual rate. Attorneys Hoyt and Hahn represent the men.

TO EXTEND ONE ROAD AND NARROW ANOTHER.

COUNCIL ALSO PLANS FOR OPENING AND GRADING MANY HIGHWAYS.

The City Council gave its approval yesterday to the petition from the Sixty-eighth Street Improvement Association, asking for the extension of Denver avenue north from Sixty-third place to Sixty-third street, and instructed the City Attorney and City Engineer to prepare the necessary ordinance therefore. A petition was before the Council asking that Pershing avenue be narrowed to a width of sixty feet from Herkick street to Gladstone street, and was referred to the City Engineer for his recommendation, as was also a petition asking for the opening of San Pedro street from Vernon avenue to Main street.

The Council set September 16 as the time for hearing protests against abandoning the proceedings for the improvement of West First street.

Ordinances were adopted establishing the grade on the following streets: Wilson avenue, from Waring to Melrose; Berendo street, from Temple to First; Campus road, from Clementina to Paulhan; Avenue Forty-five, from Clementina to York; Tonawanda avenue, from Clementina to York; Lamero avenue, from Talmadge to Myra; Lodi avenue, from Talmadge to Myra; Melrose avenue, from Seward to Gale; Catalina street, from Temple to First; Avenue Forty-seven, from Campus road to York; Avenue Forty-six, from Clementina to York; West View avenue, from Campus road to Forestville avenue.

KEEPS CHILDREN.

Husband Wins When Divorced Wife Fails to Press Case.

Mrs. Marietta K. Kellogg, former wife of Giles V. Kellogg, son of the late secretary of the Union Oil Company, failed to appear in Judge Valentine's court yesterday, in behalf of her motion to modify the decree relative to the custody of her children. A motion to dismiss the petition was granted.

Mr. Kellogg was granted a divorce about a year ago on the ground of mental cruelty. He opposed Mrs. Kellogg's motion to modify the divorce decree and in an affidavit alleged that Mrs. Kellogg was addicted to smoking cigarettes and had enjoyed smokes in the presence of the children.

FORSAKEN, HE SUES.

Traffic Officer Starts a Fresh Suit For Divorce.

Some time ago Blanche Alice Berkshire was denied a decree of separate maintenance and Frank R. Berkshire, traffic officer on Spring street, was denied a decree of divorce. Yesterday Mr. Berkshire filed suit for divorce, charging desertion.

In the former actions both charged cruelty. Mr. Berkshire said his wife was a poor housekeeper. He had to wash the dishes and mind the children, he said, after a hard day's work.

STATION FOR POLETA.

The Bishop Chamber of Commerce has appealed to the Railroad Commission for an order, directing the establishment by the Southern Pacific of an agency station at Poleta, and that it be given the name of Bishop Station. Poleta is now a nonagency station. It is claimed by the Chamber of Commerce that the present situation works a hardship on the people of Bishop in that it forces an unnecessary haul from Laws to Bishop. Both Laws and Poleta are on a narrow-gauge line operated by the Southern Pacific.
